LOCAL MATTERS.

Known by its Fruits.—There stands in the Methodist Pretestant parsonage yard on corner of Queen street and Maple avenue an English walnut tree that has braved the storms of many winters, and yet has borne abundant fruit. The tree was planted in 1846 by the late Rev. Washington Roby, and since the pastorate of that beloved man of God, the tree has been nurtured and cared for by succeeding pastors to the present time. To-day it is a source of much pride to our honored pastor, Rev. Dr. D. L. Greenfield, who guards it with as much care as he has bestowed upon the beautiful green sward that makes his home even more beautiful; and the good old tree, true to the influence of its guardian, has brought forth fruit an hundred fold, and the good parson is rejoicing in the possession of a half bushel of fine walnuts to crack when the winter's winds blow chill.

LITTLE LOCALS.

*†*Undertaker J. E. Ferguson has had 14 funerals since Sunday week.

*†*Mr. Harry Nichols, of near town, began threshing wheat yesterday morning. His yield is said to be very good.

*†*The next thing in order among the ladies is house cleaning. Oh! how the men folks do love these domicile cleanings.

*†*Margaret Kennard, colored, dropped dead of heart trouble on one of the streets of Lynchburg Tuesday afternoon.

*†*Postmaster M. W. Thomas and assistant, Wm. H. Lambert, Jr., will move the postoffice to its new quarters opposite Stam's Hall tonight.

*†*The receipts of the Chestertown postoffice for the last quarter amounted to $2,960. At this rate Chestertown will have free delivery of mail.

*†*Mr. Louis C. Hayes, Jr., of near Galena, was the first to begin seeding wheat in the First district. He began on Monday morning.

*†*Mr. Walter T. Pippin has received the contract for remodeling the home of Dr. Charles Richard Twilley, on High street. Work will commence shortly.

*†*Corn cutting is nearing an end, and the farmers are busy making preparations for seeding wheat. Many of the farmers will commence seeding next week.

*†*Linwood, Mr. Wm. A. Bell's fine four-year-old racer, returned to Rose Hill farm on Saturday. Linwood will not race any more this season, and is being exercised by Mr. John Bell.

*†*Wilbur W. Hubbard is fitting up the vacant room in the Hotel Imperial as a sample and office room for the accommodation of the guests at the hotel. Wm. L. Fowler is doing the work.

*†*The bridges, crossings and platforms along the railroad were inspected by officials of the Pennsylvania road on Monday. Everything was found in good condition.

*†*Agriculture this year will add about $4,000,000,000 to the country's wealth, and foreign customers will pay us not far from $900,000,000 for our agricultural products shipped to them over the sea.

*†*Mr. M. M. Rasin's steamer, Bertie Tull, was at Chestertown wharf loading a cargo of 80 tons of the Beck Walker Co.'s celebrated fertilizer for delivery at Tolchester and Buck Neck on Saturday.

*†*A special train consisting of an engine and one coach made the trip to Townsend and Millington on Saturday to accomodate several passengers who missed connection there with the regular afternoon train. Very clever in the railroad company.

*†*Mr. Jas. D. Lucas, the hustling clothier, is driving a handsome five-year-old, a half-brother to Free Silver, Mr. C. S. Hulock's fine racer. Mr. Lucas' driver has considerable speed, having shown miles better than 2.30 when in training.

*†*The canneries at the wharf and old depot have closed after a prosperous season. The Bohemians closed their labors at the depot on Monday night with a dance and bonfire, and left on the Ford on Tuesday morning for their homes in Baltimore.

*†*A troupe of black face comedians under the leadership of Maslin and Nelson will give a comic grap'hone exhibition in Kilbourn & Warren's hall, Fairlee, this evening. There are some fine singers and clog dancers in the troupe and a good entertainment will no doubt be given.

*†*The street sprinkler has been put into service again through private subscriptions of the tax-payers. Mr. Hiram M. Brown with his usual skill and energy is superintending the collection of the funds. The opinion seems to be general among the tax-payers and citizens of the town that the sprinkler should be run by the commissioners as long as the conditions of the streets demand it.

*†*Mr. Charles McWhorter, brakeman on the Pennsylvania road, while coupling cars at Henderson, Md., last week got his hand caught and very painfully bruised and mashed. He has been unable to work since, but under the care of one of the prominent physicians of Clayton he is improving rapidly.

*†*The Gilbert & Sewell Canning company, which has had control of the large cannery at the old depot during the summer, has canned 33,000 cases of corn and tomatoes. This is equivalent to 792,000 cans, and it will require 66 cars to freight the goods to market. This campany contracted for about 800 acres in tomatoes at $7.00 per ton. They paid about $30,000 to the farmers of the county.

*†*Eight or ten cases of typhoid fever are reported from Galena and vicinity. Among those who have been affected are Messrs. Olie and Curtis Ford, John Newnam, Holton Woodall, Harry Eisenhart's children, Charles Sutton's son, Charles Lehman's children and Mrs. Sophie Hurtt, and children. Dr. J. W. Latimer attributes the cause of the disease to atmospheric conditions.

*†*At a meeting of the School Board on Tuesday it was decided to extend the work of the Manual Training Instructor, Prof. Blades, of the Chestertown public school, so as to provide for the introduction of the work in other parts of the county. Rock Hall and Edesville schools will be visited by Prof. Blades one day in one week, and Millington and Galena will receive his attention one day in another week. A good move on the part of the school board.

*†*Constable John Duyer, of Worton, arrested a young white man last Sunday and lodged him in Chestertown jail charged with disorderly conduct. Quite a great deal of excitement was created on the streets here when some one jokingly reported that the vigilant constable had caught the Constable murderer and the culprit had confessed to the crime. Everybody wanted to get a look at the prisoner until it was made known that he was not the murderer, and then somebody wanted to find the fellow who started the joke.

CHURCH NOTES.

Chestertown M. E. Church services as follows: Preaching at 10.30 A. M., subject: "Names written in Heaven." Sunday School at 2.15 P. M. Epworth Legue meeting, 6.45 P. M. Preaching at 7.30 P. M., subject; "That is that which was Spoken by the Prophet." All are cordially invited.

Christ Meth. Prot. Church. Rev. D. L. Greenfield, pastor. Testimony meeting at 9.30 A. M., Sunday School at 2.30 P. M. Public worship at 10.30 and 7.30 P. M. Evening theme: "Second Timothy, Two, Fifteen.

Rev. Milton McCann preached in Marion M. E. Church, near Crisfield, on Sunday last. Rev. W. E. Habbart preached for Mr. McCann at Bond and Mobray Chapels.

Sunday, Oct. 30th, will be a great day for Rock Hall Methodists as well as the friends of the church. That day has been selected by Rev. Warren Burr, pastor of the church, as debt-raising day, and Rev. Robert Watt, presiding elder of the Wilmington District, and perhaps other ministers will be present. The plan by which over $500 was raised last season will be used again on this occasion.

Capt. J. F. Willis, of the Volunteers of America, Salvation Army, a former Kent countian, occupied the pulpit at the Chestertown M. E. Church last Sunday evening and delivered an interesting address concerning the work of the Army.

Kennedyville M. P. Church, Rev. R. S. Rowe, pastor. Subjects of sermons for Sunday October 2nd, 10.30 A. M., "How the Love of God was manifested toward us." 7.30 P. M., "Would you be saved? No time to lose!" The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper after the morning sermon.

Last Sunday was observed as Rally Day by the Chestertown M. E. Sabbath School. The following program was rendered: Singing; prayer by Dr. J. T. Twilley, singing, scripture reading by school, led by Mr. J. T. Anthony; singing, lesson hymn, brief review of quarter's lesson by Rev. W. L. White; Address by Rev. D. L. Greenfield; special music by choir, singing by primary department. Talk on grading the school, by Miss Mary C. Burchinal, singing by the choir, announcement by Rev. Mr. White, singing, school, benediction.

The M. E. Sunday School has adopted the graded system and consists of primary department, intermediate, junior and senior classes. Literature suitable for each department will be furnished.

A home department will also be inaugurated in connection with the other work in the school.

Former superintendents, T. W. Eliason, M. A. Toulson, M. W. Thomas and W. B. Copper were present on Rally Day.

A new song book "The Voice of Praise" has recently been bought by the school and good music was given from it.

Quite a large increase in attendance makes us look for better work in the future.

Rev. C. R. Blades has accepted a call to an appointment in Ohio, and will make arrangements to leave Kent just as soon as he can dispose of his property at his home near Kennedyville.

OBITUARY.

C. H. B. MASSEY.

The funeral services of C. H. B. Massey, Esq., whose sad death was reported in last week's issue, were begun at his late home on Maple avenue, on Monday afternoon at 1.15 o'clock and concluded at St. Clements church, Massey, whither the funeral cortege was transported in a special car attached to the afternoon train. In the absence of Rev. Dr. H. B. Martin, rector of Emmanuel Church, Chestertewn, prayer was read at the home and service conducted at the church and grave by Rev. Albert Ware, rector of St. Clement's, Massey. Interment was made in St. Clement's cemetery. The pall bearers were Hon. Isaac Gibbs, State Veterinarian G. Allen Jarman, Prof. E. J. Clarke, Prof. A. B. Burris, Messrs. Thomas W. Perkins, James G. Beck, of Chestertown, and M. Richard Wallis, of Galena. Undertaker J. E. Ferguson had charge of funeral arrangement. The deceased was 39 years old, and his death just at the zenith of his life, is a particularly sad one. Mr. Massey was a young man of fine intellect. He had prepared himself for the legal profession by study at several important Colleges and under the tutorage of the late Hon. John S. Wirt. But owing to an almost inherited fondness for agriculture, he did not long engage in the practice of law, but devoted his time to the cultivation of his fine farm near Massey, which farm has been a part of the Massey plantation for genearations. Well versed on all subjects, a constant reader of good literature, he was at once a splenaid conversationalist, and a genial gentlemen. He was one the most active members of the Brick House Club, an organization of some of Chestertown's most prominent young business men. The news of Mr. Massey's illness came like a shock to the community, and before the people could realize the seriousness of the case, he had died. The floral tributes laid upon his bier by friends and loved ones attested the esteem in which he was held by their beauty and profusion.

CHARLES SENART

Mr. Charles Senart died at his home on High street on Wednesday, of general debility in the 77th year of his age. The deceased was a native of France, but at an early age moved to this country and located in Chestertown, where he has always enjoyed the respect of the community. He was a florist and landscape gardener by trade, and this was his avocation up until a short while before his death. The deceased is survived by a wife and two children, William, of Chestertown, and Miss Celia Senart, of Wilmington. He leaves one grand child, Charles Senart. Funeral services were held in Sacred Heart Church, of which the deceased was a member, yesterday morning, at 10 o'clock, Rev. J. J. McKenna officiating. Interment was made in Chester cemetery. The pall bearers were: Messrs. Jas. T. Dixon, H. L. Boyd, Wm. McKee, Alexander Gray, Frederick Humbert and Charles W. Copper. Undertaker J. E. Ferguson had charge of the funeral arrangements.

JOHN G. CLARKE.

Mr. John G. Clarke, a former member of the well known candy firm of Clarke & Jones, died at his home, on Park Heights, Baltimore last Saturday, aged 82 years. The deceased was one of the most prominent business men in Baltimore, and was one of the most prominent Methodist Protestants in the State. He was a charter member of the board of trustees of Western Maryland College, president of the board of managers of the superannuated fund society, and for over 30 years president of the Baltimore Book Depository of the Methodist Protestant church. Mr. Clarke was well known in Chestertown, where his firm enjoyed a large trade with many of our merchants. He will be sadly missed in Baltimore Methodist Protestant Church circles. He was a member of old East Baltimore station, now Mt. Lebanon. Funeral services were conducted on Tuesday by his former pastors, Rev. J. D. Kinzer, J. L. Holmes and F. T. Little.

MISS MOLLIE OTHOSON

Miss Mollie Othoson died at her home near Sassafras on Monday after a short illness of several weeks. Miss Othoson was a lady of noble christian character and her death is very sad. She was very popular in Sassafras.

Maryland Banker's Convention.

The annual convention of the Maryland Bankers' Association will be held at Annapolis, October 26, 27, and 28. Governor and Mrs. Warfield will give a reception during the session, and entertain many of the visitors at the Executive Mansion. Among those who are expected to make address are:

Governor Warfield, Mr. James H. Eckels, United States comptroller of the currency during President Cleveland's last administration and now president of the Commercial National Bank, of Chicago; ex-Governor William Pinkney White; Mr. John M. Nelson; of the banking house of Hambleton & Co.; Mr. H. H. Haines, president of the Rising Sun National Bank; Mr. J. Wirt Randall, president of the Farmers National Bank, Annapolis; Mr. Charles Hann, assistant cashier of the Mechanics' National Bank; Mr. James Monroe, a lawyer of Annapolis.

New Advertisements.

Likes, Berwanger & Co., of Baltimore introduce the fall season with a large advertisement. This reliable firm enjoys a splendid trade, in Kent and they are ready to supply the wants of all who seek their store for the "latest things" in men's and boys' clothing, furnishings etc.

Mr. Ambrose Carroll, the shoe man, says it is just fun for him to supply the wants of all those who need stylish and up-to-date shoes. He can fit any foot from the honest plowman to the dainty society belle.

A. Blum is ready for the fall and winter trade with a fine stock of clothing, gents' furnishings, millinery, hats, etc. Hats trimmed free. A glance at their show windows will give you an idea of their new and stylish selections. Give them a call early.

We introduce to the public this morning the Pennsylvania Desk & Furniture Company, of Philadelphia, Mr. H. W. Rickey, formerly one of Chestertown's popular young men, is one of the firm. The Furniture World, published in Philadelphia, in commenting upon the scope and standing of the firm says "That the firm is up-to-date goes without saying and we believe it will soon conduct the largest retail market in the city." The business of the firm has recently been increased over 50 per cent. The firm has recently furnished Judge Holland's office in the U. S. Court, Philadelphia, desks, etc., for the Southern Pacific R. R. Co.'s office, the new bank of Commerce, the Palmyra Bank and other large places of business. Messrs. Rickey and Hutchings are hustlers and will attend to all orders with promptness and courtesy. See their large advertisement in another column.

The Misses Reed are prepared to serve their customers with the very latest styles in hats, millinery and fancy articles. They have visited all the large millinery emporiums of our important nearby cities, and have just what you'll need to add to the tone of your appearance, etc. They would like to see you today and hereafter.

Port-Deposit-Line has made change, only going up one day and down next. Same applies to Sassafras River Line, See advertisement in this paper.

The Corn and Wheat Crops.

While the country has been brought face to face with a short crop of wheat this year, the people have been comforting themselves with the prospect of a great corn crop. The Government estimate of the wheat crop early in the season was 637,000,000 bushels. This estimate was reduced after harvest to 540,000,000, and some think the revised estimate is still too high. The Government estimate of the corn crop this year is 2,500,000,000 bushels. Mr. James J. Hill and others, who have sources of accurate information, say that the crop will fall 500,000,000 bushels below the Government estimate. If this estimate is correct, then the country will be short of the two great cereals, the main dependence of our people, and the corn crop will be smaller than it has been for many years.
