Death was due to an affection of kidneys. The deceased was wellknown in Chestertown and throughout the state both as an editor and educator. He was a graduate of St. John's College, class of 1880. In 1894 he was appointed school examiner for Anne Arundel county, which position he held at the time of his death. 300 Majority in Kent!

THE COUNTY IS SWEPT BY A UNITED PARTY FOR THE ENTIRE DEMOCRATIC TICKET AND THE AMENDMENT.

The Amendment Defeated in the State.

DR. ATKINSON WAS RE-ELECTED

Legislature Will be Democratic in Senate and House. Returns From Other Parts of the State.

Never in the history of the county has the Democratic party achieved such a splendid victory as that at the polls on Tuesday last. The disaffection in the Republican party was plainly manifested from the beginning of the campaign, and while the election of the Democratic ticket was practically assured from the day of the primaries, yet it was thought that the Republicans would be able to show more strength than was manifested by them on Tuesday. As a result of the election, the Democracy of Kent has a just reason to be proud, for it proves most conclusively that the splendid victory was accomplished through the efforts of a united party. Every man did his duty, and that is the story shortly told. It was simply a landslide to the Democratic party and means Democratic ascendancy for some years to come. Scarcely a more orderly and quiet election was ever held in the county, and not a single arrest for disorder was made in the entire county. The Republicans made their fight largely against the Amendment and even in this they were unsuccessful, as notwithstanding the entire negro vote which was polled against the Amendment and that it received the support of not a few white voters, the Amendment was successful in the county by a majority of only 27. This is not so large a majority as we had hoped for, but it is sufficient to prove that the white people of Kent county are in favor of white supremacy. If all the rest of the State had done so well as Kent did, the Amendment would have been carried.

The following is the unofficial count of the voters of the seven districts and precincts of the county:

The Amendment was defeated in Baltimore city by over 17,000 and throughout the State by 30,034. In the counties the measure fell way behind contrary to the expectations of the State managers. Only six counties gave a majority for the Amendment, these being, four on the Eastern Shore, Kent, Somerset, Wicomico and Worcester, and two, Alleghany and Howard, on the Western Shore. The fight on the Amendment is supposed to be largely responsible for the defeat of many of the legislature candidates in the city and counties.

DR. ATKINSON ELECTED.

Dr. Gordon T. Atkinson, candidate for Comptroller, is elected by a majority of 7,395. There was considerable gloom in Chestertown on the morning after the election when the news reached here from Baltimore that Dr. Atkinson had probably gone down in defeat with the Amendment. His election was received with manifestations of much pleasure. He is very popular in Kent.

MR. HANDY'S OPINION.

He Does Not Consider that the Result of Tuesday's Election Decided the Issue of Negro Suffrage in Maryland.

L. Irving Handy, of Wilmington, who was one of the speakers in the Maryland campaign, and who made a fine speech in favor of the Amendment here, is credited with the statement that he does not regard the result of Tuesday's election as deciding the issue of negro suffrage in this state. "The result was no surprise to persons in touch with the situation," said Mr. Handy. "When I was in Wilmington a week ago, I told several friends the amendment would be defeated. If you will take the speeches of opponents to the amendments and the newspapers you will find that not a voice was raised in defence of the negro suffrage. The speeches of Secretary Bonaparte, Mr. Mudd and others will bear this out. The objection of the Republicans and Independent Democrats was to the terms of the amendment. The Republican speakers argued that the amendment not only would disfranchise the negro but thousands of whites, especially foreigners who have become naturalized since 1869. This arrayed against the amendment, the Hebrews, Germans, Russians and other naturalized citizens in Baltimore and the state, who had no votes in their native lands.

"The second argument used against the amendment was that it would give to the registrars too much power to disfranchise men."

"Do you think there will be a recurrence of the fight to disfranchise the negro in Maryland?" Mr. Handy was asked.

"Yes, in this way," he replied. "The present Constitution of Maryland was formed in 1867, and provides that every 20 years the voters can pass upon the question of whether they desire a convention, to frame a new Constitution. In 1887 a new Constitution was rejected, and in 1907 another 20 years will have elapsed and the voters again will decide whether they desire a Constitutional Convention. The issue then cannot be the terms of negro disfranchising amendment or of a Constitution, but whether a new Constitution is wanted. That will give another opportunity for the issue of negro disfranchisement to be passed upon."

FOOT BALL.

Washington College first team went to Newark, Del., last Saturday and measured swords with the strong team of Delaware College. They were defeated by the score of 11 to 0. It was a well played game from start to finish, and was full of spirit and ginger. It was a hard game for W. C. to lose, as she played this same team a tie game on the College Campus several weeks ago.

The Washington College Reserves will play the strong team from the Polytechnic Institute, Baltimore, this afternoon on the College Campus at 2.45 o'clock. A good game is expected.
