A BIG LIBEL SUIT

Mrs. Donald Hooker, Well-Known In Kent Sues The Sun For Alleged Libel—A Woman With A Ready Mind A Match For Lawyers—Chestertown Lady Proves An Important Point.

Mrs. Donald R. Hooker, who is suing the A. S. Abel Company for $100,000 for alleged libel, spent part of Tuesday on the stand reading excerpts from her book, "The Laws of Sex," under the guidance of her counsel. The case is being heard before Judge Heuisler and a jury in Superior Court, Part 1, Baltimore.

After two and one-half days of gruelling direct and cross-examination, Mrs. Hooker left the stand at noon.

Before Mrs. Hooker took the stand Tuesday morning, Mrs. Addie H. Hurlock, Chestertown, wife of the editor of the Kent News, took the stand to testify that the alleged libel—an article in which Mrs. Hooker was quoted as saying in effect that she had no objection to white women marrying men of other races—was contained in the county edition of The Baltimore Sun, which went to Chestertown, February 22, 1922. Mr. Howard, after some passages between counsel, admitted, without argument, that the second county edition of the Sun went to Chestertown. This point, however, was denied until this evidence was produced. Mrs. Wm. T. Brown, accompanied Mrs. Usilton to Baltimore.

Resolutions Of Respect

Whereas, we, the members of the Official Board of the Chestertown M. E. Church, desire to express our appreciation and esteem for our fellow member, who, in the Province of God, has preceded us in the crossing of the river.

Resolved, That we, in the way of our tribute to his exemplary character, humility, piety, and to his deep and rich experience of intimate fellowship with his Maker and Lord, which we believe he enjoyed, express our keen feeling of sorrow and loss in his demise. And

Resolved, That we desire to extend to the members of his family our sympathy and condolence in their grief and loss. And

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, a copy published in each of the county papers, and a record of same be made in the minutes of the Official Board.

Resolutions Of Respect

Whereas, it has pleased our all wise Heavenly Father to remove from our midst our well beloved brother Thomas S. Bordley. And

Whereas, we recognize that in the death of brother Bordley the community has lost a broad minded citizen, an intelligent business man, a kindhearted neighbor, and a devout Christian. And

Whereas, we believe that in every relationship of life brother Bordley faithfully endeavored to exemplify the true character of our Lord and Master through a long term of service as a consistent member of the M. E. Church of Chestertown, Md., thus endearing himself to a large constituency of friends and neighbors, making his place both as citizen and churchman hard to fill. Be it therefore

Resolved, That we the members of the Official Board of the M. E. Church of Chestertown, Md., do hereby wish to express a deep sense of our loss in Brother Bordley's death, also desire to extend to the members of his family our heartfelt sympathy in this time of trial. And be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, that the resolutions be published in the county papers, and a record of same be made by our Secretary in the minutes of our official Board meeting.

LIKE A NEW MAN STATES MARINER

Ship's Engineer Declares He Sailed Into Right Port When He Got Tanlac.

"Tanlac is certainly a great medicine, and there are a number of others on the ship besides myself taking it," said John O. Knudsen, well known marine engineer, living at 1908 Collington Ave., Baltimore, Maryland.

"I had suffered from constipation for a long time, and always felt tired and draggy. I was afraid to eat solid food, for it seemed like a lump in the pit of my stomach and caused awful spells of pain and heartburn. Gas would make me pant for breath, and I had terrible headaches and dizzy spells. I had no appetite, couldn't half sleep, and although I took what seemed like enough medicine to float a battleship I couldn't get any better.

"But I sailed into the right port when I struck the Tanlac treatment, for a course of six bottles has me feeling like a new man. I have a fine appetite now, am free from indigestion, sleep like a top, and have gained five and a half pounds. Tanlac is good enough to tell everybody about."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold. —Adv.

Fire broke out on the roof of the H. D. Orem & Son's big factory last week, but the blaze was extinguished without calling out the fire department. Mr. Orem and some of his men climbed on the roof and put out the fire. This is the third blaze to start in the town within a week.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving remembrance of my dear husband, John O. Legg, who departed this life March 18, 1921.

Gone from earth, yes gone forever,
Tear-dimmed eyes shall gaze in vain,
We shall hear his voice never,
Never more on earth again.

Home is sad, oh God, how dreary,
Weary, lonesome, every spot,
Listening for his voice till weary,
Call him for we hear it not.

Each hour has come to me anew
With bitter sense of loss.
O God, in mercy pity me,
And help me bear my cross.

By His Wife.

Oh, Father, smile on me from Heaven,
Ask God to lead me when I die,
That I may meet my dear father
Some day, by and by.

By His Daughter, Grace Legg.

A Word About Wages

This Company's largest item of expenditure is for wages; it constitutes about two-thirds of the total expense of the business. Our aim is to pay our employees a wage that will keep them loyal to their task and zealous in their efforts to furnish service that will satisfy our patrons.

In a system such as ours where the service is largely a personal service, an attempt to keep to the lowest possible point the wages paid the employees who furnish this service may be false economy, because to give good service there must be high morale, loyalty and enthusiasm.

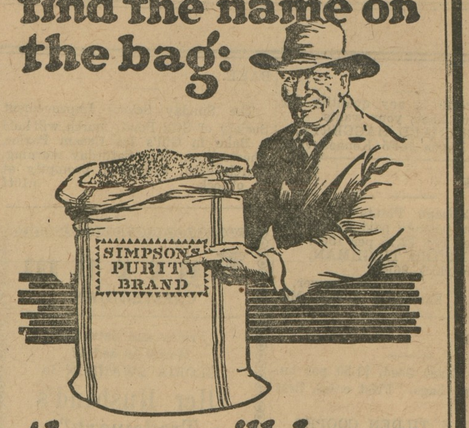

During the period following the World War, it was this Company's policy to advance wages only to such levels as we expected to be able to maintain. This policy has been amply justified by the results. We have now a more permanent force working more efficiently than ever before, which has resulted in substantial economies for the benefit of our patrons.

In 1918, the Company had one employee for every 38 telephones; now we have one employee for every 46 telephones. While there has been a 23% increase in the number of telephones, there has been a slight decrease in the number of employees. Thus, with a smaller number of employees than in 1918, we are furnishing service to a greatly increased number of patrons.

This increase in the efficiency of our employees has also resulted in a greatly improved service to the public, and our records show that at no time in the history of the Company has the service we are furnishing been better than at present.
