Kent News

SATURDAY, APRIL 14, 1923

The American and News, of Baltimore, have been sold to William Randolph Hearst, of New York. He owns papers in 14 cities. The price is said to be about $1,200,000.

An election for Town Commissioner will be held in Chestertown on Monday, April 23rd, to succeed Chas. N. Satterfield whose three year term expires May 1st. The News is glad announce Mr. Satterfield's willingness to serve another term. He has made a faithful, energetic and progressive commissioner. Chestertown is fortunate in getting his consent to serve longer in this capacity.

It is regret mingled with pleasure that we note the removal of Rev. Omar E. Jones from Chestertown. Regret that he leaves a people united in his return and pleasure at his promotion. He will reside in Middletown and get a salary of $3,600 whereas here his salary was $2,100. May the work grow under his ministration.

Recommendations for a general revision of the designs of all paper money have been almost completed by a special committee of Treasury officials and are expected soon to be turned over to Secreatry Mellon. If the findings of the committee are adopted the two-dollar bill—shunned by the gambler and mutilated by the superstitious to rid it of any ill-omen will be the first go.

The News adds its warning to the newspapers of Baltimore which are now carrying advertisements warning the public to book orders for next winter's coal. They suggest that bins be filled "as soon as possible." They assert that the supply everywhere is depleted and that the miners' working agreement will expire September 1, 1923, and that "no one can forecast the result." The price is likely to be 50 cents per ton cheaper May 1st.

The Supreme Court says a minimum wage law for women is unconstitutional. Congress tried to guarantee women and girls working in the District of Columbia enough money to live on. But the great court says "No." The same Supreme Court that calls a woman's minimum wage law unconstitutional recently announced that big profits for a gas company are highly constitutional. The people of New York were forbidden to regulate the price of gas because that might keep the gas company from making reasonable dividends. All that is confusing to those that combine deep respect for the Supreme Court with a vague idea that it is just as important to pay a girl enough to live on as it is to pay a gas stock owner enough dividends to pay for travel in Europe.

BETTER NOT SAY IT!

Bad news travels faster than good news. There is an old saying. "No news is good news." Let a man be converted at a church service and there is not much of a stir, but let a resident be convicted of some crime and the news leaps by word of mouth from one end of the community to the other.

How thoughtlessly unkind we sometimes are when neighbors of ours suffer misfortune! Troubles are bound to come to us all in some shape or form and what we say about our friends and acquaintances today may apply to us tomorrow. News is no respector of persons.

We are prone to consider the ways of others not our ways when we should be watching our own step. What folks say of one another sometimes hurts more than anything they could have done. News, either good or bad, grows and becomes exaggerated and distorted with peddling. When the news is good it makes no material difference how it is exaggerated or distorted—it can never do anyone positive harm. But bad news, given wings, may bring sorrow and ruin upon people who certainly are not deserving of a punishment beyond the penalty of their mistake.

More charity for others will mean more charity for ourselves and we will gradually come to take a keener delight in reporting something good of some person than something bad. Good is constructive, bad is destructive. Just before you are about to let out a bit of bad news," stop and think a moment. See if you can't think of something good to say in place of it. The chances are ten to one that you can and you will.

The assessment which has just been completed in Kent county, shows an increase in valuation of property, both real and personal, of nearly two million dollars. This increase will give an additional income to the schools of about $11,000 and to the road fund of about $4,000.

The increase in each district is fairly in proportion to each other, which fact speaks well in proving that the assessment has been made on a uniform basis, at least, a strong effort was made by the Board of Review to make it so. Below is tabulated the figures of both the old and new valuation in all districts so that the News readers may make their own comparison:

Paint for this house less than $19.00

IT takes but 5 gallons of Certain-teed paint for two good coats on a house like this (30' x 35'). That means less than $19 for the paint. When you consider the high cost of building today and how little paint it takes to protect the dollars now invested, can you afford to put off painting? Whether house, garage or interior work, come in and let us estimate the paint it takes. Our estimates always call for Certain-teed. When you dip in a brush and start to spread, you know why we recommend it.

WE recommend Certain-teed because it gives our customers more for their money. Our experience is that Certain-teed has more body and wears longer than ordinary paint.
