J. D. UHR, was the head and front of the Kent County delegation at the Republican State Convention...

THE REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION met in Baltimore Wednesday and nominated Mr. Frank E. Williams, of Cecil county, as the nominee for Comptroller...

THE WAR OF WORDS between two of our newspaper contemporaries is furnishing considerable amusement for Chestertown citizens...

THE DROUGHT has become a matter of great seriousness in Kent and Queen Anne's counties. The corn and tomato crops will be cut to an alarming extent...

IT MAKES but little difference to the voters of Kent whether Mr. R. is a "resolute Democrat" or Mr. B. a "strutting peacock"...

THE BATTERTON plays the strong Bel Air team, champions of Harford on Saturday at Chestertown...

WE HAVE not a word to say against the personal administration of the public printing for the next General Assembly...

AFTER the closest kind of bidding, the firm of George W. King & Co., was awarded the contract for the State printing for the next General Assembly...

THE call for bids stated that no bid should exceed $22,000, and all of the figures were dangerously close to this amount...

THE FAIR next week. ALL roads will lead to Tolchester next week. DRY, dry weather.

THE Oyster season opens next Wednesday and oysters on the Kent farms are said to be plentiful.

THE new trolley scheme is making progress. Our real estate dealers report an active market for Kent lands...
