DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT:

JUDGE ALTON B. PARKER,

OF NEW YORK.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT:

HON. HENRY G. DAVIS,

OF WEST VIRGINIA.

THERE IS A RUMOR on the streets to the effect that there is about to be a "flop" in local journalistic circles. Recent indications and publications would seem to add strength to the rumor.

IF THERE IS A MAN in this broad land who cannot stand with such men of sand as Parker and Davis, upon a platform which embodies the highest principles of democracy, he is extremely hard to please.

THERE ARE NO FACTIONS in the Democratic party now. All elements of the party are united in one supreme effort to place Parker in the White House, and to make our government once more a government of the people, by the people and for the people.

"THE GRAND OLD MAN of West Virginia," Henry G. Davis, is so strong in Maryland and West Virginia that one swing of his striking personality over these States will place them safely into the Democratic column in the fall election.

ACCORDING TO ADVICES from New York, Senator-elect Isidor Rayner will be invited to participate in the Democratic campaign. It is proposed that he and Bourke Cockran join eloquent forces and make a tour through the Eastern States, beginning at Wilmington, Del. They will also speak in Maryland.

THE VERY IDEA of a large corporation like the Adams Express Company, which have gotten thousands of dollars out of Chestertown and Millington, charging for taking a small package form Chestertown to Millington to those who are suffering and in distress! Mr. Matthews the Agent, paid the express charges himself as a contribution to the relief fund.

REPUBLICAN NEWSPAPERS may endeavor to make campaign material out of Judge Parker's silence and his failure to declare himself before the convention on the money question. But Judge Parker's wisdom in this respect is as far removed from the impropriety of Roosevelt's action since he has been president as the sun is from the earth.

WHILE BRYANISM, as a factor in American politics, may be dead, there is no denying the fact that Bryan is just as much alive as ever. A man who can exercise such an influence over a mighty convention, and who could hold his vast audience spellbound by the majesty of his matchless eloquence as Bryan did in the St. Louis convention, is surely none other than a mighty man.

THERE IS A MOVEMENT on foot which has assumed definite proportions, looking to the establishment of a fire department, equipped with all modern conveniences for fighting fire. The movement is being pushed by prominent citizens of the town. Everybody encourage the movement, and don't wait until the town is burned down before making preparations. A meeting will be held next Thursday evening to perfect plans for the department.

THE GREAT RECEPTION given to Collector Wm. F. Stone on Thursday evening last was the occasion for a political love feast among those leaders of the State Republicans whose differences have threatened disaster to their cause in the fall election. Well, it makes little difference how much love making there may be. It will take much more vote making than Republican principles in Maryland, the white man's State, are able to do, before Teddy, with his African tendencies can hoodwink the people. There is as much difference between the lamented McKinley and Roosevelt as there is between the light of day and the darkness of night when it comes to a question of the country's weal.

THE MILLINGTON FIRE.

The people of Chestertown and the entire county sympathize in the deepest possible manner with the people of our sister town, Millington, in her terrible calamity. No one who has not visited the scene of the conflagration can imagine the havoc that has been wrought. From one of the most prosperous towns of its size on the peninsula it has been reduced to a scene of desolation and ruin, and the savings of a lifetime of many of its inhabitants have been blown to the winds with the smoke of the fire. They are not without sympathy, however, and friendly aid will be sent to alleviate the suffering. The population of Millington is composed of some of the best people in the county. They have labored hard all these years to make their town their pride and a thoroughly modern place of residence, and although the dreadful fire has become their master temporarily, we are sure that these same people will make it their slave in fashioning and shaping the materials that will restore that beloved little city to its former condition of prosperity. The citizens of Chestertown have responded nobly to the TRANSCRIPT'S call for assistance for the sufferers.

A STRONG TICKET.

The nomination of Judge Alton B. Parker, of New York, for President, and of the "grand old man of West Virginia," Henry G. Davis, for Vice-President, by the Democrats at St. Louis last week, has created such a feeling of enthusiasm and confidence in Democratic circles and inspired such feelings of fear and distrust in Republican camps that the wisdom of the selections of the convention is very practically demonstrated. Both Judge Parker and Senator Davis are such good men that it would be difficult to say anything too strong in description of their characters, and a still more difficult matter for their Republican friends to attack either their characters or their records with any degree of legitimacy. The personnel of the ticket is the best evidence that the National Democracy is sincere in the efforts they are making to place the government of the country in the hands of conservative and reliable officials, to give to the country an administration that will not rack the monied interests of the country with wars and rumors of wars, and that will make our commonwealth honored and respected abroad because of her efforts for peace and the "pursuit ofhappiness." Such an administration we believe the Democratic candidates will give to the country if elected, and we feel that the ticket will be elected because it is worthy of the suffrage of every man who loves the highest and best interests of his country.

Parker's Telegram, Boldly Stating His Adherence To Gold Standard.

(Read to Convention.)

I regard the gold standard as firmly and irrevocably established, and shall act accordingly if the action of the Convention of to-day shall be ratified by the people. As the platform is silent on the subject, my views should be made known to the Convention, and if it is proved to be unsatisfactory to the majority, I request you to decline the nomination for me at once, so that another may be nominated before adjournment.

A. B. PARKER.

Convention's Reply, Saying Money Question Is Not An Issue In this Campaign.

(Adopted by Convention After Being Opposed by Bryan.)

The platform adopted by this Convention is silent on the question of the money standard because it is not regarded by us as a possible issue in this campaign, and only campaign issues were mentioned in the platform. Therefore, there is nothing in the views expressed by you in the telegram just received which would preclude a man entertaining them from accepting a nomination on said platform.

PRINCIPAL PLANKS OF THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

We are unable to give in detail the admirable platform adopted by the Democratic Convention at St. Louis. Its most important planks may be stated thus:

Protection denounced as favoring trusts: revision and gradual reduction of the tariff on lines that will not disturb business conditions favored, with extension of reciprocity.

Combination of capital destroying equality of opportunity and free competition by controlling production, restricting production and fixing prices to be prohibited and punished by law.

Powers of the Inter-State Commerce Commission to be strengthened.

Independence urged for Filipinos: no special laws for "colonies."

Federal contracts with trusts or convicted combinations in restraint of trade to be prohibited.

Civil service reform endorsed.

Election of Senators by direct popular vote favored.

Statehood favored for Oklahoma and Indian Territory.

Trial by jury advocated in cases of indirect contempt of court.

Ship subsidy bill denounced.

Large reduction in annual expenditure of Government advocated.

Thorough legislative investigation of executive departments of Government proposed.

Constitutional rights declared violated when right to work or live where desired is denied.

Action of Republican convention on race question deprecated.

Republican Administration criticised.

Sketch of Henry G. Davis.

Eighty-one years old, yet hale and hearty, wealthy and a born fighter—such is ex-Senator Henry G. Davis, of West Virginia, the Democratic nominee for Vice-President. He had been already picked as Democratic candidate for Governor of his State this fall.

Henry Gassaway Davis was born in Baltimore, November 16, 1823. He was educated at the country school, but being fatherless had to work throughout his boyhood. In 1853 he married Kate A., daughter of Judge Gideon Bantz, of Frederick, Md. He became superintendent of a plantation, then brakeman, conductor and later agent at Piedemont, W. Va., of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

Later Mr. Davis became a merchant and leading collier and projected and carried to success the West Virginia, Central and Pittsburg Railway, of which he is President. He has filled many important political positions in the gift of his State.

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Ten Years of Suffering.

"I wish to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burge, of Martinsville, Va. "I suffered from chronic diarrhoea for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent releif. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I produced a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself, and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favor of that wonderful medicine." This remedy is for sale by M. A. Toulson, druggist, Chestertown, Md.
