NOTICE TO HOLDERS OF BURIAL LOTS IN CHESTER CEMETERY.

The Chester Cemetery Company by recent action of its Board is now prepared to enter into a contract with its lot owners to keep their lots in first-class order perpetually. This guarantees the owner that his lot will be taken care of, not only after his death but even after the death of all the family.

There is no sadder sight in a cemetery than to see the lot of a one time prosperous owner in weeds, briars, overgrown bushes, &c., and for reason that the family have either all died, removed or else forgotten their duty to the remains of their ancestor.

Those who secure a contract as above will have no apprehensions of this fate to their lots. For terms apply to.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE.

Commencement Exercises of the Historic Institution Celebrated Amid Imposing Scenes and in the Presence of Distinguished Audiences.

The 121st commencement exercises of Washington College began on Sunday morning last with the Baccalaureate sermon to the graduates and faculty of the college in Christ M. P. Church. Rev. S. J. Smith, D. D., of Salisbury, Md., who had been selected to preach the sermon, was detained at home on account of illness in his family. Rev. Dr. Greenfield, the pastor of the church, occupied the pulpit in his absence and in his eloquent and masterly style treated his immense audience to a masterpiece of English and to a flow of chaste and beautiful thoughts such as but few graduates have had the pleasure to hear this year. His text was very appropriate to the occasion—"Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His Righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you." The academic procession formed on the college campus and marched to the church, preceded by the president and his faculty. The president, Dr. James W. Cain, wore the academic costume befitting his rank and the graduates, collegiate and normal, also wore the academic costume.

At night Rev. A. W. Lightburn, D. D., of Wilmington, Del., preached the sermon to the College Christian Associations in the M. E. Church to a very large and distinguished audience. Dr. Lightburn is one of the finest preachers in the Wilmington Conference and his sermon on Sunday evening was very able and appreciative. The same processional ceremony was observed as in the morning.

MT. VERNON LITERARY SOCIETY.

On Monday evening the annual address before the Mt. Vernon Literary Society was delivered in Stam's Hall by Hon. A. Leo Knott, of Baltimore City. Mr. Knott is one of the most distinguised orators of the Baltimore bar, and for nearly an hour he held his audience in rapt attention while he unfolded the mysteries of the subject, "Uses and Abuses of Party."

ORATORICAL CONTEST.

On Tuesday morning the Annual Oratorical Contest was held in Stam's Hall. The hall was packed with the friends and relatives of the contestants, and without hesitation we say that it was one of the finest contests that has ever taken place in connection with the college exercises. The subjects were admirably selected and in all instances were delivered in an ornate and masterly manner. Patriotism and religion were the dominant features of each speech. The contestants with their subjects were as follows: "Extract from Dr. Geo. T. Winston to the Naval Cadets," Howard Orr Stephens, Cayots, Md.; "The Greek Revolution," George Francis Newton, Secretary, Md.; "The Leper," Emmet Francis Hitch, Seaford, Del.; "The South," Irving MacIlroy Grey, Washington, D. C.; "The Chariot Race, from Ben Hur," Thomas Frederick Garey, Jr., Denton, Md. The judges, Messrs. Norman Jefferson, Thomas Massey and Scott Beck, awarded first prize, $15, to Emmet Francis Hitch, of Seaford, Del., whose speech "The Leper," was simply beautiful, and splendidly rendered. Second prize, $10, was awarded to Irving MacIlroy Grey, of Washington, D. C., whose speech "The South" touched the sympathetic chord of the audience by its bursts of pathos and patriotism, and was handled in a masterly manner. The decision of the judges was loudly applauded by the audience. Weber's orchestra discoursed fine music.

THE BASE BALL GAME.

At 3.30 in the afternoon a great crowd assembled at the college campus to see the crack Ridgely team and the Washington College boys play ball. It was not expected that the college boys in the midst of the excitement incident to college commencement would have much chance against a team composed for the most part of professional players. Consequently the crowd was not disappointed. The college boys showed the nervous strain under which they were laboring and errors were plentiful. On the other hand the Ridgely team gave a beautiful exhibition of what real base ball is and piled up 21 runs to a goose egg for Washington College.

PIERIA SOCIETY.

The hall was crowded to overflowing on Tuesday evening to witness the entertainment given under the auspices of the Pieria Literary Society. The entertainment was of a very pleasing character and the various numbers on the programme were performed with a grace and ease that bespeaks much credit to Misses Addie France and Grace Whaland, the young ladies through whose efforts the evening was a success.

We must refrain from an extended and detailed account of the performance in order to leave space for the Commencement exercises proper, but suffice it to say that the adventures of Mr. Pipp and his family, the various tableaux enacted by some of the most charming young ladies of the college, as well as the posters and impersonations which made up the programme were amusing, delightfully portrayed and accurately executed. Much credit is due all those who took their parts so well, as well as to those who "schooled" the young ladies and gentleman in their various roles.

WEDNESDAY—COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

The academic procession formed on the campus in front of the Middle Building in the following order: the band, undergraduates, the graduating class of the Normal Department, the graduating class of the college, alumni and guests, the Faculty, the Visitors and Governors. The procession left the campus at 10.15 and proceeded to Stam's Hall, where a packed house was waiting to witness the following program:

MEETING OF ALUMNI.

The annual meeting of the College Alumni Association was held in Stam's Hall immediately after the commencement exercises. The president, Mr. Wm. B. Usilton, called the meeting to order and instructed the secretary, Miss France, to read the minutes of the last meeting. They were approved. The president was instructed to appoint a committee of three to revise the Constitution. The following officers were elected:

President—Harry J. Hopkins, Annapolis; First Vice-President—T. Allan Goldsborough; Second Vice-President—Norman Cameron; Third Vice-President—Dudley G. Roe; Cor. Sec.—Dr. H. G. Simpers; Rec. Sec.—Miss Mary Burchinal; Treas.—Thomas D. Bowers.

The association decided to hold a reunion and banquet during the week of commencement next year.

COMMENCEMENT DANCE.

The Commencement exercises came to a close with a most delightful dance given in Stam's Hall on Wednesday evening. It was one of the most largely attended dances ever given in connection with the commencement exercises nearly 300 people being present. Entrancing music, charming women, and splendid costumes were the predominant features of this most pleasing and popular part of the commencement programme. Visitors from Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and many of the Eastern Shore towns were in attendance.

COMMENCEMENT NOTES.

At a meeting of the Board of Visitors and Governors of the College on Wednesday morning Hon. James A. Pearce was unanimously elected president of the board to succeed Hon. Jos. A. Wickes, who resigned.

Dr. James W. Cain, president of the College, at the commencement on Wednesday morning described the proposed improvements for the college during the coming year and spoke encouragingly of the work of the past year and the outlook for the future.

Weber's orchestra furnished delightful music for the various commencement exercises. The music is always a pleasing feature of commence week.

The meeting of the Alumni Association on Wednesday morning was the most largely attended in recent years.

A reception was given to the students, alumni and friends of the college on the campus from 8 to 10 o'clock on Wednesday evening.

Prof. N. W. Cameron, who recently returned from the Philippine Islands, has been attending commencement. He brought home with him many relics of the quaint Orientals, and we are indebted to him for several specimens. Prof. Cameron is an applicant for the principalship of the Havre de Grace High School.

The Alumni Association scored a good point on Wednesday when it elected Mr. Harry J. Hopkins its president. Mr. Hopkins has, since his graduation, taken a very great interest in Washington College, and he will do much towards making the Alumni Association an important feature in commencement week.
