ROCK HALL

The grim monster sure has a strangle hold on the citizenry of this community. Another worthy man in the person of Columbus Kendall, died the past week after a long illness.

The oystermen of Chester river went on a strike last week because the buyers refused to pay but twenty cents per bushel for the catch; the buyers realizing the set determination of the tongmen, soon came to terms and paid 25 cents. The city market bottom seems to have completely dropped out as a consequence, the buyers here are running their cargoes down the bay for planting. The outlook for plants are bright and there is considerable demand for plants. One company near Crisfield wants 80,000 bushels and demands in other parts of the lower bay are equally active.

Susquehanna ice completely blocked the mouth of Chester rive the latter part of last week. A number of our oyster runners with loaded vessels attempted to make their run down the bay, but were compelled to put back into harbor. Tongers were considerably handicapped by new ice in the creeks, their boats were badly cut by the half inch ice. One fellow had his boat cut through and had to go ashore and patch up.

John Coleman, of Wm., has rented Huntingfield Point, where he will prosecute his fishing business and raise poultry.

S. W., one of our young (?) sports, seems much putout by recent marriage of some of his lady friends while he was absent from his home locality

Old Jupeter Pluvious has been sorely trying the patience of the people hereabout. Working time is on, but we can't do anything but lay around, grin and bear it. Blue birds, black birds, robins, fish hawks and other harbingers of spring are here, but that is all the comfort we have, as to weather.

T. L. Rich has succeeded between rains in putting a new roof on the south wing of his dwelling.

Another most beloved citizen went to the Great Beyond on Tuesday, Capt. J. B. Willson. Funeral took place Thursday morning at St. John's R. C. Church.

The meeting of the Boys Brigade Friday evening was formally opened by Charles Parsons. Thirteen enthusiastic boys were enrolled. Elwood Taylor was elected secretary and Bayard Ayres, treasurer. The other officers will be elected later. The next meeting will be held Friday evening in the M. E. Church, which is fostering the movement, but the organization is non-sectarian. All boys from 12 to 20 years are invited to join as active members and from 9 to 12 as reserves. The Boys Brigade is not a military organization but might be termed a 2-in-1 movement having for its objects the advancement of Christ's Kingdom among boys and the promotion of habits of obedience, reverence, discipline, self-respect, and all that tends toward true Christian manliness. This is accomplished by military drills, gymnastic and athletic exercises, social and educational classes and Bible drill. Their emblem is an anchor and their motto "Sure and Steadfast."

Capt. and Mrs. Joshua Thomas and family were recently returning from Grasonville when the car caught fire in Chestertown. They telephoned for their son, Lucien Thomas, to come tow them home. While doing so the loaded car skidded and overturned in a ditch near Sandy Bottom, but happily no one was injured.

Twenty young friends gave Elwood Taylor a birthday surprise party on Friday evening, February 28, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James T. Taylor.

GET RID OF GARLIC

Now is the time for farmers to take preventive measures against the garlic flavor that makes its appearance in the milk. The wise farmer will take the simple precaution necessary each spring, rather than allow an unpleasant flavor to appear in his milk, thus losing him sales.

The warning is sent out by C. I. Cohee, Jr., head of the Quality Control Department of the Inter-State Dairy Council, the educational organization of the dairy interests supplying Philadelphia and nearby paints.

Last spring as much as twenty-five per cent of the milk was turned back to the farmer daily, because of the garlicy flavor. Two years ago one company lost 20,000 quarts in sales in one week, simply because the garlic flavor was evident in the milk.

For this reason dealers are compelled to be rigid in their demands for milk free from all foreign flavors. The farmer should not expect to sell milk even slightly flavored with garlic. Even though it may pass his own inspection it may be condemned by the purchaser's inspection, who has an especially trained sense of smell.

It is quite necessary to take steps that will eliminate, as nearly as possible, the unpleasant garlic flavor, declares Mr. Cohee.

The prevention measures are simple, requiring only ordinary precautions. The farmer should delay turning his cows out to pasture in the spring until sufficient growth of grass can be found for the cattle without causing them to rely on garlic for food.

A good plan, when starting the pasture season, is to turn out one cow first, and only for a short period of time, using the milk of this cow for home consumption alone. If the milk is found to be flavored with garlic, cut down the hours of pasturage, and continue cutting down until the point is reached where there is no longer any foreign flavor. Then and not until then, treat the remainder of the herd in the same manner.

As a rule, cows cannot be left out more than two hours immediately after milking without the milk becoming flavored with grass or garlic.

DRYS WIN IN NEW YORK ASSEMBLY BY 74 TO 70

After hours of debate which dragged Tuesday night's session of the New York Assembly into early morning hours the lond heralded record vote on the merits and demerits of prohibition was taken and tre "wets" lost.

The vote came on Assemblyman Louis A. Cuvillier's motion to discharge the committee on excise from further consideration of his bills designed to repeal the Mullan-Gage enforcement statutes. It was defeated 74 to 70.

Defeat of the motion is accepted to mean the end of the effort to repeal the laws for this year at least. After the session, "wet leaders" admitted defeat and intimated that no further efforts would be made to again bring the matter before the house.

The Salisbury water system came in for another rigil condemnation at the meeting of the Mayor and City Council last week. Although no action was taken, it was plainly evident that steps must be taken in a comparatively short time, to seek a redress for the status of the system which, it is charged, provides for neither an adequate supply of water for fire fighting purposes nor for home consumption. The first phase was the subject of an attack by City Engineer F. H. Dryden, speaking before the Council when he declared that the citizens of Salisbury are being penalized by the fire insurance companies from seven to eight thosand dollars per year on account of its water system which, together with the hydrant rentals now being paid to the Salisbury Water Company, capitalized at a fair borrowing rate would be equivalent to an investment of $170,000. Two industries alone are paying excess premiums for insurance due to the water supply, representing capital investments of $50,000.
