A Catechism of the Suffrage Amendment.

Question.—What are the issuses involved in this campaign?

Answer.—There is only one issue, Negro Suffrage.

Q.—Who gave the negro the right to vote?

A.—It was given him by the Fifteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution.

Q.—Was this Amendment adopted by the State of Maryland?

A.—No. The Maryland Legislature voted against it unamimously but two-thirds of the States, which had but few negro voters, forced this Amendment upon the Southern States, and turned loose a horde of ignorant negroes to rule over their former masters.

Q.—Did this result in good or evil?

A.—The result of this action was that in all the Southern States there was for years the worst kind of Government. Carpet-baggers with their negro allies ruled the States and bankrupted their Treasuries.

Q.—What was done to remedy their conditions?

A.—Some States resorted to one expedient, some another. Some formed Secret Societies to overawe the negro and keep him from the polls. But the only real relief found was in so amending their Constitution as to prevent the negro form registering and voting.

Q.—What has been the result in those States?

A.—The State Governments are in the control of a majority of the white people, the negroes are better citizens and good order and prosperity take the place of disorder and crime.

Q.—Which States have adopted these Amendments?

A.—Every Southern State in which there are any appreciable number of negroes, except Maryland.

Q.—Why should Maryland adopt such a measure?

A.—For the same reason that urged other Southern States to secure relief. To make certain our State Government will always be in the hands of a majority of the white people.

Q.—Why should anyone object to the rule of a majority of white electorate?

A.—There can be no objection except from individuals who desire to use the negro vote to advance their own political futures, and who know they cannot secure a majority of the white vote.

Q.—Would this result be good or evil?

A.—Every Southern State that has followed this policy will unquestionably say, it results in good.

Q.—In the thirty-five years the negro has been allowed to vote has he given any evidence of this ablility to use the ballot properly?

A.—No, he is voting today just as he did thirty-five years ago for Abraham Lincoln's nose and the Republican Party regadless alike of party principles or the fitness of candidates.

FOOTBALL SEASON OPENS.

Washington College opened the football season on Saturday afternoon with a second team game with the Baltimore City College eleven and were defeated by the score of 17 to 5. The W. C. boys outweighed their opponents, and notwithstanding the excellent coaching which they had received from Mr. Halbert, the new coach, the team work of the home eleven was somewhat off color, and is due largely to this being their first appearance in a game. The game was divided into 15 minute halves and from the start to the finish the play was snappy, especially on the part of the visitors. The City College boys scored a touchdown in the first five minutes. City College kicked off and the ball was advanced to their 20-yard line by W. C. W. C. failed to gain the required five yards and the Baltimore boys by a series of fine rushes sent Stock over the line for their first touchdown. Silkman kicked goal. At the close of the first half W. C. forced the pigskin dangerously near the City College goal, and the good playing of Hitch nearly brought a touchdown. In the second half W. C. played more aggressively but was only able to make one touchdown in the half. Hitch's noble efforts were rewarded but White failed to kick goal. During the latter part of the last half through poor interference by W. C., the City College kept the ball in W. C.'s territory, and a final touchdown was made by the Baltimoreans just as timekeeper Moore called time. The game ended with three touchdowns and two goals to the credit of City College and one touchdown to the credit of W. C. Score 17 to 5. The playing of Hitch for W. C. was decidedly the feature of the game.

Mr. George Rash recently refused an offer of $700 cash for his handsome trotting stallion, West Morrill, 2.23¼. The offer was made by a resident of Kent county.

WHAT THE SHOW PEOPLE SPENT.

Robbins Circus Not Only Gave a Good Performance, but Spent Quite a Good Sum of Money While in Town.

Robbins circus showed to large crowds in Chestertown on Monday and the general opinion is that it was one of the cleanest and best shows seen here in many years, and while the circus took considerable money from the town, it nevertheless left considerable behind as is shown by the following items·

Frank H. Greenwood, 2½ tons of hay	$27.00
Romie McCauley, 50 gallons milk	7.50
Thos. H. Topping, 200 lbs. bran	2.50
W. C. A. Thompson, provisions	60.00
E. D. Albaugh, 500 loaves bread cakes and pies	30.00
Mrs. Matthews, wood	3.00
Robert McWhorter, team hire	10.00
Robert Moffett, ½ beef	7.50
Hotel Imperial, board	25.00
J. S. Vandegrift, posting bills	40.00
One load straw	3.00
W. W. Hubbard, lot	15.00
Hotel Voshell, board	40.00
Jno. S. Vandegrift 100 bus. oats.	42.00
H. F. Jefferson, mdse	20.00
Other merchants and hardware stores.	50.00
Total	$384.50

This total, with other expenditures, of which we have been unable to learn will surely bring the total expenditures up to 400. The circus attracted one of the largest crowds to town in years, and all of our merchants report excellent sales for the day. Now, if we measure every person's satisfaction at the price of his ticket, the show financially was a benefit to the town.

Black Birds in Wheat.

Mr. John P. Cochran, of near Galena, was in Chestertown on Wednesday. Mr. Cochran says that black birds all over Kent county are committing serious depredations upon the recently planted wheat crop. Some days ago he noticed that there were hundreds of thousands of black birds in flocks lighting on his wheat which is now just about two inches above the ground. After a day or two he determined to investigate and to his suprise he found they had pulled up thousands of grains of sprouted wheat. He says farmers do not realize the harm done by these birds. This year they are pulling up the wheat in like manner as they do corn in spring. Mr. Cochran secured his gun and in one day thinks he killed at least a half of a bushel of the birds and a peach basket full the next day. This he says seems to have driven them from his farm temporarily. Mr. Cochran is regarded as one of the foremost farmers of Kent. Indeed a visit to his fine place, his friends say, will lead one to believe he is the neatest and best farmer in this section of the Eastern shore and his experience is worth looking into by those who have recently seeded their wheat.

Another Suit Against the Pennsylvania R. R. Co.

Mr. R. Bradford Johnson, son of Mr. Anthony H. Johnson, of near Massey, has entered suit against the Pennsylvania R. R. Co., for damages for loss sustained from an injury to goods shipped to him over the Pennsylvania Railroad Line. It seems that Mr. Johnson ordered six kitchen cabinets from the American Can Co., in Kansas city, Mo., in May last. After a delay of several weeks the railroad company notified him that the goods had been received at Golt's Station to which point they were consigned. Upon examination Mr. Johnson found they were so broken and damaged as to be useless. He therefore, declined to accept them. From May until September he endeavored to have the matter adjusted by the Pennsylvania R. R. Co. and finally was compelled to place the matter in the hands of Hope H. Barroll, Attorney. Suit has been brought against the Railroad Co. for the value of the cabinets. Mr. Johnson claims the Railroad Co. is liable for their damage, and should pay him their value.

Close Watch on Oyster Tongers.—The Board of Public Works has issued an order to the commanders of the State Fishery Force to keep a close watch on oyster tongers in their respective localities and see that all oysters caught are properly culled and the culls deposited on beds where caught. The Board was petitioned by a committee of Baltimore oyster packers to have the law strictly enforced. The packers are at last realizing the fact that their occupation is gone unless something is done to prevent the depletion of the bars. There have been no set of men who have given more encouragement to all classes of oystermen to market oysters under size than the oyster packers of Baltimore. Heretofore, in their greed, they have purchased all stock brought to market whether under size or not, thus disregarding the law themselves and encouraging others to do likewise. It is to be hoped the commanders will enforce the cull law to the letter.

State Bankers' Association.

The Maryland State Bankers' Association closed a most profitable and enjoyable annual session at Annapolis on Friday. The report of the nominating committe was unarimously adopted, and the following gentlemen were elected as officers of the association, to serve one year: president David Sloan, president of the Lonaconing Savings Bank, vice-president James R. Edmonds, vice-president National Bank of Commerce of Baltimore; S. T. Jones, cashier of the Garrett National Bank of Oakland; James E. Doll, president of the Frederickstown Savings Institution of Frederick; Wm. G. Baker, Jr., of Baker, Watts & Co. of Baltimore city; Wm. B. Copper, cashier of the Second National Bank of Chestertown; Charles S. Miller, of the Drovers and Mechanics' Bank of Baltimore; Albert D. Graham, assistant cashier of the Citizens' National Bank of Baltimore; Charles E. Fink, of Westminister Deposit and Trust Company; Charles H. Stanley, president of the Citizens National Bank, of Laurel, and John Mason, vice-president of the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank of Easton; secretary, Charles Hann, cashier of the National Mechanics' Bank of Baltimore. Treasurer, William Marriott, cashier of the Western National Bank of Baltimore.

The speech of Harrison W. Vickers, Esq., director of the Second National Bank, of Chestertown, in response to the address of welcome delivered by Gov. Warfield, was an able and interesting one, and will be published in full in the TRANSCRIPT next week.

Mr. Smith's New Position.

Mr. Chas. S. Smith, Chestertown's well-known enterprising citizen, has recently become interested in a concern of considerable magnitude and promise—The Climax Automatic Sales Company, of Washington, D. C. This company has been organized with a million dollars capital for the purpose of putting on the market and operating a newly patented automatic slot machine for vending chewing gum, confectioneries, etc. The machine is by far the simplest and most complete now on the market. It displays and sells twelve different one-cent and five-cent packages besides furnishing five pennies in exchange for a nickel. Mr. Smith has been made vice-president and general business manager of the company which will necessitate him spending most of his time away from home and possibly cause his removal from Chestertown in the no distant future. Other Chestertown citizens are interested in the company.

Real Estate Sales.

Mr. Simon Dishong, of Western Pennsylvania, has purchased of Mr. A. P. Solloway his farm of 67 acres at Hanesville. The sale was made by J. Waters Russell. Mr. Russell says there are other outside people who want Eastern Shore farms.

Mr. Charles S. Smith has sold the Hudgins property, on Cross street, which he is now remodeling, to Messrs. Wm. L. Fowler and Wm. C. Sutton. When the property is completed it will comprise two dwellings and storerooms and will be occupied by Mr. Fowler for his residence and wall paper business, and by Mr. J. E. Matthews as express office and residence.

Kent Island Narrows a Famous Fishing Resort.—Kent Island Narrows, Queen Anne's, has attained quite a reputation during the past few years, and especially this summer, as a fishing resort. Many fine catches have been made recently at this place and daily large numbers of sportsmen go there from Baltimore, Washington, and elsewhere. Last Sunday, we are reliably informed, 109 persons landed there on the morning train for the purpose of spending the day fishing. Last Thursday the train from Baltimore landed 57 passengers there for the same purpose. Messrs. P. T. Forman, D. G. Connolly and Spencer Newman, of this town, also spent Thursday at the Narrows and succeeded in landing over 60 fine rock.
