MORE THAN 50,000 PHONE CALLS TO CONFIRM PRESIDENT'S DEATH

C. and P. Telephone Company at Washington Aids Capital's Newspapers.

Washingtonians feeling a personal loss in the death of President Harding, a fellow resident of their city, eagerly sought every scrap of news that could be obtained on the report of his death. Starting shortly before 11 o'clock that night a flood of telephone calls, which before morning totaled 50,000, poured in upon the operators in the central office of the telephone company.

So sudden and great was the flood of calls that momentarily the office was paralyzed. Calling in 40 additional operators Traffic Superintendent W. A. Condit began to meet the enveloping tide. Next he called in his additional service men and the force was complete.

Sensing a waste of calls and "in and out plugging" Mr. Condit obtained the permission of the newspapers to handle calls intended for them in which word of the President's death was asked. It was readily granted to permit all editorial staffs to grind out the printed word that kept alive every service wire in the country. Immediately all calls were challenged and those requesting news of President Harding's death were answered from the office of the telephone company. The subscribers were given the exact words of the "flash" received by the Washington Post from the Associated Press.

As soon as the system was operating the calls were handled with tripled facility. In addition the entire system broadcast the word of the President's demise.

The credit, Mr. Condit said, is due to the valiant efforts and untiring diligence of the operators.

STEADY INCOME FROM DAIRY

Distributes Marketing Throughout Year and Gives Employment in the Dull Months.

The dairy herd returns a constant income to the owner, distributes the marketing period throughout the year, gives employment for the winter months which would otherwise be largely wasted from a productive standpoint, and reduces the crops to their most compact form. If dairying continues to be managed by men of industry and foresight it cannot fail.

ADVANTAGE IN KNOWING COW

Small Breeder Is in Better Position to Increase Milk Yield Than Large Owner.

In the matter of knowing the individuality of the cows the small breeder has an advantage over the man with a large herd. The man with 100 or more cannot know his animals so well nor hope to get so much out of them. The old saying, "Know thyself," is no more excellent than is the one, "Know thy cows."

PLAN TO AVOID DIRTY MILK

Where Cows Are Kept Indoors for Greater Part of Day Pay Attention to Bedding.

Dirty milk is most often caused by the accumulation of dirt on the cow when confined to the stable for the greater part of the day. While the cows are kept indoors most of the time, more attention should be given to the bedding, and the manure should be removed frequently.

VIOLA DANA TO BE SEEN IN CHARMING COMEDY

The Little Star At Her Best In "They Like 'Em Rough," Story Of A Girl's Rebellion

Viola Dana, the vivacious little Metro star, will be seen on Friday and Saturday of this week at the Lyceum Theatre in her latest photoplay, "They Like 'Em Rough." In the role of Katherine Trowbridge Miss Dana has one of those parts which fit her like the proverbial glove and which give every opportunity for the charm, sprightliness and vivacity with which her screen acting is associated.

"They Like 'Em Rough" is the story of a girl who had a peculiar aversion to authority—who wanted to do everything she was forbidden to do and nothing that she was required to do. Discovering that her aunt and uncle, aware of this streak of perversity, were plotting her marman by apparently opposing match, she in turn decides to revenge herself on them by going out and marrying the first man she meets. And she does. He happens to be a rough-looking customer with a beard and hob-nailed boots and a lumberman's mackinaw. After the knot is tied by a justice of the peace, Katharine hands him the $100, she had offered him to marry her and says, as she steps into her roadster, "Thanks a lot. See you again some time, maybe."

"Yes," says the lumberman. "You'll see me from now on," and he jumps into her car, takes the wheel and drives her to the logging camp in the mountains of which he is boss.

The rest of the story is concerned with the efforts of the cave man husband to reduce her to a proper state of humility, her escape from the camp, and her final discovery that the man who she has married is not quite the rough cave man he has pretended to be.

The picture is a Harry Beaumont production, written and adapted by Rex Taylor, and photographed by John Arnold. Art and technical direction by A. F. Mantz.

TOWNS TO PLAY CHAMPION SHIP BALL CONTESTS

Base ball fans in the vicinities of Sudlersville and Massey have determined to definitely settle the argument of which town is entitled to the championship honors for the season of 1923. Arrangements were completed for a series of five championship games, the first of which was played at Massey last Saturday and resulted in a victory

The schedule follows:

Saturday, Aug. 25, at Sudlersville.

Wednesday, Aug. 15, at Sudlersville.

Wednesday, Aug. 22, at Massey.

Saturday, Aug. 25, at Sudlersville.

In the event of a tie, the fifth game will be played at some point to be decided later.

All of the games will be called at 3.15 o'clock and Del Foxx, of near Sudlersville, Md., will have complete charge of the contests and umpire all games.

Both teams have formidable batteries and good games are in prospect. Scott and Davis will be on the firing line for Sudlersville and Foxx or Wallace will be at the receiving end. Massey's hurling staff will consist of Groff and Pror, while Jones or Gibbs will catch.

Keen rivalry in base ball has always existed between the two communities and it is expected that a crowd of fans will witness each of the contests.

THE SHORE TRANSIT LINE TO RUN HANDSOME BUSES

It has been learned that lines to co-operate a large bus system thruout the Eastern Shore, are soon to go into operation, taking in all important towns on the Peninsula.

The past five months have been spent in a test-out of the passenger carrying business of the line between Salisbury and Claibourne. To say it has been a success is puting it mildly, so it is understood from those who are interested.

The bus line is known as the Shore Transit Line, incorporated some time ago under the Maryland laws. Their executive offices are in Salisbury, and members of our Board of Directors are all Maryland people. They believe the Eastern Shore offers the greatest areas lying outdoors anywhere in the United States, for the operation of a large co-ordained bus system with fine equipment.

It was decided to thoroughly try it out first on certain routes, before installing a large number of buses for other routes. The test-out during the past five months has shown the management plainly that the bus business operated on the right lines, with the right kind of equipment, can be made a success, and give a service that all the people welcome with wide open arms.

Plans are now going forward to install more equipment on that present line, and open up more new routes. It is hoped their plans will be put into operation at the earliest date possible.

More and better Wheat

For forty years farmers have proven that Royster Fertilizer grows more bushels of wheat per acre. makes plumper kernels, and more straw. Ask your County Agent, or the Royster Farm Service Department, what analysis to use on your land, and then insist upon Royster's to guarantee yourself the highest quality materials and manufacture. The name "Royster" on a bag is like "sterling" on silver.

Experiments by the Delaware Experiment Station showed an increase in yield of wheat from 11.5 bu. per acre without fertilizer, to yield of 28.9 bushels per acre with complete fertilizer. Fertilizer differs like seed potatoes. Insist upon Royster's to get the utmost satisfaction. F. S. Royster Guano Company, Baltimore, Md.
