HAPPY WOMEN.

Wouldn't any woman be happy,
After years of backache suffering,
Days of misery, nights of unrest,
The distress of urinary troubles,
To find relief and cure?
No reason why any reader
Should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. Almira A. Jackson, of East Front St., Traverse City, Mich., says: "For twenty years I was doctoring for kidney and liver trouble, but without benefit. Just before I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I was almost paralyzed. I could hardly stand on my feet because of the numbness and lack of circulation. Had a knife been thrust into my kidneys the pain could not have been more intense. My sleep was disturbed by visions of distorted figures. The kidney secretions were annoyingly irregular, and I was tortured with thirst and always bloated. I used seven boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills. The bloating subsided until I weighed 100 pounds less, could sleep like a child and was relieved of the pain and the irregularity of the kidney action. My circulation is good and I feel better in every way."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mrs. Jackson will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists; price, 50 cents per box.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT AND HIS VULTURE OF WAR.
"Hi there! you!! don't read that—that's not for you."

THE NEW VOTER.

Food for the Thought of Public-Spirited Youth.

Mr. Albert W. Rayner, in discussing the supplementary registration yesterday, said:

"The Nation of September 8, under the heading of 'The New Voter,' says in part:

"'His vote determines not only the remote, but the immediate future of the country. In practically every election since the era of good-feeling the men who never cast a Presidential vote before have held the balance of power. It is computed from actuarial tabes that approximately one-sixth of the national electorate is renewed in each four-year period between Presidential elections. When so many factors are liable to affect the total vote the conclusions on this basis are necessarily rough, but it may be assumed that approximately 16 per cent. of the voters who choose between Parker and Roosevelt this fall did not have the chance to vote for McKinley or Bryan, while about 5 per cent. have never before voted at all.'

"Conditions have arisen in the last two Presidential elections that have caused many a youthful voter to cast his initiative vote for the Republican candidate, owing to the absorbing money question, for many young men have been identified with banking and various financial interests in recent years, and having thus had greater opportunities than would be offered in other pursuits, they became easy converts to the 'Republican prosperity' idea. The idea developed until a large number of voters were in time convinced that if the Government was not in the hands of the Republican party it meant financial ruin. This was not an unreasonable view when Bryan was the nominee. Under the present circumstances this view would be thoroughly illogical. Every young man who is now going to vote for the first time this fall, and even those who are going to cast their second or third vote for a President, should give the next few weeks to sober thinking—not the thinking that would be produced by the literature in campaign text-books, but the kind that would result from sound reasoning free from partisan bias. The voter should ask himself certain questions which the papers are discussing every day.

"First—The question of the money standard would answer itself by the manly and positive assertion of Alton B. Parker, which is too well known to need repetition.

Second—The one of tariff reform would be answered by what we know the Democrats would try to do if they could control legislation in the next Congress. Every effort would be made to reduce the duty on certain articles which are receiving unnecessary protection under the present law. What would the answer be if the Republicans control the next National Legislature? The continuance of the highest duties for the purpose of maintaining the powers of their allies, the monopolies and trusts of this country, that have thwarted independent rivals and have defied all anti-trust legislation.

"Regarding the legal jurisdiction of the President, the Democratic voters could have peace of mind, for would not every one, in fact, feel safe with a jurist of the character and ability of Mr. Parker?

"Lastly, when the new applicant for citizenship considers the all-important question of what principle he should regard the right one for the United States concerning the ownership or control of foreign possessions, a true spirit of American patriotism ought to help him reach the proper conclusion. American patriotism should limit the boundary of the United States, the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico. Therefore, when our territorial interests exceed those boundaries elements of an un-American nature are apparent. Can the party in power deny that the continuance of our guardianship in the Philippines is otherwise but a method of giving lucrative appointments to their constituents, thereby perpetuating their own party, as they are doing, with the pension annuity at home?

"The future of the Philippines is a matter too remote for the Republican party to prophesy about, and every thinking person realizes that in the meantime the interest on a hazardous and doubtful investment is costing untold millions to which every citizen of the United States contributes so much per captia. Furthermore, the economic value of every male American is greatest at home. His value is shown by what he is able to produce, and to that extent benefit the industry of his own country. When a man leaves his native land as a soldier of fortune for an unknown and dangerous climate his chances of commercial gain are more than offset by the risk he takes on his own life—a risk which undoubtedly could be proven if our losses in the Philippines, in the army and otherwise, were accurately known. Should the chronicler of the future be able to write a true story of our Phillipine experience every student of international relations will realize that the pages of American history will contain chapters of such dismal reading that will never allow us to criticise the colonial experiences of European nations.

"McKinley's famous speech just before he died, showing his change of mind on the tariff question leaves one to suppose that he might have been amenable to reason and likewise changed his policy toward our insular possessions.

"When Roosevelt took the oath of office, over three years ago, he left the American people under the impression that he would follow McKinley's policy. But, on the contraoy, he continues unceasingly to follow the dictates of his own will, regardless of precendent, law and international morals.

"Every young voter should ponder over the crucial situation that is before us. In a little over three years we have seen what Roosevelt has done. Do not let the results of November show that we sanction his unwise and unsafe policy, but, with the aid of young Democracy, unfurl the flag upon which the traditions of the Democratic party—tariff reform and no colonies—are emblazoned in bold relief, and planting that flag 'only' in the United States of America we can then say fearlessly and boldly, 'Where the American flag is planted it shall never come down.'"

Judge Parker Will Win.

In a speech made before Tammany Hall in New York recently Representative Wm. Sulzer said in part: "Judge Parker will win. In my opinion we will easily carry the State of New York. Everywhere I go I find public sentiment in favor of the brilliant New York jurist. He is popular with all classes of people, and I have no doubt he will be the next President. The Democrats are united and enthusiastic this year. They are alive to the task before them to wrest control of the country from the Republicans, and are working with vim, confidence and determination for a sweeping Democratic victory.

"The Empire State is safe for Democracy, and we will carry all the other doubtful States. The people know Judge Parker is an honest, upright, an able and fearless man, a great jurist—and a Democrat through and through. The more the people know about Judge Parker the more they like him. He is growing stronger with the voters every day."

Society's New Game.

"T'rail" has taken society by storm. It is something new, something different.

"Trail as the name implies, is founded on a popular hunting sport, is played with fifty-three fine cards in four colors, representing a fox to be chased and caught, and four packs of hounds of thirteen each.

"Trail" has a constantly recurring interest for players as they perfect their playing from evening to evening, is marked contrast to certain recent boistrous games that bore the players at the end of an hour.

With the one pack six other splendid, new, copyright games, and two games of Fun, making it suitable for all members of a family.

"Trail" can be had of dealers or sent post-paid, 75c. gilt edge, plain 50c. Rules for the seven games free.

Many Cannot Understand Why

after so many years doing business that

WILBUR W. HUBBARD'S

FERTILIZERS

TRADE MARK

Are more extensively used year after; year but the mystery is solved by a visit to our factory which is always open for inspection, and they see the quality of material on hand, and then by using, the result is once a customor always a patron.

We never had on hand a larger supply of high grade materials than we have now preparatory to our fall trade.

A fertilizer man whilst down at the factory a few days ago remarked while looking at a huge pile of Dis. Bone he had never seen more or prettier.

We manufacture Fertilizers and there may be as many as six others in America who make as good goods.

There may be factories as complete, but we do not know any one who strives to make a better goods for the money.

Notwithstanding the fact that all kinds of materials have advanced, we are peculiarly circumstanced to sell you this fall.

Inquire and you will find out that many of the best yields in the county this time were from HUBBARD'S. One gentleman claims to have gotten 34 bushels per acre from Bone Super, or 9 bushels more than from another. Mr. J. R. Leaverton says he is satisfied that the High Grade paid him best, and asked us to enter his order for 45 tons of it. Messrs. Wright, McKenney & Lowe say they never heard of better results and have placed their order with us again. We would therefore advise you before placing your order to call on or correspond with us concerning the matter.

Very truly yours,

Wilbur W. Hubbard,
