"If I Had my Way About Gifts"

I would give to all people just what they want.

If I couldn't tell what they want, from their tastes, I would ask them.

I would never give a cigar-clip to a man who doesn't use tobacco, nor a stop watch to one who never saw a horserace.

I would give clothes, shoes, hats, if I thought people needed them—without the slightest hesitation.

I would measure his old coat around the chest and pick out a "house coat." And I would look at the number inside his shoes, so that his slippers would fit when they came home.

I would stuff the stockings of the children with warm wraps and dresses and underwear, rather than with sweets. Santa Claus attends to the toys and candies.

I would give gloves and neckwear and collars and shirts, and I would see that everyone got a dress pattern or two, of cotton, wool or silk—for they can be made up whenever wanted.

I would give to everyone at least one book.

I would give jewelry to those who can afford to wear it, and watches to those who are habitually behind time.

To that golf fiend—I mean friend—of mine, I would send one of those Angora Jackets—and get it now before they are gone.

I would, in all my giving, apply the principles I have laid down above. I would make Christmas a time of real heartfeltness—a time that should last forever, for I would repeat my style of giving from year to year, and so never give opportunity for forgetting.

And I would be happiest of all.

GRATITUDE ITEMS.

I believe this is the first letter you have had from our little town of Gratitude, but I do not think it will be the last, as we are very much disturbed over the prospect of having our school moved up to Rock Hall. Why should this be done, for our town is twice the size it was when it was built? We have lots of young children almost old enough to go to school and a few who might go now, and these with the ones who attend now would make a fine school. We are growing, and are bound to grow, for we have the best harbor and landing within two hours of Baltimore. Our country is being settled by Baltimoreans. We have many now in our midst, and every one is pleased with the county and climate. We have plenty of good land for sale, owned by the Rock Hall Land Improvement Co. Why move the school house from us?

We were very much surprised Monday noon by receiving a message by telephone saying that the B. S. Ford had broken down and we would have to wait until 5 o'clock that afternoon until the Emma A. Ford could make the trip. We were without a boat until Wednesday, when the B. S. Ford resumed her trips.

Our town was very much enlivened by the marriage of Mrs. Mary Mariner and Mr. George Abbott, by Rev. Mr. Mullineaux, a former pastor of Wesley Chapel, on Thanksgiving night.

The oyster market is much better, on account of so much stormy weather. The price has reached 50 cents per bushel on the bar.

Game is very scarce in this neighborhood, and yet seventy-three (73) rabbits were killed on a peninsula of about 40 acres. The tonging boat has now taken the place of the swan and canvasback; this is advanced civilization. But why can't we have both—oystermen and game?

Some of our drift net fishermen have commenced already and have made small catches. One fisherman caught twenty-seven sturgeon, besides other fish.

Capt. Downey keeps the Anna B. Smith always ready for business. "Cull good or get caught," is his motto. Watch him, boys.

MILLINGTON MATTERS.

Miss Martha Pennington, daugher of Mr. and Mrs. Liston Pennington, of Queen Anne, near town, met with what was feared a very serious accident at her home last Saturday morning. Miss Pennington with some girl friends and her two younger brothers were shooting at a mark with a small rifle. She started to run toward the house when her younger brother laughingly remarked, "Watch me shoot that rabbit," forgetting he had replaced the empty shell with a loaded one, and took aim at his sister, discharging the load, the bullet striking her in the back. Dr. C. P. Gowman was called in immediately, but was unable to locate the bullet. Mr Pennington took her to Baltimore Saturday afternoon. She is still there under treatment with her uncle, Dr. John Pennington, who is a prominent physician of Baltimore city. The bullet was not located until Monday, the physicians being compelled to use the X-ray on her, when they located it imbedded in her back, near the spinal column. They decided not to remove it, as it was in such a dangerous place. Miss Pennington is getting along nicely and will return home as soon as it is advisable for her to do so. Her many friends and those of her parents are very thankful that the accident was not of a more serious nature.

The revival services which have been held in Trinity M. E. Church for the past two weeks will be continued for another week, with preaching next Sunday afternoon at 3 P. M. and 7.30 P. M. by the pastor, Rev. J. H. Kuhlman.

Mrs. Wilson, wife of Bishop Wilson, of the M. E. Conference, (South), will give a missionary address in Chesterville M. E. Church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. All who are interested in missionary work are cordially invited, as Mrs. Wilson is a fine speaker and very interesting, as she and her husband have traveled through the far East in the interest of the work.

Mrs. J. R. Stafford entertained the Women's Home Missionary Society at her home Thursday afternoon.

Misses Ruby and Clara Ahern and friend, Miss Carrie Hobbs, of Denton, all students of Western Maryland College, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Ahern.

Miss Evelyn Rolph, of Washington College, Chestertown, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Rolph.

Miss Clara Bryan was called to the bedside of her mother last Monday. Mrs. Bryan was taken suddenly ill Sunday and her friends with whom she was visiting near Kennedyville became alarmed and sent for her daughter, who is now with her.

The new railroad station is nearing completion, the inside being finished, and it is hoped it will soon be occupied as the temporary one is small and not so comfortable to wait in.

Mrs. S. R. Parks, of Philadelphia, spent several days last week with her sister, Mrs. Julia Mallalieu.

Mrs. Albert Wilde, of Elsemere, Del., spent this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Vansant, near town.

Miss Pearl Ahern is acting as substitute at School No. 10, during Miss Clara Bryan's absence.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of North Kent Parish, will meet at Mrs. Frank L. Smith's next Thursday afternoon, Dec. 8, at 2 o'clock.

KENNEDYVILLE ITEMS.

Mrs. W. Redmile is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Herzog, in Baltimore.

Mr. Frank Hill, of Baltimore, spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents, Capt. and Mrs. D. Hill.

Moving is in order now. Mr. D. W. Hill is moving to the farm tenanted by Mr. Thos. Hurlock, Mr. Hurlock moving to Elkton. Mr. E. T. Otherson is moving into Mrs. Chas. Warren's house.

Mr. Duncan spent last Friday at Mr. W. McKnett's looking after the mill.

Bilious Colic Prevented.

Take a double dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as soon as the first indication of the disease appears and a threatened attack may be warded off. Hundreds of people use the remedy in this way with perfect success. For sale by M. A. Toulson, Druggist, Chestertown, Md.

Fox Hunting on Thanksgiving

The Kent and Queen Anne's fox hunt clubs have begun their annual winter sport, and on Thanksgiving morning enjoyed their first run with the hounds. About twenty-five huntsmen and forty-five hounds gathered about 9 o'clock at Capt. Pen. Jester's farm in Queen Anne's, where the first fox was started, and to the music of the hounds and the clatter of the horses hoofs, that usually set the nerves of the huntsmen all a tingle, gave a beautiful chase, up hill and down dale, through pastures green and briar and bramble, until he was earthed at Round Top. Another was started at Round Top and ran to earth shortly after starting. Two more were started at Mr. Dan Potts' and earthed at Mr. Wm. Benton's. Still another started from Mr. Benton's and went to earth on Mr. Henry Smith's place. Those who joined in the chase from Kent were: Messrs. Jos. Everett, Harry Nichols and son, George Brice, J. D. Bacchus, Arthur Bacchus, Benj. Williams, Earle Nicholson, Walter Greenwood, Dave Kendall, Howard Bowers, Robert Brown, Harvey Morris, William R. Aldridge and Frank Ivens. From Queen Anne's were: Messrs. Jake Weller, Thomas Smith, Sterling Evans, Silas Weller and Clements Jester. Another run was enjoyed on Wednesday morning.

New Advertisements.

Seen Moody & Lusby's stock of fall and winter clothing, underwear, etc? Better call early before the holiday rush sets in, and take a look at the fine assortment. Their clothes fit like paper on the wall, and there is a splendid assortment from which to select a nobby suit.

We call attention this morning to the new advertisement of the Pennsylvania Desk and Furniture Co., of Philadelphia. Mr. Harry W. Rickey, formerly of Chestertown, is a member of this well-known firm and he will attend to all orders forwarded with promptness and courtesy. This firm has been in business for only a short time, and yet they have one of the largest wholesale and retail furniture trades in the city of Philadelphia. Look for their advertisement and see what they offer.

The Peabody recital to be given next Thursday evening, Dec. 8th, in Stam's Hall, under the auspices of the Epworth League of the M. E. Church of Chestertown, promises to be a great success. Tickets are going rapidly.

Jarrell is paying 33 cents per dozen for eggs today. Just take a look at Jarrell's beautiful display windows. They are beautiful.

Read the new advertisement of J. D. Lucas the clothing man, on page 1 this morning. He will tell you something about the fine line of clothing, gents furnishing, etc., he is now offering.

J. H. Sides, the jeweler, will have the Christmas opening on Thursday, Dec. 8th. Wait for it.

The new Fountain hotel, corner Pratt and Calvert Sts., Baltimore, is now ready for the accommodation of guests. It is new in every respect, and you'll find it a convenient place to stop when in the city. See advertisement.

Read A. Levine's new advertisement this morning. Mr. Levine is carrying a splendid line of goods in jewelry, watches, clocks, ornaments, etc, and you'll find the price right.
