FLY "OLD GLORY" TODAY

Chestertown will be visited by representatives from down the Shore. The least the business men can do is to display flags. Let the college town, bank and other business places fling Old Glory to the breezes in honor of the boys who will be here to compete in the games at the college.

EASTERN SHORE CONTEST

Washington College was the scene last night of the Eastern Shore Interscholastic Declamation Contest. The speakers were James Roe, Queen Anne's; Miss Edwina Anderson, Somerset; George C. Messick, Caroline; Miss Mary Boulden, Cecil; Miss Margaret Arringdale, Talbot; Watkins Crowe, Dorchester; Miss Marian Collins, Kent; Barton Smith, Worcester. The judges were Dr. A. S. Hall, Prof. W. R. Howell, Prof. D. A. Cannaday. Music was furnished by Chestertown Orchestra, C. A. Bacon, director.

AMERICAN LEGION MAY 30

The following program is planned for Decoration Day in Chestertown: Decoration of graves, speech by Hon. T. Alan Goldsborough. In the afternoon there will be an automobile parade by dealers in Kent county and the Legion. Track and field meet between High and Grammar School students of the county. Also a base ball game.

Nightwatchman Stabbed To Death

While making his rounds at the Easton Furniture Manufacturing Co. Tuesday night. Charles Todd. 55, night watchman, was stabbed to death. Todd had just left the boiler house for the machine house, where he was to send in his report. His body was found near the machine house, with two stab wounds under the chin. Both wounds pierced his jugular vein. J. R. Hoshour, manager of the plant, discovered the body when he went to bid good-night to the watchman. He summoned Dr. N. P. Palmen. who pronounced Todd dead when he arrived.

Thomas Bordley, colored, admits the crime. Charges Todd with killing his dog.

The farm owned and tenanted by E. E. Lincoln known as the Skee Merritt farm, has been sold to Harry Griffith, of Sassafras, Md.

Rev. L. P. Corkran has sold his elegant home near the college to A. H. Covey. Price private. Mr. Covey says he bought it to rent or sell.

TO CONFER AGAIN ON M. D. & V.'S FUTURE

"The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is anxious to relinquish operation of the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia Railway because it never has shown a profit and is not likely to.

"Whether a plan can be worked out under which the Pennsylvania will continue operation of the road has not been determined. If anyone wishes to undertake operation of the road, he will have the best wishes of the Pennsylvania."

This is the attitude of the Pennsylvania toward the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia as outlined Friday to the Maryland Public Service Commission by Henry Tatnall, vice-president of the Pennsylvania and the man in charge of its finances.

With other officials of the system, he said, it would call on the commission later for a discussion of the Eastern Shore problem. In the meantime an effort will be made to ascertain whether the road could be made less burdensome to the Pennsylvania.

Commissioner Harper suggested several methods which he thought might help. Mr. Tatnall said he would refer the suggestions to the operating officials.

Commissioner Whitman said that two or three persons had conferred with him in connection with the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia, and there was a posibility that if the Pennsylvania did not continue the operation of the line some of them might be interested.

He wanted to know whether the operation of the line by independents would be opposed. Mr. Tatnall replied that the Pennsylvania would adopt a friendly attitude toward any such enterprise.

The line has been sold to the E. B. Leaf Company, of Philadelphia, for $225,000, and this concern proposes to junk it if the court ratifies the sale.
