Hadaway Bros. killed two large coons near Chestertown last Friday night. One weighed sixteen pounds.

The mercury on Saturday went up to 66 degrees and on Tuesday a snow storm raged for six hours.

The offices in the Court House where ladies are employed each have beautiful blooming flowers.

Johnson Bros. caught the first herring in Chester river last week.

Capel and Howard caught a 35-pound carp in their nets in Chester river last week.

The Board of Town Commissioners received the resignation of Wm. Needles, the town carter, last week. His place will be hard to fill. He has bought a pair of horses and a wagon and will do general hauling.

The Maryland Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals had a representative in Chestertown this week. They have succeeded in persuading Thomas F. Healey, Esq., of Chestertown, to act as agent. Mr. Healy will be glad to receive any information as to the violation of the law.

The will of Clinton W. Wroth was filed for probate in the Orhans' Court for Kent County Tuesday. Thomas G. Wroth is named executor and trustee. The estate consists of $33,000 to be divided in equal parts among Miss Edna Wroth, Mrs. Wm. Wright and Thomas G. Wroth. The inheritance tax on this estate amounts to about $1,600.

Walter B. Strong, who has for years been considered one of our earliest and most successful farmers, is still holding his own in this particular, for he has planted a variety of corn known as "The Lily of the Valley" which is now 6 inches tall and is growing fast even the frosts and recent snow has not effected same in the least.

Centreville is to have one more industry added to its ranks, in the form of an ice and ice cream manufacturing plant, which is to be opened in the creamery building, on Commerce street opposite the local water works. The building was purchased by John Palmer Smith, who states that he expects to have the plant under way within thirty days.

Fire broke out about 11 p. m., on Thursday night in the large warehouse of the Marvil Package Company, situated on Clarke avenue, near the site of the old N. Y. P. & N. Railroad passenger station, at Pocomoke City. Two large warehouses and a hardware house were burned, entailing a loss of between $15,000 and $20,000, with likely enough insurance to cover nearly the whole amount. There were 110,000 baskets, crates and hampers stored in the sheds, and about $1,000 worth of hardware in the store room.

Melting of the Bay ice has caused it to move out without the aid of artificial means. In its shifting the ice swept away one of the Proving Ground observation towers off Howell's Point, from which the effects of firing at the Post are studied. While the tower was of minor value it is said an English instrument worth over $2,000 went down with the wreckage. To an individual this would be a hard blow, but in the case of the government we presume it is little more than a matter of inconvenience.

The Chester river steamboat has resumed its trips—leaving Baltimore Tuesday and Thursday mornings at 11 o'clock, and Chestertown Wednesday and Friday at 7.30 o'clock.

A slight fire occurred at the home of Wm. Capel on Kent street and owned by M. A. Toulson, on Friday night last. Owing to the illness of neighbors, Mrs. J. B. McIntire and Mrs. Emma Miller, the alarm was not sounded. The fire was extinguished by Mr. Capel, assisted by William Lee and Grover Hadaway.

The Washington College Basketball team, Maryland State champions were entertained at dinner on Monday evening by Coach and Mrs. J. T. Kibler.

On Wednesday evening several of Chestertown's prominent business men entertained the squad with ice cream and cake at Sterling's Pharmacy after which they were invited to the Lyceum Theatre to see Wallace Reid in "The Charm School" as guest of the management.

On Friday evening prior to the game with the Salisbury team they were given a luncheon and smoker by the alumni of that town.

For five years previously she was employed in a clerical capacity with the duPont Company among whose present personnel much enthusiasm for her nomination is afloat.
