MRS. EARLS TELLS WOMEN

How Backache and Periodic Pains Yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Olean, N. Y. — "Every month my blood would go to my head and I would have such a headache, nosebleed, backache and pains that I could not do my work. At night I could not get my rest and nothing seemed to do me any good. I read some of your testimonials about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others, so I decided to try it. I had only taken two bottles when I began to be better, and my back did not hurt me nor my head ache. I felt like a new woman. The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine and I will always recommend it."—Mrs. A. D. EARLS, 530 N. 5th St., Olean, N. Y.

Mrs. Kelsey adds her Testimony

Copenhagen, N. Y.—"I read your advertisement in the papers and my husband induced me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to get relief from pains and weakness. I was so weak that I could not walk at times. Now I can do my housework and help my husband out doors, too. I am willing for you to publish this letter if you think it will help others."—Mrs. HERBERT KELSEY, R.F.D., Copenhagen, N.Y.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

It was only after years of research in the fields of herbs and roots for a combination of purely vegetable matter that would have all the virtues of Castor Oil, without its disagreeable, nauseating properties, especially when used for infants or children, that the formula used in Fletcher's Castoria was found, and which for over 30 years has proven its worth. Try it.

A VISIT TO CUBA

After going over Florida to Key West we went aboard the steamer Governor Cobb at the Peninsular & Occidental Steamship Co. docks, and sailed for Havana, one hundred miles from Key West. The steamer was crowded, many Americans going over to attend the horse races. It was a rough trip so most of the ladies kept their state roms.

On arriving in Havana all passengers were examined by a physician before landing, and our baggage inspected by custom house officials we were permitted to go out to the waiting taxies. It was then we realized we were truly in a foreign country. Taxie drivers, baggage men and boys waiting to carry your bags, all talking Spanish, and all talking at the same time and each one trying to outdo the other. We were fortunate in having friends to meet us or I do not know how we would have reached our hotel as none of us spoke Spanish.

The one English word the taxi men know, however, is money. Our hotel was situated on Havana's famous driveway, the Pardo, the only wide street in the city, and runs from the Park through the city to a sea wall where one can look across the harbor to Morro Castle, a Spanish fortress which was completed in the year 1597. It was in this harbor the United States battleship Maine was blown up in 1898.

The building regulations require ceiling s to be 27 feet high, so as I had a single room, ten by twelve feet. I felt as if I was sleeping in a tube turned on one end. Very little window glass was used in Cuba before the Americans went there so, instead of windows, each room has double doors, twelve feet high, opening on a small porch. Most of the roofs in Havana leak, but as all floors are tile the water is swept in drain pipes in the floors put there for that purpose.

There are many curious customs in Havana. One afternoon we went to Colon Cemetery and while there saw eight funerals enter. The Cuban hearse is black, decorated in top with high urns and statues. It is drawn by black horses, the number of horses determines the rank of the person. No women attend funerals in Cuba. The tombs are built but little below the surface, are cemented on the inside and covered with slabs at the top. After two years if the rent is not paid regularly, the bones are taken out and thrown on the bone pile in one corner of the cemetery.

Before Americans went to Cuba this bone pile was open to the view of the public, but now it is enclosed in a wall and acid is used.

The postoffice is two hundred and fifty years old. It is an old Cathedral but when the English captured Havana years ago, horses were qaurtered in it so it was never used for a church again.

February 24th was Independence Day in Cuba and all business houses closed. It was a general holiday for everyone but the hotel and barroomkeepers.

Sunday the 25th a carnival was held which lasted far into the night, after which a ball was held which lasted until morning. The costumes were of the most brilliant colors. All Saturday and Sunday nights the revelry kept up. I never fully appreciated our quiet American Sabbaths as much as I did then. I was glad I was an American citizen and could come back home where people go to God's house and such revelry is not seen.

Havana is a beautiful city, but its people have much to learn to make it an ideal city in which to live.

A KENT COUNTIAN.

Restocking Bay With Fish.

Beginning next week, W. Grove Bell, fish expert for the State Conservation Commission, will begin a campaign on the Eastern Shore of restocking bay tributaries with commercial fish.

This is one of the yearly activities of the department. Bell will begin his work in the Susquehanna section at the earliest of the catches. The system followed is the purchase of fish eggs from fishermen at the stations. They are then put in boxes of water of the proper temperature where they are hatched. Then they are released from the station by agents with whom they are left.

The stations which Bell will visit are Perryville, Perryman, Rock Hall, Still Pond Creek, Crumpton and Denton. The principal commercial fish that will be put out this year through the hatcheries will be the white perch, the yellow perch and shad. Millions of fish will be released in Maryland waters through this system.

Bell intends to experiment with Alaskan salmon this year. They are now being hatched out in the hatcheries. They will be eventually released in the Susquehanna river. This is the first time that the department has ever experimented with this variety of fish.
