MILLINGTON MATTERS.

The most exciting and yet the most interesting game of baseball that has been played here this season was played last Saturday afternoon between the Brag baseball team of our town and a "pickup" team of young men of our town, (not members of the club), and much to the chagrin of the regular base ball club, were defeated in a score of 11 to 0 in favor of the "pickups." The regular team failed to make one hit off of Rash, and Everhart, who played centerfield for the "pickups," made one of the most sensational plays ever witnessed in Millington. Mr. C. M. Hurtt treated the winning team to cigars after the game was over. Ruthburg anticipates crossing bats with the Millington Club this Saturday afternoon, Aug. 5, on the Millington grounds, and the "Pickups" are ready to challenge the winning team.

THE BOSS OF WILMINGTON

The Negro Councilman, Postles, Now in Almost Absolute Control of the City Government of Wilmington, Delaware.

Thomas E. Postles, the negro councilman, has taken charge of the city of Wilmington.

With the aid of the Democrats in the City Council he has appointed five office holders, two of them negroes, and one of these his own son.

What is more, Councilman Postles announces that there are twenty-eight more offices to be filled, and that he fully expects to select the men to fill them. At the city crematory he expects to put in a negro superintendent and five negro helpers. He will remember his race, too, in making the remaining appointments.

Several days have passed, and the protest against the crowning of Postles has evidently petered out. Some talk is indulged in about the action to be taken by the school teachers—the white women teachers. But even this cannot be traced to any responsible source. If the women teachers are to act, those who have been questioned do not know of it.

SON PAYS OFF TEACHERS.

The son of Councilman Postles, Joseph E. Postles, has been appointed by his father to be clerk to the city treasurer. He is 23 years old, and about the color of a patent leather shoe. He is to have the job of paying off the white women teachers—400 of them.

This doesn't tell the whole story. It might be thought that young Postles is merely to be one of the persons in a large city office. But Wilmington is not quite so far advanced. The city treasurer, Mr. Blaine, has his own private business to attend to. He is usually away from the city treasurer's office at his own business place. His clerk remains in the office alone and attends to all the ordinary routine of the office.

Mr. Blaine's friends are trying to get him to resign his office rather than be forced to turn over the usual business of the office to a negro clerk. No question as to the ability of young Postles is raised. It is merely an objection to his color.

Several times the Addicks Republicans so-called "regulars," in city council tried to entrap the negro into caucus. It needed his vote for them to accomplish anything. But Councilman Postles dodged.

Senator Allee came from Washington finally and offered the negro a $900 job for his son in Washington if he would stand in with the "regulars." This, too, failed.

In this matter of the combination with the negro Postles, the six Democrats in the City Council have acted without any conference with the Democratic leaders, Mr. Salisbury and Mr. Ford, who are away at the shore. But the Councilmen are confident that the move they have made will be approved by the biggest men in their party.

One of the most potential Democrats in Wilmington said:

"The Democrats in the City Council acted for themselves in the Postles matter, and what they had in view was the ultimate good of the city and State The Republicans have been harping for years about their love for the negro. They have been paying his registration fees and corraling his votes. What the Democrats in the city council want to do is to give them a taste of color and all they want of it. It would have pleased the six Democrats if Postles had put seven negroes into the seven city offices.

"It is the sore Republicans who are now yelling about disfranchising the negro in Delaware and enforcing the 'Jim Crow' law. No danger of it. If they stop voting the negro, it is an end to their rule in this State, and, incidentally, an end to Addicks."—Wilmington Every Evening.

ROCK HALL ITEMS.

Where are all our boarders ? Our town boarding houses are almost without them while our farmers are crowded.

Misses Jessie and Edith S. Arthur are the guests of Mrs. Lee A. Durding.

Mr. George Coburn is visiting at the home of his aunt, Mrs. David Ayres.

Mrs. Emma Ayres is entertaining her two grand children, Mary and Lambert Ayres.

Mr. John Wood met with a very painful accident last week. His horse ran away and while attempting to jump from the carriage he fell on his shoulder fracturing his shoulder blade.

Miss Ethel Taylor has been rusticating at the home of Mr. Alfred Bramble near Tolchester.

Miss Myrtle Durding has just returned from a most delightful trip to Allentown, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Atlantic City.

The harbor here is being dredged and we are anxiously looking forward to the time when our steamer will stop at the town wharf.

Miss Rose McCormick, of Allentown, is visiting her friends of this town.

Mr. J. A. Greenwood has been quite ill at his home but is much improved.

Work has begun to clear the yard for our additions to the school.

*†*Mr. Ivanhoe Willis has purchased from Mr. George C. Atkinson a lot on Cannon street. Mr. Willis will have a comfortable dwelling and stable erected upon the lot and will make it his home after Jan. 1.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with the small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipiency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by M. A. Toulson, Druggest.
