MILK[illegible]OR BETTER OUTPUT

Association Votes To Improve Its Product And Get Others To Help..

Milk standards in and around Philadelphia are to be raised immediately if resolutions passed Monday by the Interstate Milk Producers' Association are put into effect.

It was resolved that the association should use all its efforts for purifying the milk and persuading dairymen not members of the association to give their aid in the movement. An attempt to pass a resolution lowering the percentage of butter fat required in each quart of milk from 5 per cent to 3 7-8 per

It was voted to ask the State Legislature to appropriate $1,000,000 for elimination of cattle tuberculosis.

Both the morning and afternoon sessions were devoted to business and the election of directors for the ensuing year. Those elected were: S. Blain Lehman, of Franklin county; H. D. Allebach, of Montgomery county; F. P. Willis, of Delaware county; Ira J. Book, of Lancaster county; Robert F. Brinton, of Chester county; E. H. Donovan, of Kent county, Del.; Albert Sarig, of Berks county; S. K. Andrews, of Dorchester county, Md.; J. W. Keith, Queen Anne's county; and Charles Preston of Chester county, Pa.

John M. McSparran, master of the Pennsylvania State Grange, at a dinner given by the association at the Hotel Adelphia last night, made a plea for better and more balanced rations for cattle throughout the country.

Mr. King said that Philadelphia has the best milk market in the country and that it has, too, the best marketing facilities in the country. He stressed the necessity for more co-operative selling associations throughout the country and cited the Milk Producers' Association as the best example of such a combination.

Mr. Willitts remarked that such an association was to the advantage not only of the producer but of the consumer, that more work could be done by it and at less cost to the ultimate purchaser.

According to the old-time weather prophets around this vicinity, the approaching winter will be exceptionally mild. The sun will shine brightly throughout the three winter months and a heavy supply of coal and firewood will be unnecessary. The grounds for such optimism are based, the forecasters say, on the first three day of December. December 1 controlls the month of December; December 2 influences January and December 3 is a fore-runner of February. As the first three days of December were unusually bright and fair for this time of the year, the old weather prophets predict an unusually mild and open winter season.
