SATURDAY. NOVEMBER 12, 1904.

AND the next day it snowed.

JUDGE PARKER has gone to farming.

Just see what money will do when you have plenty of it.

JUDGE PARKER says to the Demacrats of the country, "Don't be worried over it; I'm not."

FOR the first time since the first election of Cleveland, in 1884, Kent county goes Democratic in a presidential campaign.

KENT gave Parker and Davis a majority of 106, and Smith a majority over Jackson of 62. Splendid victory in a presidential campaign.

A PROMINENT local Democrat, when asked his opinion on Wednesday morning concerning the outcome of the election, replied: "I am both disgusted and astonished." He was disgusted with the election of Roosevelt and astonished at the Democratic victory in Kent.

THE DEMOCRATS of Kent county are to be congratulated upon the splendid victory achieved on Tuesday for white supremacy and good government. The result in Kent was undoubtedly due to a splendidly managed organization and to the efforts of the young voters of the county who have become a tower of strength in local politics.

WHATEVER feelings of regret Judge Parker may have because of his defeat, he can never regret the clean and dignified campaign which he conducted in the effort to impress the American people with the importance of Democratic issues. He was a conservative candidate standing upon a conservative platform, and yet the people esteemed him not. We wonder why?

IN 1902 Congressman William H. Jackson carried Kent county by 147 majority and the First Congressional District by 1625. On Tuesday last the Democracy wiped out this big majority and carried the county for Congressman-elect Smith by 62. This is a change of 209 votes, and shows what can be done with practically no money but a powerful organization.

THE YOUNG MAN IN POLITICS.

That this is distinctively the age of the Young Man was never more practically demonstrated than in the outcome of the election on Tuesday, particularly in Kent county. His influence was felt throughout every district in the county for the highest interests of the Democratic party, and his vote was cast in accordance with what he considered to be the best interests of the people. The election in Kent demonstrates the fact that it is the young men now to whom must be entrusted the destinies of the Democratic party. In saying this we do not depreciate the value of the wisdom and counsel of the older heads of the party. They are still an all important factor in the general machinery of the county government, but the routine work and general manipulation of party affairs must be given to the young men in each district of the county if the most successful outcome of elections is to redound to the continuance in power of the Democratic party. The young men of our county are anxious to exert their efforts for the success of Democratic government. They are anxious to raise the standard of political morals and to place the politics of the county upon a safe and sane plane, but their anxiety must not be thwarted and hampered by discouraging non-cooperation with their efforts. Young men cannot stand discouragement and they will not affiliate with any faction or party that refuses them a voice in the deliberations of its leaders. We make this statement advisedly, and we are confident that it is correct. We must give the young man a chance. We must recognize that he is a powerful factor in our local government, and that his opinion is to be considered, not spurned. We believe that it is largely due to the prominence given to the young men in local politics that Kent county has given her vote to Democracy and good government. Let us take care of our young men.

The Best Liniment.

"Chamberlain's Pain Balm is considered the best liniment on the market," write Post & Bliss, of Georgia, Vt. No other liniment will heal a cut or bruise so promptly. No other affords such relief from rheumatic pains. No other is so valuable for deep seated pains like lame back and pains in the chest. Give this liniment a trial and you will never wish to be without it. Sold by M. A. Toulson, Chestertown.

CONGRESSMAN JACKSON WILL CONTEST.

The Baltimore American of Thursday contains the following statement from Congressman Wm. H. Jackson in reference to the election in the First Congressional District:

"I don't intend to be counted out," said Congressman Jackson, "after it has been proven that I received the majority of votes. This is purely robbery and but an evidence of the Democratic ballot trickery. I have seen worse cases than this brought up in Congress, and I don't intend to be beaten after I received the people's vote."

It is unfortunate that a man in the hour of his defeat cannot take a more philosophical view of the situation than Congressman Jackson does. The election was as fair as it could have been, conducted along the lines agreed upon by both Chairman Hanna and Chairman Vandiver, and the negro had the easiest possible privilege of marking his ballot. Mr. Smith's plurality in the District is more than 500, and Congressman Jackson is beaten fairly and squarely. There are no grounds for a contest whatever. We can hardly believe our Republican friends would be guilty of such unwise proceedure.

"VINDICATION OF REPUBLICAN POLICIES," SAYS MR. RAYNER.

But Adds That He "Does Not Take Despondent View of Situation."

Senator-elect Isador Rayner said:

"The result can only be regarded as a vindication of the policy of the Republican party.

"An enormous corruption fund may have been used, but this would not account for the overwhelming majority. It is a deplorable condition that under the present political code both parties justify themselves in taking contributions from any source and lay themselves under corresponding obligations in return therefor. The day will come when the moral sentiment of the American people will rise in indignation at the polls and rebuke this system.

"I do not take a despondent view of the situation, however. This calamity will not disintegrate the Democratic party. The party has outlived many a more serious disaster than this, and, in my judgment, it will pass through the crucible of defeat strengthened and purified."

WILL NOT ACCEPT ANOTHER NOMINATION.

President Roosevelt, after the election returns clearly indicated the result, issued the following statement:

"I am deeply sensible of the honor done me by the American people in thus expressing their confidence in what I have done and have tried to do. I appreciate to the full the solemn responsibility this confidence imposes upon me, and I shall do all that in my power lies not to forfeit it. On the 4th of March next I shall have served three and one-half years, and this three and one-half years constitues my first term. The wise custom which limits the president to two terms regards the substance and not the form, under no circumstances will I be a candidate or accept another nomination."

ORIGINAL ELECTION BET.

Loser of Election Bet Must Drink Milk From Bottle on Street.

Two Brooklynites, Frank J. Smith and J. Reginald Burton, have made an original bet on the Gubernatorial election in New York. The loser is to start from the Union League Club, in Bedford avenue, Brooklyn, and walk down the avenue in the middle of the street several blocks and return, holding a baby's bottle, nipple attached, and filled with milk. The loser must drink two bottles of milk during the journey. The nipple will be attached to a short piece of hose.

An Unprofitable Pear Crop.

The harvest of the greatest Keiffer pear crop ever grown in the pear sections of the Eastern Shore has almost closed. The yield this season is not only the largest ever known, but it has been disastrously unprofitable. "The greater the crop the poorer the grower," said an Eastern Shore farmer the other day. "The fruit from one section has scarcely averaged fifteen cents a basket, and no farmer can afford to grow the fruit at such a price. One farmer allowed almost 1000 baskets to rot under his trees, considering them not worth the time to market. This is the story of many other growers. The Keiffer pear is the greatest producer ever known and usually pulls the farmer through by its enormous yield, but not so this year. It has been a miserable failure." A Baltimore commission merchant was asked the other day what has caused the practical slump in the Keiffer pear market? He said, "An enormous crop was largely responsible. Unless the pear growers pull out some of their trees, lessening the supply, I can see little hope for the future of this particular crop. The acreage is enormous and the business is being overdone. The apple crop this year is the heaviest ever grown, and the Keiffer pear and apple mutually affect each other in the market. That is one reason for the low prices of both products this year. I have known a Keiffer pear tree to yield from 20 to 28 baskets of fruit, and with such productiveness over a large producing territory, the market is overstocked and down go the prices. The bulk of this year's crop has been taken by the packers."

The above statements are taken from the Baltimore Evening Herald, but we do not think they are substantiated by this year's results in Kent. A great many of our farmers have sold their crops to the canners at 5 cents per basket, baskets returned, and this they regard as a fair price for the fruit. Those who shipped their fruit have not fared so well, but we have heard very few complaints, and therefore we judge that our farmers are satisfied with results.
