Miss Henrietta Merritt spent several days with relatives in Baltimore.

Mrs. William Parr has returned home after spending several days with her sister, Mrs. Urie, of Kennedyville.

Mr. Lepnard Price spent Wednesday in Baltimore.

Mr. J. A. Davis and family have removed from Philadelphia and will occupy Mrs. Diltman's house for the rest of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson and daughter, Grace, of Wilmington, and Mr. Wingate, of Marshalton, Del., were guests at the parsonage over Sunday.

Miss Pearl Coleman is the guest of Miss Mary Stoufer, at Locust Grove.

Miss Mary Toulson, of Wilmington, spent the week with Mrs. Mary Clark.

Miss Lelius Walters has returned home after spending several weeks in Baltimore.

Miss Anna Bowers was at home the past week owing to the sickness of her mother.

Mrs. William Marrow and Mrs. Ellison of Delaware City, were visiting their brother, Mr. Atwood Rickards during the week.

Rev. Wm. H. Wingate, Deputy Warden of the New Castle county workhouse, Greenbank, Del., filled our pulpit Sunday morning and preached an excellent sermon on "Christian Progress," and also made an address at the evening service. Our Sunday School held their annual missionary anniversary Sunday evening and a very large audience was present to enjoy the service. A splendid program was rendered and each number was worthy of special mention. The contributions for all purposes reported from the Sunday School classes for the year were:

Class of Mrs. James S. Harris	$ 27 07
Class of Mrs. Wm. J. Rasin	18 83
Class of Mrs. Chas. Walters	23 24
Class of Mrs. Lavina Harper	54 26
Class of Mrs. J. Leonard Price	33 08

Infant Dept., Mrs. J. B. Parrott	26 37
Received from School social and Festival	210 49
Plate offering	5 06
Total for the year	$699 06

The pastor, Rev. E. H. Collins, desires to join the superintendent, Mr. A. J. Hackett, in thanking the officers, the teachers, the scholars and every friend of Still Pond Sunday School for the very great part that each rendered in making this one of the greatest years of our Sunday School financially, and we also rejoice in the salvation of some of our scholars.

The Epworth League service will be led Sunday evening by Mr. Wm. Clark. Subject, "Our Pattern." This is the only service Sunday evening, as our pastor will be at Betterton for the Missionary Anniversary, so let every Epworthian and friend be present and assist Brother Clark in making the meeting helpful.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. A. J. Hackett on Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. The meeting was very interesting and helpful.

THE Success Manure Spreader, advertised in this issue by H. R. Graham & Bro., are recomended highly by those who have used them. This is the best recommendation.

THE lecture at Washington College last Tuesday evening, by Dr. Kellogg was perfectly splendid. The pictures were clear and distinct and enjoyed by the large audience, and especially appreciated by those who had been over the route.

Rock Hall Notes.

The storm of last week played havoc with trees and shrubbery in this section. The surroundings of several beautiful homes were ruined. Boats and fishing tackle also suffered.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Maslin is in sadness, because of the loss of the infant and only son, who died on Sunday morning.

Mr. E. E. Leary has about completed the construction of an immense storage barn, as an addition to his milling plant.

Mr. J. M. Collison has been putting in his spare time in building a commodious bateau for the fishing operation, etc.

Mr. Thomas Maslin has placed a nice picket fence east and north of his home. A decided improvement.

The winter fishermen have about all cut out. Many of them now are oystering. The oyster bars, heaven bless them, are an ever faithful standby, from whence the depleting purse can be replenished. The winter fishing was almost a total failure. Many of the men, as well as the Spring fishermen, are getting in shape for the Spring fishing, with strong hopes for much better results than followed the winter operations. Spring operations, for the most part, will consist of stake netting—more of it being done this season than was ever known before. Even many of the hitherto most pronounced against stake fishing will adopt that mode this season.

Rev. J. T. Richardson goes to the Wilmington Conference next week with the best wishes and prayers of his parishioners and with fond hopes of his return for another year of faithful pastoral work on this charge. He has "made good," if his flock can say the same of themselves. All is well.

The faculty and patrons of the High School here note with interest the agitation in Chestertown in reference to a primary school building and are willing to concede the necessity of such a building. They feel, however, that such necessity is not near so great as is the necessity of a high school building for Rock Hall. The rooms in the building here are entirely too small, and the playground is also too small. In consequence of the rapid growth of our school, the building in the very near future will have to be enlarged, and this will curtail the size of the playground still further. Another great disadvantage to the school is the lack of an assembly room, where all the pupils can meet. With such a room the school would be in position to properly celebrate the days of holiday with parents or guardians present to inspire their children. As a consequence the patrons would become vastly more interested in the school. We hope Rock Hall will not be overlooked by our worthy county officials in the enlargement of school facilities.

Mr. Samuel L. Usilton and wife, who have been on the sick list, are able to be up.

GRANGE NEWS.

Still Pond Grange March 8.—The following delegates to the Pomona Grange were appointed: Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. W. Bonwell, Mr. W. D. Pennington and Miss A. Maxwell. The Master appointed Messrs. John Bennett and A. L. Harris and Mrs. W. Pennington on the executive committee.

For March 22.—The musical program will be in charge of Mrs. W. Bonwell who will give a number of selections on the graphophone. Papers by Mrs. Medders and Mrs. Ford, "Why are large and set patterns in wall paper, carpets and curtains objectionable in furnishing a room? Particularly a sleeping room?" Debate, resolved, "That we can farm cheaper with draft horses than with roadsters." Affirmative—Mr. F. H. Cornelius and Mr. H. Clark. Negative—Mr. Mann and Mr. J. L. Price. Judges, Mrs. Roseberry, Mr. W. Bonwell and Mr. John Bennett.

THE SHOE STORE.

"Real Shoe Quality"

Consists of a good deal more than good looks. Most any manufacturer can finish up a shoe so that it looks good, but it takes quality leather to stand the wear.

"ALL AMERICA" Shoes are made from that kind of leather, and in addition you'll find full measure of style and comfort. These few descriptions will give you some idea—better still, call at the store and we'll gladly show you—whether you buy or not.

NO. 7587—All America Patent Colt Button Shoe, hand sewed, on the New Bobble last, a neat one.
NO. 7877—All America Gun Metal Blucher, new swing last, very dressy, shape suitable for the man who admires a stylish shoe.
NO. 1013—All America neat dressy shoe, on straight last, in Vici Kid lace, that fills the bill for the man who has that straight narrow foot.
NO.—7875—All America Patent Colt Blucher, Kyote toe, will full measure of style and comfort.
NO. 1699—All America Vici Congress, plain toe, a treat for the feet.

If the shoe you like isn't described above, we have it—ask for it. New Spring Shoes arriving every day. We are showing more styles and are able to give you better values this season than ever before.

CHESTERVILLE NEWS.

La grippe has a grip on a number of people in this vicinity and they in turn have a grip on the time of Dr. Gowman and other physicians.

The pastor of Emmanuel and Trinity is truly grateful for the manner in which the conference collections have been coming in, but the list is not complete; only a few more days left, let the good work continue.

Emmanuel folk say that they they had the best League meeting of the year last Sunday night. Mr. Leo Gale was leader.

The subject of the League next Sunday will be "Our Pattern." Miss Mayme Skinner is the leader.

Chesterville Emmanuel M. E. Church, South—Sunday School at 10. Preaching at 11. League at 7, followed by illustrated sermon. Service on Wednesday night at 7.30.

Millington Trinity M. E. Church South—Sunday School at 2. Preaching at 3. League at 7. Service on Thursday night at 7.30.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Turner gave a luncheon on Wednesday in honor of Miss Francis Lyle Turner. The occasion was her baptism. Aside from the relatives present was the pastor of Trinity and his wife. The little bud, though scarcely three months old, is the Ruling Empress of the Turner Kingdom. Her father says that she is the most handsome child in the county and so far no one has come forward to dispute his claim. Mr. and Mrs. Turner have started her in the right direction, for she is already a good contributor to the missionary cause.
