All our Tomato Seeds are saved from the choicest fruits in our fields. We grow enormous quantities of Tomatoes exclusively for seed and never market any of our crops. Experienced tomato growers know why we never permit an ounce of canning house tomato seed to come into our store. It is impossible for such seed to be pure and true to name. We have had very short crops of our High Grade Tomato Seeds this season, so send us your orders early.

THE SAD REAPER

MRS. REGINA COPPER.

Mrs. Regina Copper, widow of John W. Copper, died at her home on Cannon street, Chestertown, Tuesday night after a long illness, aged 71. The deceased was the daughter of John W. and Zipporah Jones, of Somerset County, who purchased the historic "Caulk's Field" farm, and resided there for many years. She married John W. Copper, teacher of Fancy School, and removed near the school where they made their home until Mr. Copper's death. Since then she has been with her faithful son, Mr. Whittier C. and dutiful daughter, Miss Annie Copper.

Mrs. Copper was a good woman, of lovely disposition, even-tempered, kind and thoughtful. If we wrote a volume we could not say too much of her sweet temper and blameless life. She had the loving ministrations of her two children and faithful relatives during her long illness and leaves an aching void in many hearts. The funeral took place yesterday, Revs. W. L. White and F. T. Little officiating, interment in Chester Cemetery. The pall bearers were W Thomas Jones, Jesse R. Copper, S. E. T. Startt, Harry B. Rote, Samuel Hicks, Charles P. Hodgkins, Thomas Vandyke, W. B. Copper. Charles L. Dodd conducted the funeral.

MRS. M. E. FERGUSON.

Mrs. M. E. Ferguson, widow of the late Edward Ferguson, died at her home in Cecilton on Friday, aged seventy-eight years. Mrs. Ferguson had been in failing health for some time, and her death was not expected. Ten children survive her—Noble P. Ferguson, Miss Eddie Ferguson, Mrs. Harry Budd, Mrs. George Beasten and Mrs. Thomas Pearce, of Cecilton; Mrs. William Howard and Mrs. Robert Bouchelle, of Chesapeake City; Miss Hester Ferguson, of Philadelphia, and J. E. Ferguson, of Chestertown. Funeral services were held from her late residence on Sunday afternoon at one o'clock. Revs. W. A. Coale and W. F. Dawson officiated.

MRS. KATHERINE HENDRIX.

Mrs. Katherine Hendrix, relic of the late Henry Hendrix, died at her home in Crumpton, last Tuesday morning about 10 o'clock of general debility, her sudden death being partially due to an attack of paralysis. Mrs. Hendrix was about 65 years old. She is survived by two sons and one daughter, viz: County Commissioner H. Clay Hendrix, John E. Hendrix and Mrs. George Spry.

WORTON'S GENIUS DEAD

A Man Who Owned Five Engines And A Darning Needle—Dies At An Advanced Age.

The genius of Worton, Mr. William Mc Laughlin, died at his home near the creamery on Saturday morning, aged 83. The deceased was born in Delaware came to Worton early in life and worked with Mr. Hyland P. Smyth. During the war he was drafted but made his escape by locking himself in a tool chest. Upon emerging from his hiding place he returned to Delaware and remained for sometime, but after the war took up his abode in Worton.

His home is a curiosity shop containing everything from a steam engine to a needle. He was a genius being able to make most anything but never doing much of consequence. He made his own coffin, was not buried in it, and opposite his home enclosed a small lot in a fence that made it look like a cemetry He could fill five cars with books of all kinds while his stock of old wheels, bolts, surveyors' tools, etc., were marvelous.

The deceased never married, and willed most of his property to Mr. Jack McCollister, of Rock Hall. Funeral services were held in Union M. E. Church Sunday afternoon, Rev. E. B. Taylor officiat ing, interment in old [illegible]

COURT NEWS.

Court of Appeals Renders Verdict In Two Kent County Cases—Local Court Busy.

Among the cases decided at the Court of Appeals this week were the Kelley and Hynson cases noted as follows:

Holds Bond Is Liable.

State of Maryland, use of C. Decatur Kelley and Adam Nathaniel Kelly, against Thomas B. Wilson, James A. Casey and William M. Slay, appealed from the Circuit Court for Kent County.

This is an action upon the bond of William H Coleman, a former Tax Collector of Kent county, against three surviving sureties, the principal and other sureties being dead. At the trial below a demurrer to an amended declaration was sustained and upon judgment being rendered for the defendants on the demurrer the plaintiffs appealed. The Court of Appeals holds that a tax collector's bond is liable to the owner for any surplus in his hands from the proceeds of sales of property sold by him for taxes, under the part of the condition of his bond that he "shall well and faithfully execute his office and the several duties required of him by law," but that the narr is defective and the demurrer was properly sustained. The judgment of the lower court is therefore affirmed and, although a new trial is not awarded, the court grants the appellants leave to make application, if they so desire, and it will then be determined whether a new trial shall be awarded. The costs above and below are payable upon the equitable plaintiffs. This opinion was delivered by Chief Judge Boyd.

John D. Watson against William Mc Henry, assignee of John D. Watson, appealed from the Circuit Court for Garrett County. In the lower coart McHenry, as assignee and holder of an overdue negotiable promissory note, recovered judgment against Watson, and the Court of Appeals, through Judge Schmucker, affirms this ruling.

Mr. Rust, superintendent of Chestertown Creamery, brought suit before Justice Calder, for $90 against Mr. R. R. Hatcherson, who sold him the plant. It seems that when Mr. Rust bought the creamery there was $90 worth of machinery there belonging to Mr. Hylie Orem and who afterwards removed it. Mr. Rust claimed that he bought everything while Mr. Hatcherson contended that the Orem material was reserved. Justice Calder gave verdict in favor of Hatcherson who was represented by W. W. Beck, Esq., the plaintiff being well represented by H. W. Vickers, Jr., Esq.

One arrest was made in the case of stealing Mr. Thomas Maslin's team. A second colored man was allowed to go in the house for his clothes and he has not been seen since!

The Orphan's Court of Kent County is reversed by the Court of Appeals in the case of Augusta E. Slay against William W. Beck and Lewin W. Wickes, administrators. The order appealed from directed that certain issues be framed and sent to the Circuit Court for Kent County for trial by a jury. The controversy was over the administration of the estate of Richard D. Hynson. The court remands the case. As we understand the verdict of the Appeal Court, the case will be tried at the April term of Court upon four out of seven issues as decided upon by the Court. Wm. M. Slay, Esq., who is assisted by H. H. Barroll and John P. Poe, Esqs., is delighted with the opinion and say it fully justifies their contention. Messrs. W. W. Beck and Lewin W. Wickes, on the other hand say they are satisfied with the decision and do not regard it as at all prejudicial to their case.
