WEDDING BELLS.

Announcement of Wedding of Two Well-Known Kent Countians.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Ahern have issued cards to the marriage of their daughter, Pearl, to Mr. David Barr Ford, of Chestertown, on Thursday, November 26th, 1908, at one o'clock, in the E. Church, Millington. They will be at home after January 1 in the Snitcher-Farrell house, corner Maple avenue and Queen street, Chestertown.

Announcement was made this week of the engagement of Miss Julia Lockwood, youngest daughter of Mrs. Adelaide Lockwood, to Mr. John C. Green, both prominent young people of Middletown.

WOODALE—MORGAN. The roads should blossom so fair a bride has left her home.

A wedding wide-spread interest took place at eleven o'clock Thursday morning, November twelfth in Galena, Md., when Miss May Morgan was married to Mr. Walter Woodale, of Fredericktown. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. Baker, brother-in-law to the bridegroom, in the presence of the immediate members of the two families, at the home of the bride's father, Mr. R. H. Morgan.

The bride wore a suit of blue tulle and carried a bouquet of violet chrysanthemums. Immediately after the nuptials Mr. and Mrs. Baker, with Miss Laura Morgan accompanied the bride and groom to the home of the bride's father, where they took the train for a wedding journey to Boston and other points of interest. They will be at home Dec. 1st, in Fredericktown, Cecil Co., Md.

HOOVER—STAM. Miss Annie Harding Stam, daughter of Mrs. Annie H. Stam, of Chestertown, was married at eleven o'clock Saturday morning in Emmanuel P. E. Church, Chestertown, to Dr. Richard Sydney Hoover, of Philadelphia. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. H. Collins, of Philadelphia. The bride was becomingly attired in a traveling dress of dark blue broadcloth, hat and gloves to match, and was attended by her sister, Miss Louise Antoinette Stam, as maid of honor, and little Miss Susan Roberson as bridesmaid. The bride was carried to the altar by her brother, Mr. William S. Hoover, of Philadelphia, as best man. Mrs. Mary Beck Roberts, aunt of the bride, played the wedding music.

The ushers were J. Guyon Roberts, Esq., of New York, Messrs. Donald F. Starn, of Philadelphia, and Charles C. Chesterton, brother and uncles of the bride. A wedding breakfast was served after ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, to the family of the bride and groom. The wedding party left in the afternoon. The out of town guests were Miss Nellie Hargest, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Wallace, of Washington; Miss Nannie Munniyksen, of Delmar; Mr. James Cooper, Adams and Mr. Dennis, of Baltimore.

The Yale-Harvard game today promises to be hard fought with chances in favor of the latter. Tickets are selling as high as $50 per seat.

Course of Lectures.—A commendable enterprise has been inaugurated by the authorities of Washington College looking to wise entertainments during the winter. Dr. Cain, the principal, with the full endorsement of the Board of Visitors has arranged for a course of six lectures—several of them illustrated—by distinguished men in their line and noted in the great colleges of the land. This is not a money-making scheme; on the contrary it is expected to be a financial loss to the institution, but is of such direct intellectual benefit and genuine moral entertainment to the students of the college and our whole cultured community as to secure for it a prompt and hearty response. The entertainments will be given every alternate Friday evening during the months of January and February. The charge for admission to the course of six lectures will be one dollar and fifty cents; single admissions thirty-five cents.

New arrivals at a large H. Beneman's, Millington. A very high line of ladies', misses' and children's coats and coats suits.

The Chestertown Ladies Improvement Association will meet at the home of Miss Adele France on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

GRAHAM BROS. gave an interesting exhibition this week of the good qualities of the Majestic cook stove. A large number attended the demonstrations.

CASTORIA. The "Little Girl Who Always Bought Castoria" is the story of a little girl who was born in the year 1800 and lived to the year 1900. She was a very healthy child and was never sick. She was a very happy child and was loved by all who knew her. She was a very good child and was a great help to her mother. She was a very kind child and was always ready to help her friends. She was a very brave child and was never afraid of anything. She was a very smart child and was always full of ideas. She was a very beautiful child and was loved by all who saw her. Live Local Notes.

Closed For Repairs.—The Chestertown basket factory has been closed this week for repairs. Capt. Crane hopes to be able to resume work within a week.

Purchased Lot.—Mr. Fred G. Usilton has purchased the lot on corner Washington avenue and Kent street and is filling up same and grading it.

Fourteen Snows.—According to an old superstition there will be fourteen snows this winter. The date of the day on which the first snow falls is said to decide the number of snows throughout the winter. As the first snow fell November 14, there will be fourteen snows according to the popular theory.

Building Committee.—The Kent County Sagers Bank last year bought the eligible lot on High street and on Wednesday another step was taken toward getting better quarters by the appointment of the following building committee: John K. Aldridge, M. A. Toulson, John D. Urie, Fred G. Usilton and William F. Russell.

Big Crop.—Mr. Walter Harris, of Hill Pond Neck, delivered some fine apples in Chestertown this week. He has shipped about 100 barrels of firsts and double that amount of seconds, his receipts being $3 and $2.50 per barrel. Mr. Harris sprays his trees and cares for them as carefully as does Mr. Soper, the Delaware Apple King.

Plead Guilty.—Austin Dill, son of Mr. James Dill of near Church Hill, was charged with stealing a horse and carrying it to New York. He pleaded guilty to the charge of stealing the horse and was fined $100. He was also sentenced to six months in the county jail, Centreville.

New Pavilion.—The Tolecheiter Company under S. A. Noland's direction have torn away the lower dairy lunch at shore end of wharf at Tolecheiter and Baltimore. Plans are being made for a large refreshment pavilion with dance hall above. The new structure will be of Spanish Renaissance architecture, built of fancy cement building blocks with large artistic towers at each end. The towers will be lighted at night with varicolored electric bulbs.

"Cinch" Occupation.—The Sun of Saturday says: "The Good Roads Commission received yesterday an application from a road builder who wishes to place on the engineering force. His application was accompanied by an endorsement from Mr. Andrew J. Woodall, of Kent county, one of the delegates to the Democratic National Convention at the Park resort summer. He filled out the name—Andrew J. Woodall, Occupation—Eastern Shoreman."

Gene South.—The oyster packing houses of the South seem to be able to entice many laboring men and women from this section. A large number left Baltimore in a dredge, Mr. J. D. Urie, among whom were Messrs. James Adams, Palmer, Spencer Robinson, Emmitt Smith, Capt. George Caldwell, Robert Dunn and Raymond Chittent, of Chestertown.

Removals.—Mr. J. Hall Denney, superintendent of the Singer Sewing Machine Co., has rented the Burchinal residence on a street in the Washington City, and will remove his excellent family there at once. This family are no strangers to the city having lived for some years in Worton.

Mr. Daniel Cox, the new bridge tender at Chester bridge, removed his family there on Monday and Mr. George V. Byron went to Riverside Terrace. Mr. Byron has made an efficient officer and has a worthy successor in "Uncle" Dan. Mr. Joseph Robinson has purchased a lot on Cannon street and has started to remove his "bungalow" there. Mr. Albert Rawleigh is superintending the removal.

Football.—The North East High School team came to Chestertown Saturday and were defeated by the Washington College second team by score of 20 to 0.

The college first team went to "Kennell green", near Washington Friday and defeated the local team by score of 10 to 0. The Washington papers state that the Eastern Shore boys put up a good game.

Yale beat Princeton last Saturday before 30,000 people by score of 6 to 11. Princeton made 6 points the first half to Yale's 0, but Yale rallied in the second half.

MISS MARY VANDYKE.

Miss Mary Vandyke, eldest daughter of Mr. J. P. Vandyke, died at the Training Home for Infirm Children, at Elwyn, Pa., last Saturday afternoon of acute indigestion, aged 47 years. The remains were brought to Kennedyville and funeral services held Tuesday afternoon. The interment was in the Chester cemetery. Undertaker W. H. Krusen had charge of arrangements. The floral offerings were beautiful. Not only in the home circle will our dear friend be sadly missed but her unselfish and sympathetic nature, her ever ready and loving hands drew all hearts that came in contact with her. Truly it can be said of her, she hath done what she could.

The city of Annapolis will celebrate its bicentenary November 21-23, with appropriate exercises, including an address by Governor Cothran on Saturday afternoon. Annapolis was settled in 1740, but the city charter dates from November 22, 1708. An attractive program has been arranged for the three days, and visitors will be cordially welcomed.

Sporting Notes.—Deputy Postmaster W. H. Lambert and Mr. Charles W. Kibler are enjoying a ten days hunt at Fairview, Va. "Harry" says he is preparing to accompany Teddy to Africa!

The gunning season opened in Queen Anne's Monday. Ivanhoe Willis and party got 28 rabbits. Messrs. J. W. Lambert, D. A. Bacchus and S. L. Moody visited Mr. States and bagged 12 rabbits, the "young" man getting 8 rabbits and two birds! Messrs. Hodgson and party got others got 14 rabbits and several birds.

The first day of the gunning season in Delaware was marred by accidents, including one fatality. Joseph Rhodes, Jr., of Newport, was almost instantly killed by the accidental discharge of his gun while using the stock of the weapon to dig for a rabbit. Mr. Rhodes entered the young man's abdomen, and he died as his companion, Charles J. McBride, reached his side. Another victim of an accident was William Pinkerton, of Wilmington, who had a hand badly mangled by the explosion of his gun.

Mr. Charles L. Dodd, clerk to the County Commission, and the Newmarket gunners, were out on a hunt for three dogs from a Worton hunter last Friday, on trial, and on Saturday drove to New Tolecheiter, where they entered the young man's abdomen, and he died as his companion, Charles J. McBride, reached his side. Another victim of an accident was William Pinkerton, of Wilmington, who had a hand badly mangled by the explosion of his gun.

Mr. Charles L. Dodd, clerk to the County Commission, and the Newmarket gunners, were out on a hunt for three dogs from a Worton hunter last Friday, on trial, and on Saturday drove to New Tolecheiter, where they entered the young man's abdomen, and he died as his companion, Charles J. McBride, reached his side. Another victim of an accident was William Pinkerton, of Wilmington, who had a hand badly mangled by the explosion of his gun.
