HICKS' FORECASTS FOR OCTOBER.

On an touching the 4th and 5th look for return to higher temperature, falling barometer and more falling weather. All these October disturbances will wind up with rising barometer, change of winds to north-westerly, and much cooler weather.

The first regular storm period proper for October is central on the 11th, and extends from the 8th to the 12th. The Moon being in perigee on the 7th and on the celestial equator and new on the 8th, except very prompt developments, on the form of falling barometer, change to quite warm, and followed by rain, wind and even thunder storms as early in the period as the 5th to 9th. Later in the period these storms will spread to the east, and along with the rising barometer behind the storms, an early touch of boreal weather will come out of the northwest.

The next storm period will be central on the 16th, 17th and 18th, and being a Vulcan reactionary period will probably bring on disturbed weather conditions that will run into the next storm period following. From about the 21st to the 24th general and active autumnal storms may be expected. A very depressed barometer will advance from the west, attended by storms first of rain and probably thunder, followed by early spurts of snow and sleet in northern extremes. Heavy north westerly gales will visit the great lakes and the north Atlantic coasts at this time, and a general and decided change to colder will spread over most parts of the country with the anti-storm area that follows this period.

The last period of disturbance in October, blending with Mercury equinox, is central on the 27th and 28th. At this time look for a reaction to warmer with falling barometer and return of rain and thick cloudiness and mist, amounting to sleet in many sections northward.

The month will go out with anti-storm areas spreading eastward from the westnorthwest causing general change to much cooler. Much pleasant and open weather will lie between the perturbed periods of the month, and instead of "storms all the time," fair to pleasant weather is to be wfepected in a large measure.

Getting it Right.

"See here," said the smart man to the hotel proprietor, "I've just had an argument with my friend on the matter of terms, and I want you to decide."

"Fire away," said the proprietor.

"Well, I told my friend I was coming down here to the office to pay my bill. My bill, you understand? Was that right?"

"Of course. What did he contend?"

"He said I should have said your bill. How about it?"

"Well, yes. It certainly is my bill That seems to be correct."

"But you said just now my bill was right."

"Oh well; it's both. Its your bill and it's my bill."

"That sorter makes it our bill, does it not?"

"Yes," assented the proprietor, anxious to get rid of the man. "That's what it is—our bill."

"Well, that decision suits me to a T. Just you make out my half of it, and I'll pay you right away. There's nothing like getting things straight."

A RACE FOR LIFE.

Spurring his jaded horse to renewed efforts when the animal should be refreshed with proper food and rest, is about as sensible as prescribing nerve tonics, alcoholic compounds, coca mixtures and cocktails which only spur on the already weakened nervous system. Neither does it do to put the nerves to sleep with narcotics. When you feel worn-out, broken down, jaded, and feel the effects of brain tire as well as nerve weakness, sleeplessness and fatigue, take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a tonic which will do you lasting good, build you up, increase your appetite and strength and improve the condition of the blood. When the blood is impoverished the nerves feel the effect. Nervousness in nine cases out of ten is the "cry of the starved nerves for food." Feed the nerves on rich blood and all nervous manifestations will cease.

"I have been suffering for about eight years," writes Mrs. H. Pierce, of Millsprings, Ky. "Have had several doctors to treat me—some for female weakness and others for stomach trouble, but received no relief. When I wrote you for advice I was hardly able to work, and you advised me what to do. I took nine bottles, five of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' four of 'Favorite Prescription,' also two vials of the 'Pellets.' Dr. Pierce's medicines will do all that you claim for them."

at the walls of the homes you enter. You will see the characters of the inmates mirrorred thereon. On some walls you will find an ordinary, inoffensive sort of paper, that means thoughtfulness. On others you will see atrocious outrages in hideous colors and wonderful designs, that means carlessness. On others beautiful color combinations, harmony, delicate, graceful designs, the work of artists, speak of a love of beauty and one of our customers.
