Supervisors' Notice

—TO—

Registrars of Voters.

The Supervisors' of Election for Kent county, hereby gives notice to the Registrars of Voters for the several election districts and precincts of the county to call at the office of the Supervisors, in the Court House at Chestertown on Monday, Oct. 2nd at 10 o'clock A. JAMES T. DeCORSE,
Supervisors of Election for Kent Co.
EDWARD ROBINSON, Clerk.

Two Suits Against the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Two interesting cases have been brought before Justice Robert W. Calder, of this town, against the Pennsylvania railroad. Mr. James D. Jarmar, of Worton Station, shipped several hogs last spring and only three of them reached the commission merchant, Mr. Emory Sudler, in Philadelphia. It seems that on that day the railroad company sold several hogs which were not marked, and it is presumed Mr. Jamar's hogs were these which were sold by the railroad company. Demand was made by him upon the company for the value of the lost hogs, but after several months of effort he failed to secure a settlement. The matter was placed in the hands of Hope H. Barroll, Esq., his attorney, and suit instituted as above.

Mr. C. M. Willis and Wm. T. Clark, of Lynch's, this county, shipped to Stevens Bros., Baltimore, a carload of wheat in July. It took this car fifteen days to reach Baltimore when ordinarily it ought to reach there in two days. While the car of wheat was thus delayed the market fell, a portion of the cargo was greatly damaged, and Mr. Clark and Mr. Willis' efforts to secure settlement with the railroad failed. They claimed that they were entitled on the part of the railroad, after it received their grain, to deliver same within a reasonable time in Baltimore, and it was through the carelessness and negligence of the railroad company that they were subjected to loss on their grain and they finally placed the matter in the hands of Mr. Barroll for suit. Both cases will be watched with interest. Marion deK. Smith, Esq., represents the railroad company.

Street Improvement.

Would it not be advisable for our Ladies' Town Improvement Association to undertake the macadamizing of the public streets of Chestertown? They might do, say one block a year, taking the square from Stam's Hall to Sparks' corner, which is, perhaps, the most public block in Chestertown. If a road bed twenty feet wide or more of first-class material were put in the centre of this street it would be an object lesson for the entire county. We do not think the Ladies Association, which has accomplished so much in the past in improvements to our town, could turn their hands and energies to anything which would promise better and more permanent good to Chestertown. Why not, ladies, ask the Town Commissioners for a joint meeting with a committee from your association and see if the commissioners would not pass a town ordinance requiring all property holders who tap the sewer or water mains to restore the bed of the street to as good condition as it was before it was disturbed. By such an arrangement the improvement would be a lasting one and of great public benefit. The people's column of the TRANSCRIPT is open to public discussion on this subject.

The New Freght Line.

Capt. S. B. Gladding has this week established a new frieght line between Centreville and Baltimore via Rock Hall. Capt. Gladding is in command of the gasoline boat Lauretta Curran, a sixty ton vessel, which leaves Spear's wharf, Baltimore, every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 2 P. M. The boat leaves Centreville for her return trip every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 1 P. M. Capt. Gladding's new line is meeting with general approval in this vicinity and his rates are indeed reasonable on all goods. The Captain states that his business is increasing every trip.—Centreville Record.

Why not extend your line to Chestertown, Capt. Gladding, as the freight rates here via of the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia steamboat line are anything but reasonable and satisfactory to the business men of Chestertown. In some cases their freight rates are about double those of the old Chester River Co.

Prompt Mail Service.—Since the matter of prompter mail service for Chestertown was aggitated by the TRANSCRIPT and petitions signed by the business people of Chestertown, sent to the Postoffice Department at Washington, and an investigation made by the Postoffice officials, much prompter service has been received. Heretofore at this season of the year when the freights are heavy on this branch of the road our mails have been arriving from a half to an hour late at times. There is no good reason that we can see why the Pennsylvania railroad should discriminate against Chestertown by not giving us a daily freight train instead running a mixed train from here in the morning. They are not running mixed trains on other Peninsula braches of their road.

Tuesday next, October 3, and Tuesday, October 10 are Registration days. Tuesday, October 17 is for Revision only. Democrats attend to this important matter and get registered in order that you may vote this fall.

Public School Notes.

Miss Addie Hurlock, principal of the Worton school, was appointed an additional teacher in the Chestertown High school, at a meeting of the school board on Tuesday last. Miss Hurlock, we understand, will be assigned to special work in the fifth and sixth grades.

The school board at their meeting on Tuesday also decided to appoint an assistant to the school at Masseys. Miss Lelia N. Ware is the principal. The appointment will be made as soon as the present school building can be enlarged.

Miss Jennie S. Reese was appointed to the scholarship in the Maryland State Norman school made vacant by the death of the late Miss Blackiston, of Rock Hall.

Miss Rebecca Evans, of Baltimore, and granddaughter of the late John Hines, of this county, was appointed to the vacant scholarship in the Maryland Institute. There were no applicants from this county for the position.

One additional teacher was given to Rock Hall School at a meeting of the school board early in August, but the attendance has become so large since the opening of the school that another assistant has been asked for. The matter is being considered by the board.

Very favorable reports are being received from the Betterton school. This school has at present three teachers, one of which was an additional teacher placed there at the opening of school this fall.

It has also been determined to give and additional teacher at the colored school at Coleman's.

The Rock Hall School has 264 scholars enrolled.

The principalship of the Worton school, which was made vacant by the appointment of Miss Addie Hurlock to a posittion in the Chestertown school, has been offered to Miss Burtie Burchinal who was the assistant under Miss Hurlock. Miss Buchinal, we learn, has not yet decided whether she will accept the position. Should she do so her position will then be filled by the School Board.

Warning to Oystermen.

The St. Michael's Comet in an editorial last week warns the oystermen that they are working against their own interests in catching small oysters and selling them to the planters of Virginia. Says the Comet: "That there is something radically wrong in the present oyster law seems to be growing more apparent every day. This year nature has attempted to replenish the barren bottoms of the Chesapeake and its tributaries by covering them with a young growth of oysters of all sizes—from the size of a grain of corn to one and two inches. Under the law catching of these small oysters is forbidden; and there is no demand for them in the market of the consumers. But what is the embarrassing situation that now confronts us? Numerous vessels belonging to the planters of Virginia and elsewhere are now in our waters bribing our tongmen to violate the cull law, made for their protection, by catching everything in the shape of an oyster, in order that they may deposit these seed on their own private planting grounds. Our tongmen must know that by so doing they are killing the goose that lays the golden egg. In the name of common sence when can we ever expect to have an adequate supply of marketable oysters when those who are most directly interested in the business—men whose wives and children get their bread and butter out of this industry—but these tongmen are hourly digging up the very seed that nature has so munificently provided, and for a paltry consideration are denuding their own prolific fields to enrich the barren bottoms of more enterprising and more prosperous neighbors in an adjoining State?"

Chicken Thieving.—Wholesale thieving of poultry is reported in the Second District around Black's Station, and Locust Grove. One farmer is said to have had every chicken stolen from his farm, another is reported to have been robbed of about fifty hens, while others have been visited by thieves to a more or less extent.

Sheriff Keyser as a Detective.

The capture of Frederick Howe, the man who stole Mr. Herbert Matthews' horse and runabout about two weeks ago, by sheriff Keyser on Thursday last in Philadelphia was a clever piece of detective work by the sheriff. The only clew furnished the sheriff was a small notebook which Mr. Herbert Matthews found in the pocket of an old coat which Howe left at Mr. Matthews' house. Howe was employed by Mr. Matthews as a hand on his farm. In the front of this book was a card on which was written:

"In case of accident notify Tilda Howe, Chrisfield, Md."

In another part of the book was found written, "507 Race Street, Philadelphia." This proved to be the successful clue. Howe had told Mr. Matthews that he was a painter by trade. The sheriff, in company with an officer from the police department of Philadelphia, went to the house and asked if Howe was boarding there, and was told by the landlady that he had been boarding there but left some time ago and that she did not know where he was. This did not bluff the sheriff; he told her he was looking for painters and that he had understood Howe was a painter. He told her he would call later and if Howe should come there to so advise him.

The sheriff then set a watch on the house, and in due course of time Howe made his appearance and was arrested. Howe is a married man, and it afterward proved that his wife was at the house when the sheriff first called, and that Howe was then boarding there. Howe was given a hearing in Philadelphia and held for the action of the Maryland authorities. He told sheriff Keyser that he had left the team at a livery stable in Chester, Pa. The team was found at the stable and delivered to Mr. Matthews.

Gov. Warfield signed requisition papers to have Howe brought to Kent county for trial and sheriff Keyser left on the afternoon train yesterday for Harrisburg, Pa., to get the signature of the governor of Pennsylvania to have Howe delivered to his custody. He expects to return to Chestertown on the afternoon train to-day with his prisoner.

Tuesday next, October 3, and Tuesday, October 10 are Registration days. Tuesday, October 17 is for Revision only. Democrats attend to this important matter and get registered in order that you may vote this fall.

Our recent festival at Weslyan Chapel was a decided success. We had a large crowd, an excellent supper, such as the ladies of this old historic church always serve, and we netted approximately $75. We are now engaged in rather extensive improvements of the property. We have put up metalic ceiling. We are putting a large Gothic window behind the pulpit and are replacing the old windows with art glass windows to correspond, and making other needed improvements, involving a cost of about $800. We shall not be ready for re-opening before the 10th of November. Until that time our Sunday school sessions will be suspended. In the meantime we hope to conduct a series of revival meetings in a tent, beginning about the middle of October.

J. W. PARRIS, Pastor.
