WILL IT COME?

Men are talking of the next war. Some declare it inevitable and near at hand. There are doubtless those who would like to see it come. Whether anything would be left of them, or of civilization, should another world war start, they do not consider. Much war talk is propaganda, to use a nearly wornout word. Never, as during this past summer, have we been convinced of the untrustworthiness of the reports to be found in our newspapers concerning conditions across the water. The most of these reports are inspired by some interest seeking its own end. One often may find in the same issue of the same paper two contradictory stories of personal visits of Russia, or Germany, or France, or Turkey. Some of the war talk in America is to frighten us into increasing our preparations for war. But we have not the slightest idea of another war as imminent. Europe is as good as bankrupt. Besides the consciousness of her politiciatns that financial ruin is staring her in the face, her people have had all the war they purpose to have. Those who "pay in peace and dies in war" are no longer willing like dumb beasts to be prodded into front lines and mowed down by cannon, or sent into slimy trenches to play hide and seek with death. This last war has determined the multitudes who have usually been marched on to the battlefield to be shot, in place of the rulers who started the quarrel, to have something to say themselves about this method of settling the differences between nations.

What may happen in distant years, no man knows, but, unless all sanctity and sense vanish from the minds of the world's best business men, and humanity goes mad, another European war is not near at hand. There have been other dark hours when men have despaired and prophesied only evil, yet a better day has dawned and the world moved onward.

Let us not forget, little as modern nations have recognized it during recent years in their councils, that there is One who "hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation; that they should seek the Lord, if happily they might feel after Him and find Him." And find soon or late they will.

MR. DAIRYMAN:

Why be bothered with a feed shortage every spring. Why keep 20 cows when 10 good cows will give more milk. Why keep the cow that gives 3,000 to 5,000 pounds of milk per year when the cow that gives 7,000 to 10,000 pounds, take no more stable room. Why not get a Reg. Holstein Bull with 2,000 years of breeding back of him to head your herd and raise some good cows.

We have a few Bulls left, sired by our great year record Bull, whose dam made 24,400 pounds of milk and 1,219 pounds butter in one year.

The Boys' Calf Club show heifer Bess, has just made a 7-day record of 460 pounds milk and 20.2 pounds butter which stamps her as one of the best 2-year-olds in the State. Her dam has a Sr. 3-year-old record of 578 pounds milk, 24.5 pounds butter. Both bred and raised in our herd.

A RUMOR CORRECTED

Persistent rumors have been in circulation in this section for some time that Messrs. A. S. Turner & Sons have been informing on violators of the automobile laws. The following letter speaks for itself:

Commissioner of Motor Vehicles,
Baltimore, Md.
Messrs. A. S. Turner & Sons,
Chestertown, Md.
My Dear Mr. Turner:

I beg to acknowledge receipt of your communication of March 16 in reference to the various statements that have been made in an attempt to place you in an embarrassing position before the resilents of your county.

In my opinion it is the duty of every citizen of the State to report all infractions of the law. While I cannot recall any instance where you have made such reports to this Department, I do believe that the best interests of the county would be served if recklessness and other infractions were reported in order that some effort could be made to remedy such conditions.

The alleged statement that this Department had reimbursed you for furnishing information is absolutely absurd, and I am sure will be treated as such by all well-thinking citizens.

Very truly yours,
E. AUSTIN BAUGHMAN,
Commissioner.
