This week has probably seen more soft crabs in Kent County than at any time in thepast ten years. Many loads have been peddled through the streets, the price being down as low as 30 cents per dozen. Thousands have been shipped to the city markets, and even there the price fell to the lowest recorded level. The plentifulness of them is unaccounted for.

Chestertown Lodge No. 1496 Loyal Order of Moose was reorganized Friday night, June 1, 1923, by the election of Robert V. Moffett, Director; Robert R. Ayres, Vice-Dictator; Chas. N. Satterfield, Treasurer; James G. Beck, Secretary; William A. Burk, Prelate, and Charles L. Dodd, Trustee. Supreme Lecturer Wm. Trickett Giles was present and gave a very able talk on the Order, and a drive is now on to reinstate all old members as well as to secure a class of 50 new members to be initiated. Chief among the many worthy objects of the Loyal Order of Moose is the care it takes of its old members, the widows and orphans of deceased members. It not only cares for the orphans but educates them and gives each of them a trade or profession by which it can earn a respectful living and become a useful and worthy citizen of this great republic.
