A FATAL DIVE.

Mr. Wm. F. King, a Popular Young Man of Chestertown, Fatally Injured by Diving Into Shallow Water at Betterton.

This community was shocked on Friday evening last to learn of what has since proven to be a fatal accident to Mr. William F. King, familiarly known to his many friends here as Capt. Billy King. Few strangers have come to Chestertown who have so quickly made more firm friends by his genial disposition and pleasant manner than did Capt. King, and when the news of the terrible accident reached Chestertown from Betterton, it naturally came as a great shock. Capt. King has been making his home in Chestertown for several summers, spending the winter in the South as manager of a large oyster packing industry. A month ago Mr. Wilbur Eliason purchased a fine gasoline launch and Capt. Billy was engaged to take the launch to Betterton for the purpose of using it in carrying pleasure parties to and from Betterton. He had been at the pretty resort for about two weeks and in that time had won many friends, among whom he was exceedingly popular. Last Friday afternoon, accompanied by some friends, he went in bathing. He misjudged the depth of the water off the short pier in front of the Chesapeake House and dived in head foremost. He struck the bottom of the bay with such force as to break the second, third and fourth curvatures of the spinal column. He was taken from the water in an unconscious condition and hurried to the City Hospital Baltimore, where the physicians diagnosed the case as a broken neck. His tremendous vitality, as his six foot two of handsome manhood lay powerless on his couch, impressed the physicians at the hospital, and everything that surgery could do was done for him. He was completely paralyzed from his shoulders down, and yet for a time the physicians had hopes of his recovery. His family was immediately notified, and father and mother, sister and brother hurried to the hospital from their home in Philadelphia in order to render all aid possible. Messrs. J. E. Ferguson and John M. Toulson, two of his Chestertown friends, went to Baltimore on Sunday and were permitted to see the injured Captain for a few minutes. He recognized them and conversed with them for a short time about his accident, but seemed resigned to his sad fate. He relapsed into unconsciousness on Monday afternoon, before his parents arrived and his vitality gradually became weaker until about five o'clock on Tuesday when he died. He never recognized his family.

Capt. King was the son of Mr. Edwin D. King, a weathly dry goods merchant of Philadelphia. He was 29 years old and unmarrried. He was not fond of city life but preferred to "rough it" in the countrp or to enjoy the quiet of town life. When the Spanish War broke out he enlisted in the First Pennsylvania Infanty, eager to see active service for his country. He got no farther than Georgia, and some years after come to Chestertown, where he had since lived during the summer. While he had never taken part in professional athletics he had always been fond of outdoor sports, and had been an amateur football and baseball player since boyhood. His two brothers, Messrs. J. P. King and Edwin D. King, Jr., are fine athletes, and, like himself, are magnificent specimens of physical manhood. The remains were taken to the home of his parents in Philadelphia on Wednesday for burial on Thursday.

STATE CAMP P. O. S. OF A.

Profitable Two Days Session.

The State Camp Patriotic Order Sons of America held a pleasant two days oassion in Westminster on Tuesday snd Wednesday. The body was welcomed to Westminster in the absence of Mayor Gilbert, by W. K. W. Seabrook, editor of the "American Sentinel." Prof. W. J. Heaps made the response. About 150 delegates and many visiting members of the order were present. The sessions were held in Odd Fellows Hall. Much interest centered in the election of a State President to succeed Prof. W. J. Heaps, who has been State President for two terms. There were two candidates—Rev. C. E. Redeker, of Odenton M. P. Church, near Baltimore, and Mr. James Marine, one of Baltimore's street cleaning Commissioners. Both candidates had warm supporters, and the contest was an interesting one. The election resulted as follows:

State President, Rev. C. E. Redeker, Baltimore; State Vice-President, Thos. H. Barcus; State Master of Forms, Dr. A. B. Candler; State Conductor, John W. Chapman; State Inspector, Frank Boleler; State Guard, L. W. Grimm; State Trustees, H. E. Creamer, W. E. Ringgold, H. H. Emich, C. J. Richardson, Frank Brendle and John A. Little; National Delegates, Charles Coker, J. W. Paynter, Rev. A. B. Wood, R. W. Farring and W. L. Miller.

The statistics of the camp show that the receipts for the year ending June 30 1905, including cash on hand June 30 1904, were $2,625.50 and the expenditures $1,956.43, leaving a balance in hand at the former date of $669.07. During the year three camps were instituted and two suspended, making the whole number of 52. The gain in membership during the year wae 378, making the whole number 4,138.

The following delegates represented Chestertown: Messrs. John C. Davis, Alvin Brown and W. A. Carroll; District President, Wm. B. Coleman, and State Trustee, Wm. E. Ringgold. Mr. Ringgold, of the Chestertown Camp, was honored by being made one of the State trustees.

Those who represented Rock Hall Camp were: Messrs. J. W. Boyer, Wm. P. Durding and J. C. Ryan.

Rock Hall was selected as the place of meeting next year.

OBITUARY.

J. WESLEY HADAWAY.

Mr. J. Wesley Hadaway, one of the most highly respected and well-known citizens of Quaker Neck, died at his home near Pomona, on Saturday last, of cancer, aged 61 years. Mr. Hadaway had been an intense sufferer from the dread disease which made its appearance last November. In February he went to Johns Hopkins and had an operation performed by Prof. Theobold, the eminent specialist in that line, and it was thought successful, but the malady had made such an inroad on his constitution that he soon became worse. He bore his affliction with christian fortitude. All that loving hands could do was done by his faithful and loving wife and children and kind friends. He was a man loved and respected by all who knew him and his home was one where love and sunshine always dwelt and he was happiest when he could minister to the needs of others or have his friends around him. He leaves a widow and four daughters, viz., Mrs. Whittier C. Copper, of Chestertown; Mrs. W. R. Startt and Misses Lillie M. and Anna E. Hadaway, of near Pomona. Funeral services were held on Monday morning at 10 o'clock from Mowbray M. E. Church, conducted by his pastor, Rev. E. B. Taylor. Interment in Chester cemetery. The following acted as pall-bearers: Charles T. Stratton, Henry Brown, Bartus Trew, Samuel Cranor, W. F. Woodmender and David Ford. Undertaker J. E. Ferguson had charge of the funeral arrangements.

MARY ELWOOD HACKETT.

The reaper of death entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Hackett, of Still Pond, for the first time last Sunday afternoon at half past three and claimed for its own the pet—their baby Mary Elwood, aged four months and three days. This little one was a great pet. She was dearly loved by the entire family. Her oldest sister, Alice, a popular and loved young lady of Still Pond, was a second mother to it, as the best part of her time was spent with it. The only consolatien that can be expected by the family is that she is

"Safe in the arms of Jesus, Safe on his gentle breast,"

and that she has only gone on before to that House where there is no more suffering or pain, to meet them when their journey of life is o'er. The family have the love and sympathy of the entire community. A FRIEND.

MRS. MARY T. GAWTHROP.

Mrs. Mary T. Gawthrop died at her home, Church Hill, on Monday morning, aged 78 years. She was a daughter of the late Dr. George C. Trenchard, a native of New Jersey. Her husband, Thomas Gawthrop, was a native of Baltimore county. She was a sister of the late George O. Trenchard and Thomas W. Trenchard, both of Church Hill. The deceased was in the mercantile business for aboat 25 years at Church Hill, and in 1900 sold her business interests to Mr. W. Walls. She was considered one of the best business women in Queen Anne's county. She was related to William E. and Thomas Trenchard, of North Carolina, as well as the Valliants and Faithfuls of Queen Anne's. She leaves an estate valued at $15,000, consisting of property at Church Hill and the Trenchard farm near Southeast creek.

ROMAINE WAGNER.

Romaine, the infant son of the late Romaine Wagner, died at the home of its mother, Mrs. Mary Wagner, in Edesville, Sunday evening at five o'clock. Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. W. Parris. Interment was made in Wesley Chapel cemetery. Undertakers Casey Bros, of Rock Hall, had charge of the funeral arrangements.

LAWTON T. PIPPIN.

Lawton Tomlinson, the fourteen months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Pippin, died Sunday evening at the home of its parents, Washington avenue, of toxæmia. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon conducted by Rev. W. L. White; interment at Chester cemetery, undertaker J. E. Ferguson in charge.

JAMES T. F. CROUCH.

Died July 28, in Piney Neck, James Thomas Frederick Crouch, aged 6 weeks and 5 days, infant son of Amos A. and Mary E. Crouch. Interment was made in Wesley Chapel.

BASE BALL NOTES.

One of the best games of base ball played at Betterton was contested on Tuesday between the Crimson Athletic Club of Baltimore and Betterton. The Crimson team was made up of picked players from the strongest teams in Baltimore, such as the B. & O., Maryland Athletic Club, Bartlett-Hayward, Belair and Walbrook. After a hot game the visitors won out with a score of 1 to 0. The Baltimore men played hard, and Capt. Bouse, of Betterton, ran his team in good shape. Wheeler, Betterton's first baseman, was absent. Hoover made his first error since coming to Betterton on a hard ground ball which he cleverly stopped but did not handle cleanly. Both Reynolds of the Betterton team and Baker of the Crimsons did good work in the box. Owens umpire.

A good game is expected to-day between Mt. Washington and Betterton. On August 19th Betterton plays the Bartlett-Hayward team. This game will be worth going to see.

Tabulated score of Tuesday's game:

Score	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9

The Chestertown Athletic Club went to Still on Saturday afternoon last and were defeated by the strong team of that town by the score of 15 to 14.
