An unusual accident occured at The Narrows last week, when one of the huge trucks of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company, plunged overboard from the ferry, which was being operated while the Narrows bridge was closed for repairs. After considerable difficulty the big machine was finally brought ashore, and only slight damage was done.

A number of meat houses and henneries in the vicinity of Crumpton have been raided during the past two weeks. The meat house of George Clements near Crumpton was broken open and all meat except the side meat stolen. A hennery just across the road from Mr. Clements was raided and every chicken was stolen. The meat house on the Crumpton Lane farm owned by Mrs. Roger Wilson was entered and every piece of meat was taken. Webster Hill's hennery was robbed of about forty hens. Officers believe they know the gang who are guilty and will soon put an end to it.

For a brief period Sunday and Monday, Kent Island was completely isolated from the remainder of Queen Anne's county, due to an accident at the Narrows Bridge, when the floating theatre of James Adams, enroute from Centreville to Stevensville, crashed into the structure and moved the draw out of position. For several hours after the accident, automobiles lined the roadways on both sides of the bridge, as many Kent Island folk who had motored on to the mainland made frantic efforts to reach home, and others who had gone to Kent Island for the day, tried to find some means of negotiating the waters that race through the Narrows. All vehicular traffic was blocked, however, until Monday, when the County Commissioners placed a ferry between Kent Island and the mainland.

A new doctor, in the person of Dr. Louis A. Winokur, has located in Chestertown.

The Harris farms were offered a second time by the mortgagees and withdrawn at a bid of $14,000.

One of the most enjoyable games of ball played on the college diamond took place last Saturday. The contestants were St. James Sunday School, H. S. Startt, manager, and Christ M. P. School, W. R. Huey, manager. The score was 14 to 16 in favor of St. James. Another game is scheduled for June 23rd.

Kent Lambert visited Washington during Shriner's Week and while in the crowd was robbed of $87 and several railroad tickets. He had his little girl in his arms and felt the thief when he pulled his hand from his pocket but lost sight of him in the crowd.

"Where there's a will there's a way" is proven by the following incident that occured in Chestertown recently. A farmer came to town and driving to a garage asked trust for gasoline. He was told that this commodity was strictly cash. He then went to his merchant, bought a dozen eggs and had them charged, took them elsewhere and sold them for cash, and returned to the garage and paid cash for the gasoline. Can you beat it!

Regular passenger service will be abandoned between Greenwood and Lewes, Del., on the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia Railway after June 24, according to announcement issued by the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia officials. This is the first official notice received by the Public Service Commission as to plans of the company with respect to the future.

The will of the late Miss Mary E. Watts was filed for probate in the Orphans' Court here Tuesday. It provides for a trust to continue for ten years and that her property be held for the benefit of her three nephews, George, William and Chas. Clendaniel. Several small bequests were made for the two colored servants, and some others. Herbert E. Perkins and Miss Clara Bryan are named as executors. The estate is said to be valued at $5,000.

Some of the Chestertown High School boys who contested in the athletic sports on Homewood field, Baltimore, on Friday, under the direction of the State Public Athletic League, won prizes. H. Matthews, who won the running broad jump at the meet on Washington field several weeks ago at 5 1-2 feet, was second to Knotts, of Queen Anne's county, who jumped 5 feet 8 inches. Matthews was also third in the 220 yard dash. The Dodge Ball team came second. Kent scored 15 points. Allegany won first place and Queen Anne's fourth.

Kent farmers are learning to combine in a neighborly way and thus overcome to some extent the labor shortage. Children as young as four years old are called into service in putting out tomato plants.

The first shipment of new Virginia potatoes went north from Cape Charles last week. There were four barrels in the Cape Charles shipment and they sold at $8 per barrel f. o. b. loading point. They were dug by Robert T. Jones, a trucker, whose farm is near Cape Charles. The potatoes were of good size and well formed, in spite of the late spring, which caused delay both in getting seed into the ground and in retarding development of the potatoes. Around Cape Charles it is declared that the crop will be a large one, there being increased acreage in both Accomack and Northampton counties. The crop around Norfolk this year will not be so large as last year, it is said, many growers having curtailed their acreage.

Gloom and sadness are poisons to us, the origin of hysterics, which is a disease of the imagination caused by vexation and supported by fear.—Sevigne.

DO YOU LIKE ONIONS?

The onion is one of the most wholesome of our vegetables. The families who serve them once or twice a week in various ways, cooked or uncooked, will be (other things being normal) the least subject to prevailing diseases.

The onion is soothing to the nerves, a sleep producer, allays inflammation of the mucous membranes and is a fine antiseptic. One of the most appetizing of ways of serving this odoriferous bulb is to throw it or as many as will be eaten, onto a bed of coals to roast. The peeling is not removed; that will be charred; after removing the outside, cut up and dress with butter, pepper and salt.

A stuffed onion is another very tasty dish. The onions are of uniform size to be chosen for this dish—as large as one's appetite for them; parboil and then take out the centers. Chop the centers and save for another dish, or they may be mixed with the filling and put back into the cavity. Fill with chopped cooked ham, bread crumbs and seasonings, or with sausage, or with chopped nuts and other seasonings such as peanut butter, cheese or any desired filling.

Onions Stuffed With Peppers.—Parboil until nearly done six onions of good size. Remove the centers, chop and mix with finely chopped green peppers that have also been parboiled. Season well, fill the onions and bake surrounded by a white sauce. Baste while baking with butter.

Onion Sandwiches.—Those who really find the onion pleasing to the taste will enjoy a slice, seasoned with French dressing for a filling for a sandwich.

Onion Relish.—Take one large onion grated, add one-half cupful of celery juice, grind the celery and press out the juice; one teaspoonful of mustard, ten drops of tabasco, one teaspoonful of salt and celery seed, four well-beaten egg yolks blended with the salt and mustard, and two tablespoonfuls of olive oil, twenty capers and one-fourth of a cupful of vinegar. Serve with game.

HEARN GASOLINE

Is Uniform and Dependable because it is tested before it is sold

All Hearn Gasoline is subjected to the Sulphonation Test before it is sold. The method of making this test is simple, but it requires care and accuracy.

One-fiftieth of a pint of Hearn gasoline and twice that quantity of sulphuric acid are measured off in a special graduate. The mixture is shaken up and then allowed to settle and separate into two layers. The gasoline layer is next measured very carefully, to ascertain that there has been no loss in volume. The slightest reduction in the quantity of gasoline would indicate the presence of certain foreign matter, absorbed by the sulphuric acid.

This test is important to every Gasoline user; for it assures him of a product that is free from these foreign substances, most of which injure the motor, either by helping to form carbon or by causing corrosion.

The Hearn Oil Co. does not depend upon this one test. Its gasoline is subjected to a series of tests, which are your protection and which make the gasoline you buy at one Hearn filling station the same that you buy at any other station. It is uniform and reliable—Because it is Tested.

ANOTHER SPECIFICATION, EQUALLY IMPORTANT, TO WHICH ALL HEARN GASOLINE IS SUBJECTED, WILL BE EXPLAINED IN THE NEXT ADVERTISEMENT.
