THE UNIVERSAL CAR

New Sedan

Changes featured in the new Ford Sedan make it a better looking, roomier car.

A higher radiator with a trim apron at its base lends dignity befitting a closed car. The higher hood and enlarged cowl curving gracefully to the dash give a stylish sweep to its body lines, and afford additional leg room for occupants of the front seat.

All body fittings—window regulators, door grips, door latch levers, door lock, dome light—are finished in nickel. The upholstery carries a fine dark line on a soft brown background that does not easily show dust or dirt. Silk window curtains to harmonize for the three rear windows enhance the style of the car and add to the comfort of its passengers. See the new Sedan and other new Ford body styles at our showroom

These cars can be obtained through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan.

Big Masonic Event In Capitol City November 1

Cornerstone Of George Washington Memorial To Be Laid That Day.

STRUCTURE TO COST $4,000,000

Impressive Ceremonies Will Be Witnessed By Thousands Of Members Of The Order.

Greatest of all memorials ever erected to any man will be the George Washington National Masonic Memorial, now being built in Alexandria, Va., just outside the national capital. The cornerstone of this beautiful and extensive structure, to cost $4,000,000, will be laid on Thursday, Nov. 1, and Masons of the United States are planning upon making this great occasion the most impressive in the history of the order. It is expected that every one of the 17,000 Blue Lodges in this country will have one or more representatives at the Nov. 1 festivities. In addition, there will be pilgrimages from every state. Railroads already are preparing to handle the enormous number of travelers to Washington, which is expected to reach into the hundred thousands. There are approximately 3,000,000 Masons in the United States, and every one of them will want to be present at this momentous ceremony.

The George Washington National Masonic Memorial project was determined upon at a meeting of prominent Masons from several Grand Jurisdictions in Alexandria on Feb. 22, 1910. This meeting was held in the historic lodge room of Alexandria-Washington Lodge, No. 22, of which the first president was the first Worshipful Master and over whose deliberations he presided when he was the chief executive of the nation. The plans at first were fairly modest, but as they were discussed year after year the plans were enlarged until at present they have assumed gigantic proportions.

The memorial is being erected on Shooters Hill at Alexandria, on the Orlington Ridge, which commands a view of the city of Washington. The Memorial association has acquired in all 32 acres of land surrounding Shooters Hill, which will be passed by all those who travel from the national capital to Mount Vernon, Washington's home. The edifice will be surrounded by artistic landscaping and will be reached by broad walks and stone steps ascending through seven terraces. From the topmost collonaded tower of the memorial, visitors will view for miles around the region in which Washington passed a great portion of his life.

The dimensions of the edifice over all will be 230 feet in depth by 160 feet in width, exclusive of the steps, terraces and approaches. Its height to the summit of the observation tower will be 200 feet. The main masses of the building comprise a base in which will be located the great Washington Memorial Hall and various Masonic rooms, and above this base will rise a form of tower. One of the most stately features will be an imposing atrium, 70 feet wide and 100 feet deep, which will form the Memorial Hall, and in which it is proposed to set a statute of George Washington. This hall will be 64 feet high, rising by a clerestory above the surrounding portion of the building. It will be flanked by great Ionic colums 40 feet high and surrounded by a number of rooms devoted to Masonic interests, above the roof of which clerestory lights will admit the light.

The entrance of the building will be expressed in a six-columned portico of pure Greek Doric design, forming an interesting contrast to the plain unbroken side walls of the Masonic rooms. Rising above the Memorial Hall, and forming the second story of the tower, will be a museum room to house the many memorabilia of George Washington and his time, as well as interesting relics connected with Washington's service as Master of Alexandria - Washington Lodge. There will be a third level above the museum, above which again there will be a covered observation platform, all three levels screened by statey collonades.

In addition to housing the priceless relics of Washington possessed by the Alexandria Lodge, the memorial will be the center and rallying point for Masons of the United States and of all other countries. One of the most prized of the relics is the trowel used by General Washington September 18, 1795, to lay the cornerstone of the capitol of the United States at Washington at Washington, D. C. Another priceless possession of the Alexandria Lodge to be housed in the memorial is the Williams portrait of Washington, painted in 1794—the truest likeness of the Father of His Country in existence, for the artist was instructed to "paint him as he is," which he did.

A delegation of Masons from the Chestertown Masonic Lodge and nearby communities will journey to Washington and Alexandria, to be present at the laying of the cornerstone of the Washington Memorial on Nov. 1. The event without doubt will be one of the most imposing in the history of the national capital, a city used to large assemblages and to momentous and inspiring scenes.
