Narrow Escape.—Mrs. Charles H. Price, of "Stoneton," near Betterton, had a narrow escape from a fatal accident last week. In cleaning up the tenant quarters a lot of trash was being burned in the stove and among the lot was a bottle containing black powder. Mrs. Price was standing over the stove when the contents of the bottle was emptied into the fire. The powder exploded and she got part of it over her face and arm. Her eyebrows, hair and face and arm were considerably burned. Dr. H. G. Simpers was called at once and rendered medical aid. While she has suffered considerable pain she is not seriously hurt. Several of the particles went in her eyes but her sight is not impaired. She had a very narrow escape.

ROCK HALL FERRY CARRIES 2987 TRUCKS IN 11 MONTHS

Passenger automobile traffic over the Annapolis-Clairbourne Ferry during the last 11 months was twice as great as similar traffic carried by the Baltimore and Eastern Shore Ferry Line, according to figures on record at the State Roads Commission.

The motortruck traffic over the Baltimore Eastern Shore Line, was almost twice as great as that carried by the Clairbourne-Annapolis Line.

Both of the ferry companies receive State subsidies.

John N. Mackall of the Roads Commission says the traffic figures speak for themselves so far as the importance of the two routes as a link in the State roads system is concerned. The figures for the 11 months from October, 1922, to August, 1923, inclusive, 8749 automobiles and 2987 trucks carried by the Baltimore and Eastern Shore Line as compared with 92,555 passengers, 17,631 automobiles and 1035 trucks over the Clairborne-Annapolis line.
