LOCAL MATTERS.

Contract Awarded.—The contract for building the new administration building at Washington College was this week awarded to Messrs W. S. & A. M. Culp. The contract price for the building is about $35,000.00

New Hotel.—Mr. Willard S. Dill, who recently purchased the Armstrong Hotel, will open his house to the public on the 15th, next Friday. Mr. Dill will have a first class hostelry in every respect and will cater to permanent as well as transient trade. He will have an excellent cuisine, and the service will be up-to-date. The management of the hotel will be under the absolute supervision of Mr. Dill.

Quick Time.—As reported in the TRANSCRIPT last week, Capt. Wm. Crew, of Betterton, was shot in the foot last week while gunning with a party for ducks on the Susquehanna Flats. The wound was so serious as to demand Mr. Crew's immediate removal to a city hospital. He was taken to Havre de Grace and placed on board a special train which made the distance from Havre de Grace to Baltimore, 36 miles in 32 minutes. Mr. Crew is reported very much improved.

Mr. McGuigan Wins Case.—The appealed case of Mr. Bernard J. McGuigan against the P. B. & W. Railroad Company was decided by the court of appeals on Wednesday in favor of Mr. McGuigan. The decision was given by Judge Briscoe and sustains the verdict of the lower court, which gave Mr. McGuigan damages for $1200. R. D. Hynson and Wm. W. Beck, Esqs., argued the case for Mr. McGuigan while Marion deK. Smith, Esq., represented the Railroad Company.

Mr. Wm. S. Carroll Hurt.—Contractor Wm. S. Carroll was quite painfully hurt last Saturday while at work on the new barn on the farm of Mr. Edw. P. Jester in Lankford. Mr. Carroll was on the scaffolding when he stepped upon a board coated with ice. He lost his balance and fell a distance of twenty feet to the ground. He sustained painful injuries about the chest and body, and was considerably brusied about the hands and arms. He was brought to his home in town and Dr. H. Benge Simmons was summoned. An examination disclosed no broken bones, and Mr. Carroll is doing well.

Mr. Ireland is one of Philadelphia's largest dealers, and always looks after the interests of his Kent friends. His advertisement will be found among the commission cards on page 6.

OBITUARY.

MR. DENNIS J. NOWLAND.

Mr. Dennis J. Nowland, for a long number of years one of the best known farmers and citizens of the upper section of this county, died at his home, two miles from Middletown, Del., on Sunday afternoon at four o'clock, after a short illness of heart failure, aged about 64 years. But few men have lived in Kent county, who by his affable manner and generous disposition won such a host of friends as did the deceased. He was undoubtly one of the most popular men that ever resided in the upper section of the county, and his popularity was due to his large heartedness and to his desire to befriend somebody else. He was always interested in the social, religious and political affairs of the county and even after his removal, he retained that same interest in and love for those ties that he had left behind him. He was a Democrat of the best type, and many times was urged to become a candidate for office, but always prefered to keep out of political office. The deceased moved from the fine estate near Black's several years ago to Delaware and resided on the farm for many years occupied by his brother, the late Henry A. Nowland. In Delaware his many noble traits of character were recognized, and he was likewise very popular. Recently Mr. Nowland purchased a property in Middletown with an idea of giving up farming on account of ill health, and living a more retired life. He is said to have stated at the time that he doubted if he would live to occupy his new home in town. The deceased is survived by a number of relatives is Maryland and Delaware all of whom are prominent people. Mrs. Jervis Spencer and the families of Mrs. Harriet Welch and Mrs. Mollie Ireland, of Chestertown, are among the relatives. Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon. Interment was made in St. Anne's cemetery, Middletown. The pall-bearers were: Jefferson Ford, Middletwon; J. Herman Ireland, Baltimore; Senator Garrett Foxwell, Black's; Alexander Comegys, Middletown; Daniel Cochran, Middletown; Joseph Hanson, Middletown. A number of friends and relatives attended from this county.

THOMAS CRADDOCK.

Mr. Thomas Craddock, one of Chestertown's oldest and most highly esteemed citizens, died at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. James T. Dixon, on Wednesday morning, aged 88 years. The deceased was born in Cecil county, and lived there until about 1886, when he come to Kent county and made his home with his daughter, Mrs. James T. Dixon. Mr. Craddock has always been a practical Catholic, loved his religion and his church, and it never was too early, or the weather too inclement to keep him at home. He was charitable toward all and always ready to help any one in distress. He was conscious to the last, and, fortified and strengthened by the last rites of his holy religion, his last moments were as peaceful as the passing of the day. Funeral services were held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in Sacred Heart Church, Rev. J.J. McKenna officiating. Interment in Chester cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. John Bell, Romie McCauley, Samuel G. Maslin, Harry L. Boyd, Paul O. Massey and Wm. H. McKee. Undertaker John N. Dodd had charge of the funeral arrangement.

Suddenly on Dec. 6, in Baltimore, Zebulon, aged 25 years, son of Martha C. and the late George Z. Greenwood, and brother of Mrs. E. F. Kirwan, No. 2404 St. Paul street. The remains were brought to this county by the Tolchester boat to-day and interment made at St. Paul's. The family of Mr. Enoch Roland are related to the deceased. J. E. Ferguson funeral director.

Social Notes.

Miss Katherine Tarbutton, of Galena, gave a charming reception Thanksgiving evening to a few of her friends in honor of her guests, Miss Ogden and Mr. Wm. B. Tarbutton. The parlor of the home was beautifully decorated in red berries and pine. The dining room table was beautifully arranged in pink crape paper, in the center of which was a huge mass of pink and white carnations with ferns, tied with pink satin ribbon. The guests were invited into the dining room at twelve, when cream, cake, bananas, oranges, nuts, candy and grapes were served. Music was a prominent feature of the evening, rendered by Miss Ogden, who is an honor member of the Peabody Institute, Baltimore. Among those present were: Capt. and Mrs. George Tarbutton, Misses Gray, Merchant and Lane, Galena; Miss Ogden, Baltimore; Messrs. Wm. B. Tarbutton, Berwyn, Pa.; B. Vansant, Baltimore; Mr. A. Hyland, Dover Conference Academy, and Mr. Parks, of Dover, Del. The same party was entertained at a big turkey dinner and dance on Friday evening at the beautiful home "Sunny Lawn," of Miss Gray, near Galena.

Thanksgiving evening was spent in a most lively manner by a party of young folks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Rash, near Worton. Those present were: Misses Daisy Jones, Hettie Jarrell, Gertie Carter, May Webb, Myrtle Coleman, Della DeGruchey, Rebecca Tucker, Katie Fowler, Mabrey Rash and Miss Beatrice Maloney, of Wilmington Conference Academy; Messrs. Howard Carter, Wm. Holmes, Elmer Jones, Leonard Mann, Thomas Fowler, Marion Rash, Clarence Fowler, Charles Jones, Frank Benton, George Webb, Robert Jarrell, Jesse Coleman, Erdman Ayres and Roland Matthews.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jarman entertained a number of their friends most delightfully at their home, near Church Hill, on Wednesday evening of last week. The evening was spent in card playing and dancing and all present had a most enjoyable time. Those present were: Misses Ethel Clements, Viola Woodall, Bertha Barton, Annie Spry and Hattie Gray, Edgar Hurlock, Dr. Norman Dudley, Carroll McCollister, John Williamson and Ben Spry.

Mrs. Mary A. Rees and daughter, Miss May, entertained the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. Rees and a few of their young friends at supper on Wednesday of this week at their cosy home on Queen street. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jones and little daughter, Mary Rees, Mr. and Mrs. Lewin Skirven and little son, French, Miss Julia Burgess, Lillian Stevens, Mr. Harry Clark and Mr. Elwood Burgess. A very pleasant evening was spent.

Dog Case.

Judge Robert Caulder's court was occupied two evenings during this week trying a dog case. Mr. Charles E. Kirby, through his counsel, R. Groome Parks, sued the commissioners of Chestertown for the killing of a valuable rabbit dog belonging to him by officer Getshell. Mr. Kirby claimed that his dog was shot and illegally killed by the town's officer, therefore the town was responsible for his act. The commissioner's claim was that they were not responsible of Mr. Getshell's act as they did not authorize him to kill the dog.

It seems that the dog had been accidentally shot by Capt. Pheffer while gunning, and brought home and placed in the captain's yard. The dog escaped from the yard to the public street and was shot by officer Getshell, it was claimed, to end its misery. The judge rendered a verdict in favor of the defendants. A large crowd was in attendance at both sessions of the court. M. deK. Smith, Esq., represented the commissioners and Mr. Parks represented Mr. Kirby.

Wedding Bells.

GEMMILL—MOORE.

Mr. Josesh B. Gemmill, 514 East 20th street, Baltimore, a traveling salesman, was married on Wednesday, Nov. 29th to Miss Ruth Moore, daughter of Mr. Louis N. Moore, of Clarksville, Tennessee. The bride was attended by her matron of honor, Miss Sexton, of Clarksville, and was given away by her brother, Mr. Samuel Moore. The ceremony was performed in Nashville. Mr. and Mrs. Gemmill took a trip south, where they will reside. The groom is a son of Mr. Fred B. Gemmill, formerly of Kent county, and is well-known here.

CHURCH NOTES.

Kennedyville M. P. Church, Rev. R. S. Rowe, pastor. Public worship with preaching Sunday, Dec. 10th, at 10.30 A. M. and 7.00 P. M. Text for morning: "He thanked God and took courage." Text for evening: "Behold, God is mine helper."

The new chapel of the Holy Cross at Millington is nearing completion and the rector anticipates holding an opening service on Sunday, Dec. 31, to which the public is invited. The altar and chancel window have arrived and have been placed in the chapel. It is a very pretty church and the rector, Rev. Albert Ware and his parishoners are very proud of it. Contractors W. S. & A. M. Culp were the builders.

Re-opening services of Wesley Chapel M.P. Church have been postponed from last Sunday to to-morrow on account of the weather. Besides those ministers already advertised in the TRANSCRIPT to take part in the exercises, Rev. L. F. Warner, the popular pastor of Westminster M. P. Church, will be present and assist in the services.

St. James Sunday School held a delightful social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Davis in Flatlands on Tuesday evening. A sumptuous supper was served and a good sum was realized.

Harvest Home services were held in Worton M. E. Church on Thursday. Rev. W. L. White, of the Chestertown M. E. Church, delivered an interesting sermon and the church choir and congregation rendered special music.

Chestertown M. E. Church. Preaching at 10.30 A. M. and 7.30. P. M. Sunday school at 2.15 P. M. Epworth League meeting at 6.45 P. M. Morning subject: "God with us." Evening: "Solomon, the brilliant failure." All are cordially invited.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Coleman, of the Diocese of Delaware, will deliver one of his interesting lectures in the Parish House of Emmanuel P. E. Church on Wednesday evening, Dec. 13. This will be a rare treat.

St. James M. P. Church—There will be no preaching at St. James or Lynch's Church on Sunday. The pastor will be at Wesley Chapel assisting in the reopening of that church. The Sunday school and Christian Endeavor services in both churches will be held as usual.

At the county executive meeting of the W. C. T. U., held on Dec. 5th, it was voted "to request the TRANSCRIPT to publish the fine paper read by Mr. T. D. Bowers at the late convention held in Kennedyville."

She will attend the Sunday School in the afternoon. The Christian Workers' Song Service at 6.45 P. M.

Letters to Old Kris.

How strange it seems that little boys and girls only think of writting letters once a year to such a good old soul as Old Kris. Well, he is too busy to read letters more than once a year, and though he receives the TRANSCRIPT every Saturday, he only takes time to read the personals to see who's home and who's away, and to skim over the advertisements to see what our merchants are offering for sale. But just one week before Christmas he has all the little boys and girls' letters read to him that may be sent, and then he packs his great big bag and starts for Chestertown. Now if there is any little boy or girl in Chestertown, Kent, Queen Anne's or Cecil counties who would like to send Old Kris a letter through the TRANSCRIPT, we should be glad to publish it on Saturday, Dec. 23, so it will reach him by Christmas Eve. So boys and girls you will have two weeks in which to prepare your letter, and now let's have them by Monday, Dec. 18th, if you care to write them.

Homicide on Kent Island.

Joseph R. Price, a well-known farmer of Kent Island, was found in his corn field in an unconscisus condition Wednesday evening shortly before 7 o'clock with his skull fractured in several places. He died at 12.18 o'clock that night, without regaining consciousness.

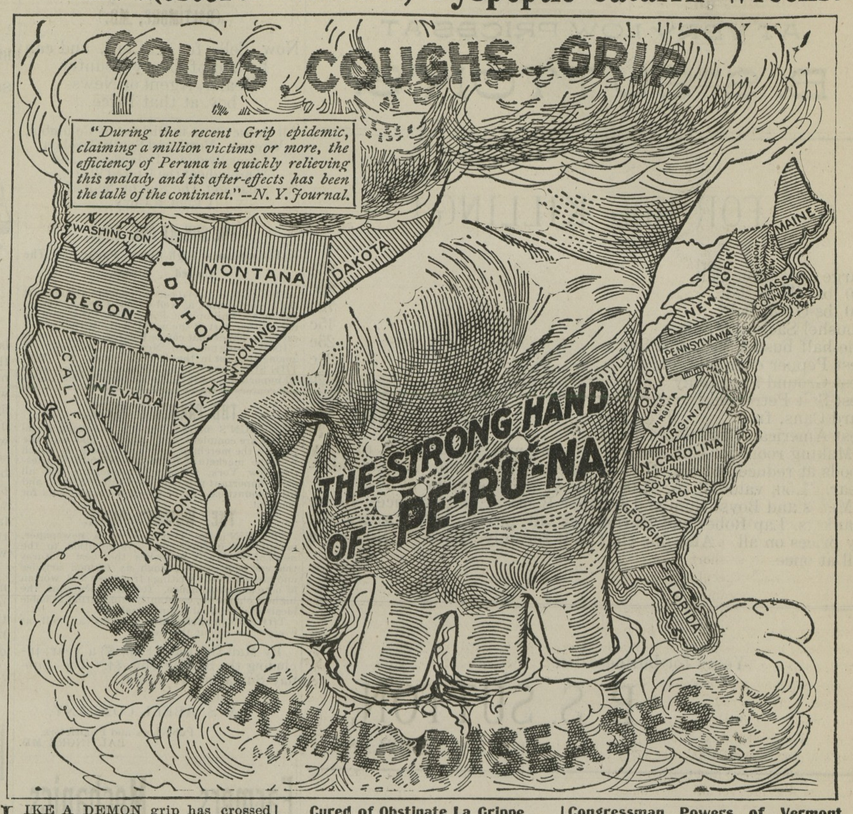

J. B. Lane, a well-known and highly respected young man appeared before Justice Philips between 6.30 and 7 o'clock the same evening and admitted having assaulted Mr. Price. Mr. Lane's brother, Burton, and Mr. Samuel Bullen went to the field where Lane stated the altercation had taken place, and found Mr. Price lying on the ground in an unconscious condition. He was taken to his home and a physician sent for, but died of concussion of the brain at the time above stated. There were no witnesses to the altercation between Mr. Price and Mr. Lane, which arose over the division of some corn.

A coroner's inquest was held and the following verdict rendered:

"That Joseph R. Price came to his death by a blow from a stick in the hands of J. Blanchard Lane, who wilfully and intentionally murdered said Price."

Mr. Price was 66 years old and Mr. Lane is a young man, and is a son of Mr. John Lane, who now holds the position of oyster inspector in Baltimore.

The Hand That Wards Off Coughs, Colds, Grip And Restores Nervous, Dyspeptic Catarrh Wrecks.

LIKE A DEMON grip has crossed our country, leaving behind scores of physical wrecks.

Victims of catarrh of the head, catarrh of the throat, catarrh of the lungs, catarrh of the stomach, catarrh of the kidneys, catarrh of the pelvic organs, are to be counted by hundreds of thousands.

Grip is epidemic catarrh, and sows the seed of chronic catarrh within the system.

This is so true that few grip sufferers are able to make a complete recovery until they have used Peruna.

Never in the history of medicine has a remedy received such unqualified and universal eulogies as Peruna.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Cured of Obstinate La Grippe.

Henry Distin, the inventor and maker of band instruments for the Henry Distin Mfg. Co., at Williamsport, Pa., is probably the most active old man in Philadelphia to-day. He writes from 1441 S. 9th street, Philadelphia, Pa.:

"I write to inform you that I had a bad attack of la grippe last December which lasted more than three months, and which left me with catarrh, and several of my friends advised me to try your wonderful medicine, Peruna.

"I began with a bottle the first week in March and it certainly did me a great deal of good.

"I was so well satisfied that I purchased another bottle, and followed your directions which you furnish with every bottle, and I am glad to say that it has cured me. I shall certainly recommend the Peruna to all my friends."—Henry Distin.

Congressman Powers of Vermont Uses Pe-ru-na in His Family.

Hon. H. Henry Powers, writes from Morrisville, Vt.:

"Peruna I have used in my family with success. I can recommend it as an excellent family remedy, and very good for coughs, colds and catarrhal affections."—H. Henry Powers.

Pe-ru-na For Catarrhal Nervousness and Stomach Troubles.

Hon. W. J. Purman, ex-member of Congress from Florida, writes from 1422 Q street, N. W., Washington, D. C.:

"From representations to me, and from my own experience, I feel justified in recommending your Peruna to any and all persons suffering with catarrhal nervousness or stomach troubles."—W. J. Purman.

MILLINGTON MATTERS.

The new hotel is nearly ready for occupancy. The painters are giving it the finishing touch, and Mr. B. F. Vansant, the proprietor, will soon move in. Mr. Vansant managed the one which stood on the same site previous to the fire. Our little town can boast of two beautiful hotels that no town on the peninsula can excel. Mr. J. E. Bailey is proprietor of the other, and both are furnished with every equipment for the comfort of the guests. They are both up-to-date, commodious buildings in every sense of the word, and present a most pleasing effect upon entering the town. The new hotel is on the corner of Cypress and Sassafras street, while Hotel Bailey is on the opposite corner of the same streets.

We are glad to say that Mr. Roy C. Stafford, who has been seriously ill with typhoid fever for several weeks at the home of his parents near town, is slowly convalescing. His many friends are anxious to see him out again and hope for his speedy recovery.

With Our Advertisers.

Medder's & Co's big Christmas supplement to the TRANSCRIPT will appear in next week's issue. Wait for it, and you'll find an endless variety of bargains in the immense Christmas stock.

Hague, Hackett & Turner, Still Pond's hustling merchants, have an interesting advertisement in this morning's paper. Look it up and read it. It will pay you to deal with such square people.

Joseph H. Porter, on the Reese Beck farm, near Worton Manor, has a sale of personalty on Wednesday, Dec. 27. See editorial page for particulars.

Clifton L. Jarrell's immense sale will continue for a few weeks longer. The bottom has been knocked clear out of prices this week, says the advertisement, and the large and elegant stock is going rapidly. His large advertisement on page 8 this morning will furnish you all particulars in the matter. Today will be a big day. Go in and take a look and get something fine.

M. A. Toulson's fine display of Christmas goods is as fine as any seen in Chestertown in years. His shelves are full of useful and beautiful articles for Christmas and it will pay you to see them.

Mr. Jas. H. Sides, the jeweler has a magnificent display of Christmas silver, fancy ornaments, etc. His store is a perfect "scintillation" of beauty and richness. He can satisfy the most fastidious with beautiful presents.

There is scarely a finer display of Christmas goods, toys, books, ornaments, etc., on the peninsula than those to be displayed by the Stam Drug Company (Mrs. Annie H. Stam) on and after Dec. 9. You will miss something great if you fail to visit this popular store for your christmas presents.

An Emergency Medicine.

For sprains, bruises, burns, scalds and similiar injuries, there is nothing so good as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It soothes the wound and not only gives instant relief from pain, but causes the parts to heal in about one third the time required by the usual treatment. Sold by M. A. Toulson, druggist.

MARRIED.
