Democratic County Ticket

FOR THE LEGISLATURE:
ISAAC GIBBS,
CURTIS E. CRANE.

FOR SHERIFF:
ANDREW MEDDERS.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONERS:
JOHN E. MORRIS,
WILLIAM WAGNER.

FOR TREASURER:
WILLIAM E. KEYSER.

FOR COUNTY SURVEYOR:
G. B. TAYLOR.

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION was held in Baltimore on Wednesday. D. B. McMenamin was a member of the credentials committee and Col. Wm. J. Vannort a member of the committee on resolutions. Chairman Hanna was re-elected chairman of the state central committee for two years. The amendment was the target.

MESSRS. L. B. RUSSELL AND A. M. KENDALL, who were nominated on Monday by the Republican convention for County Treasurer and County Commissioner, respectively, have declined the nominations. Mr. Russell's refusal is apparently because of his announced opposition to the naming of a ticket at this time, and Mr. Kendall, we understand, refused to serve because he does not care for political office now. Their places on the ticket will be filled by the State Central Committee, but it may be difficult to find two other Republicans in the county whose names end in "ll," who are willing to go on the ticket. Better stay off, the whole ticket is going to be licked, and licked bad.

SUPPOSE there is substituted in the next Legislature a bill to prohibit the catching of oysters for two years in the waters of the bay and its tributaries in place of the unpopular Haman Oyster Bill, which means a monopoly of the barren bottoms, and, in time of the natural bars as well. Would not such a bill redound to the greatest good to the greatest number? We believe the oystermen of the State are in favor of such a law, and we believe if such a bill were passed by the next Legislature, the present State administration would see that it is properly enforced. The best solution to the oyster question is not the Haman Bill, but "REST FOR A DEFINITE PERIOD, AND RIGID ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAW."

WHEN THE SCHOOL BELL RINGS.

When the school bell rings next Monday morning the teachers of the county will be prepared for the duties of the coming school year. They have spent a profitable vacation in study, travel and recreation, and during the past week they have been brought closely into contact with the problems of teaching and their duties as teachers by the lectures and addresses of prominent educators. The teachers have taken advantage of the sessions of the institute to recall the lessons of the school room that have been allowed to lie dormant for a season, and they go forth to their work with new ideas and new methods of instruction. But when the school bell rings next Monday morning, what about the pupils? Will they return to their books with the same degree of pleasure they have manifested in the fleeting joys of summer time life? Will they return to the school room because they love to delve in the thoughts of others and to pluck the invaluable riches of thought from the books which are but guides to their future usefulness in life; or will they go to their books like the quarry slave scourged to his dungeon? The pupil's measure of success in the school room depends most largely upon the estimate he has of its value. He can lay the foundations for a splendid career or he may mar the fondest desires of parents. And when the school bell rings next Monday morning what about the parent? Will she send her boy off to school just to be rid of his noise and bustle about the house, or will she accompany his going with the kiss of love, and add a word of encouragement to "be a good boy and study hard." A parent's attitude to his children upon their entry into school may be the means of making him a real man, a power for good in the world, or his "wishing to be rid of his noise" may be the means to a destructive and disgraceful future. When the school bell rings next Monday morning the relation of teacher, pupil and parent will be again made manifest, and for the future weal of our great republic and for the salvation of our girls and boys, may that relation be such as to produce for the future men and women whom the world loves to honor for their noble lives and christian characters.

THE REPUBLICAN TICKET.

Contrary to the expectation of many of the people of the county and against the wishes of not a few of the most prominent leaders of their own party, the Republicans on Monday nominated a full ticket with the exception of a candidate for county surveyor. In many respects the ticket is a representative one, the candidates named being men who stand high in the councils of their party, and who have labored arduously for the success of their cause at all times. This relation therefore entitles them to the support of all Republicans regardless of faction. But the issue which the Republican ticket represents places the candidates in a different light before the voting masses. They are the standard bearers of a party which draws its strength largely from an irresponsible and illiterate class of voters, and by reason of the fact that these same illiterate voters have made paramount an issue which means their elimination from politics on purely justifiable grounds, the candidates of this party can therefore hope for no support from those who desire an intelligent and responsible electorate to preside over the destinies of our county and State government. The men on the ticket are worthy men, but the issue upon which they stand is bad and therefore renders more certain the election of the entire Democratic ticket in November.

SIDE LIGHTS.

The "wild man" created some excitement on Friday afternoon. He was being exhibited by a side showman and a mother took her little girl in to see the "wild man." It is said that he threw a stone and cut the child's head quite seriously. The "wild man," who was no other than a harmless negro, says that the stone was thrown from the outside at him. He was arrested by Constable Gill, who had some difficulty in releasing him from an indignant crowd. He was brought to Chestertown on Friday night and lodged in jail. The Tolchester Company should put a stop to such catch-penny and farce concerns as this.

Supt. Noland and his assistants, as usual, were very successful in their manageemut of the great crowds and affairs of the exhibits.

The music furnished by the Havre de Grace band was most favorably commented upon. It was good every day of the fair.

Mr. H. S. DeFord sold five of his fine carriages as a result of his splendid exhibit at the fair. Mr. John C. Davis sold a McCormick binder and several other pieces of farming utensils. Messrs. Smith & Graham also had a splendid display of farming implements and machinery, and made several important sales.

Wm. Medders & Co., of Still Pond, had their usual elegant display of carriages, harness and furniture, which attracted a great deal of attention and elicited good sales.

Mr. Harry Nicols' fine mule colt was the centre of attraction among the farmers and visitors to the fair. It is a beauty and handsomely marked. Mr. Edward Bobinson also had a fine mule colt which came in for a large share of praise as well as a premium. Mr. Geo. P. Hendrickson's yearling mule colt took first premium. Harry Nicols' weanling mule colt first premium.

Mr. James Bell was among those who had premium displays of farm products. He also disposed of some of his fine poultry.

FAIR NOTES.

Black Spider, 2.32¼, Mr. Moffett's fine three year old, Tolchester, Mr. G. E. Noland's fine colt and Silver Queen, Mr. Rice's Bedworth colt, proved their superior ability as race horses in their class, and will develop into fine racers in the near future. Bonnie Lassie had not been worked for a month, and was not up to her usual speed, but she is a good one, and may take Bedworth, Jr's., place in the racing world when she is a little older. Schley Russell, showed evidences of suffering with a corn, and did not "show up" well in his race. He has plenty of speed, and can go as fast as the best of them when in condition.

The crowd on Thursday was conservatively estimated at 17,000 people.

Two broken-down wagons and one dead horse were the results of the hard driving to the Beach.

Nearly all of the ladies' cakes, jellies and preserves were sold on Friday before they left Exhibition Hall.

FRIDAY'S RACES.

Now that Bedworth, Jr., has left the county, West Morrill, Mr. Geo. Rash's fine brown stallion may justly be said to be the fastest horse in Kent connty. He demonstrated his ability as an honest race horse, both on Wednesday and Friday, and he was greatly admired by the crowds on both days. His performance on Friday was even better than on Wednesday. He lowered his record to 2.24¼, and was splendidiy driven by trainer Johnson. The following is the summary of the races

2.26 Trot.

Judy, b. m.	1	1	1
Adversity, b. s.	2	3	3
Robert Burns, b. h.	3	2	2
Adbert, b. s.	dis.

Time, 2.30, 2.32, 2.30.

2.30, Trot.

West Morrill	1	1	1

Typhoid Fever.

How to Prevent Its Spread

—ISSUED BY THE—

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

OF MARYLAND.

When TYPHOID FEVER appears in a family the source of the infection must be looked for in drinking water or food taken within the preceding twenty days. The patient may not have been infected at home, bnt if a second case occurs this second infection will in all probability be traceable in some way to the first patient. In a majority of instances the drinking water has become infected. Your first business therefore is to find out the quality of your drinking water.

You can do this by asking the local health officer for instruction about shipping us samples of your drinking water. In about a week we will be able to report on the drinking water, but in the meantime the members of the family must not use the raw water. The daily supply of drinking water must be boiled.

The infectious material of typhoid fever is produced in but one way. It grows always in the bowels and sometimes in the bladder. It therefore escapes from the sick person in the stools and urine. If we kill the germs in the stools and urine as soon as they are passed there can be no spread of thyphoid fever. These discharges should therefore be disinfected as soon as possible. You will need a large quantity of a good disinfecting solution.

RECEIPT FOR A GOOD DISINFECTANT.

To four gallons of water add enough salt to make a strong brine. Put this in a five gallon demijohn or jug and add a quart of crude carbolic acid. Shake it up well and you will have a good disinfectant for stools and urine.

The crude carbolic acid known as U. S. P. 90 per cent. is very good and a quart will cost about 50 cents. There is a cheaper grade known as a 30 per cent. acid, which is nearly as effective.

About a pint of this solution should be put in the chamber or bed pan before it is used, so that the discharges will begin to be disinfected as soon as they leave the body. There must always be at least as much of the disinfecting solution as there is of the discharges, so that more of the disinfecting solution may need to be added after the discharges are passed. If the stools are thin and watery their disinfection will be accomplished in half an hour or so, but if the stools are thick or formed very much more time will be required. On that account it is best to have a covered jar or bucket into which the bed pan can be emptied, and to empty this jar only once in 24 hours. If the discharged cannot be finally thrown into a sewer, they should be buried in the soil at a convenient spot where there is no chance of their fouling a water supply. The discharges should never be thrown upon the surface of the ground, for you will hardly be successful in killing all the typhoid bacilli, and you must not place them where those not killed by the acid may be blown about in the dust or carried away by flies to infect other people.

In spite of every precaution those who wait on the sick person will get their hands infected, and it is therefore necessary to wash the hands every time one does any service about the patient's bed or body. Whoever waits on the patient must not prepare food or drink for other persons in the house, or if it is impossible to mind this rule, one must most carefully and thoroughly cleanse the hands before performing any household duty outside the sick room. Good scrubbing with soap, water and a brush, and then rinsing well in a fresh water will suffice for cleansing the hands.

If any one else in the house falls sick within two weeks after the first patient the probability is that the infection was lodged before the precautions were taken in regard to drinking water and the disposal of discharges. But if the second case occurs more than 20 days after the first case, that will signify that we have made a mistake somewhere in our precautions.
