The constitution was read and adopted. The president appointed the following committee: Executive L. B. Smith, H. Porter, R. F. Gill and E. F. Hitch; Membership, P. V. Triut, L. C. Robinson and I. M. Grey; Lookout, Price, Tyler, Ward, Stephens, Goslee, Bryan and King. There are now enrolled thirty-five members. The Y. M. C. A. is to meet every Tuesday evening at 6.30.

The young ladies have formed a Y. W. C. A. and the two associations will have a joint meeting on Sunday afternoons.

The semi-annual election of officers of the Mount Vernon Society was held at its last meeting and the following officers were elected: Thos. F. Garey, pres.; Curtis Long, vice-pres.; Walter H. Davis, recording sec't.; Charles Wheatley, cor. sec.; Charles B. Morris, treas.; Lewin Usilton, serg't-at-arms; Emmet F. Hitch, historian; William C. E. Schutz, critic.

Dr. Florence Peebles of the Woman's College, Baltimore, who delivered quite an interesting as well as instructive address a few weeks ago is going to be at the college on Feb. 12th. Extensive preparations are being made by Miss Burchinal, as it is evident there is going to be a good crowd. The last lecture was such a success in every way that it was deemed advisable by Miss Burchinal to arrange more and better accommodations; for this she has been working hard and from the present prospects it seems that she will be highly repaid. The tickets may be had by applying to any student of the college. The subject which Dr. Peebles has chosen is "Venice" and it is useless to say that such a discourse will be not only interesting to the students of the college but to the public as well.

Mr. Howard Hopkins has returned to college. He has been ill for the two weeks past at his home.

The horse attached to the sleigh of Master Thomas Eliason, of Chestertown, ran away Saturday last and was caught by an heroic effort of Mr. L. B. Smith just as it turned the corner of Dr. Cain's residence. The runaway was seen by many of the students and in consequence there was quite an excitement. Messrs. Smith, Shutz, Wood and Usilton took the sleigh back to its owner. Master Eliason was dragged quite a distance by the frightened animal but fortunately he escaped injury of any serious character.

The Mt. Vernon Society is going to hold a reception on Washington's birthday.

Examinations are ended and of course there are many sighs of relief.

Prof. Jones is going to start a shorthand class in the near future.

Many of the little youngsters of the town have been enjoying themselves on the college hill during the last two weeks by making good use of their sleds.

The Mount Vernon Literary Society has received a challenge for a debate from the Webster Society of the Western Maryland and also one from the Bancroft of Baltimore City College. The Society is very anxious to accept both, but it is very doubtful whether proper arrangements can be made at this time of the year for such a purpose, especially as the students are busier at this time than at any other time of the whole college year. President Garey has written to the W. M. saying that he would be glad to accept and would have the matter acted upon tonight.

The January "Review" has appeared and is interesting. Mr. Smith has a beautiful poem entitled "The Thunder Storm." Messrs. Brice, Usilton, Toulson and Schutz have interesting themes.

Mr. S. T. Burgess has been elected as the delegate from Chesapeake Circuit, to attend the Maryland Methodist Protestant Conference which meets at Alnutt Memorial Church, Baltimore, April 6th.

A large company of the friends and members of Wesley Chapel successfully invaded the domain of Rev. J. L. Elderdice last Tuesday night and for a while had everything their own way. However it was the "good old way" of having a bountiful supper, abundance of good cheer and social merriment, and of leaving behind them many substantial evidences of their esteem for the occupants of the parsonage. The peaceful and harmonious relationship between pastor and people, which has characterized the past, still continues unbroken and unmarred.

The young friends of Raymond Elderdice gave him a surprise party last Wednesday night. Notwithstanding the stormy weather, about 20 representatives from Edesville, Swan Creek and Deep Landing were present.
