PROSPERITY is not the product of politicians nor of Government policies. It is the joint product of God and man. It comes from the benevolence of nature in giving us rain and sunshine, combined with the industry and the intelligence of the American farmers and laborers of every class.—Senator Jos. W. Bailey, of Texas.

DO NOT FORGET the Democratic Rally to be held in Stam's Hall on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. Every Democrat in the county should be here to meet Hon. Thomas A. Smith, candidate for Congresss in the First District, and should help to make this one of the best meetings in the history of the county. The following gentlemen will address the meeting: Hon. Thomas A. Smith, candidate for congress; Hon. Isaac Lobe Strauss, of Baltimore; ex-Senator Austin L. Crothers, of Elkton; and State's Attorney J. Harry Covington, of Talbot county.

IT IS ALMOST ALL OVER but the shouting. That big meeting in Baltimore on Monday knocked the fight out of the Republicans and they are ready to take to the woods with Teddy's rough-riders.

A ROUSING MEETING.

Scarcely in the history of the State has there been such a public demonstration as was the great Democratic Rally at the "Lyric," Baltimore, on Monday night. From all parts of the State Democrats went to hear the issues of the campaign discussed by some of the ablest speakers in the country. Enthusiasm ran riot, and the mighty timbers of the great building trembled with the weight of the multitude and the applause accorded each speaker. It is not often that the people of Maryland have the pleasure of hearing addresses from so many distinguished speakers, and because of this fact the vast audience assembled was one of the most representative gatherings ever assembled beneath one roof. Men of intelligence, men who study the issues involved in a campaign of so much importance as the present were there in large numbers to hear from the lips of America's learned scions the most important phases of the great campaign now before the people of the country. Former Governor David B. Hill, of New York, Senator John W. Daniel, of Virginia, Hon. Henry G. Davis, the next Vice-President of the United States, Senator Arthur P. Gorman, and former Governor Wm. Pinkney Whyte were there and in a plain straightforward and common sense mannner discussed the great issues. A large overflow meeting was addressed outside the Lyric by Senator John Gill and Lee S. Meyers, Esq., candidates for Congress in the Third and Fourth districts. Chairman Vandiver is receiving many congratulations upon the success of the meeting. The General knows how to make things go. It was most too hot a clip for Chairman Hanna, and he is going to Taft (Y) the people up tonight.

SOME SMALL BILLS.

Few "Unconsidered and Thrilling" Items of Cost of Playing Role of World Power.

The following figures represent approximately the cost of the Philippine experiment to date:

Paid to Spain for the islands, $20,000,000.

Paid to the frairs to abandon their lands and give title to the United States, $7,239,000.

Cost of the army above normal from 1899 to 1903 inclusive, $500,000,000.

Cost of patrolling Philippine waters and miscellaneous expenses of the fleet, $25,000,000.

Expenses of the Philippine Commission, two budgets, $429,000.

Cost of transport service, $50,000,000.

The foregoing figures are from official sources, and only one of them, that of the expense of the transports, is estimated. Here is a total outlay of $602,418,000, and we have only just begun to play the role of a "world power."

This clossal sum, moreover, represents only the actual and direct expenditures of public money in and for the Philippines, and takes no account of the enormous increase in the cost of maintaining the Army and Navy, which has been rendered necessary by the Rooseveltian policy of being prepared to "lick all creation."

Reliable statistics show that from 1893 to 1897, both inclusive, the Navy cost $152,553,452; and from 1899 to 1903, inclusive, the cost was $330,823,412, or almost double. The average annual cost of the Army during Cleveland's second administration was $46,000,000. Since 1899, under Mckinley and Roosevelt, the average annual cost has been $137,000,000.

It costs money to maintain colonies and play the bully among the nations.

DEMOCRATS HOPEFUL.

A special despatch to the Baltimore Sun from Washington, says:

"The managers of the Democratic campaign are distinctly hopeful of success. While money difficulties were encountered early in the campaign, and while the Republicans have been untilizing the opportunity afforded by the seeming inaction of the Democrats to proclaim far and wide that Mr. Roosevelt's election is already assured, the Democrats have been working steadily and have not suffered discouragement.

"The theory of the Democratic managers from the first has been that the last two or three weeks of the canvass would determine the tide of the election, and that it could make little difference how much brag and bluster their opponents might indulge in during the early part of the campaign. Judge Parker himself, who is as well informed as to every detail of the campaign as is any member of the National Committee, is known to be well satisfied with the development up to this time and to be entirely confident of success. His managers are equally confident. Those who know every detail of the canvass sincerely believe that Mr. Parker is going to be elected. The campaign has not been conducted with a brass band, and the stock of red fire is yet to be burned, but a great deal of practical business has been done.

If troubled with a weak digestion try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They will do you good. For sale by M. A. Toulson, Druggist, Chestertown, Md.
