PEACH NOTES.

Crawfords, Mountain Rose and Troths have been going to market this week. The Emma A. Ford has been carrying over 2,000 daily while the B. S. Ford from Lankford, Corsica from Rolph's and Gratitude from Rock Hall carry equally as many. Prices range from 15 cents to 80 cents. The largest shipments were on Tuesday when the four boats carried 12,000.

The Betterton and Buck Neck boats are freighting a thousand or more baskets daily.

The first carload of peaches left Chestertown Thursday. Messrs. Michael and W. H. Lambert, Jr., are the only buyers here, and paid 35 and 75 cents per basket.

The packers have begun to realize the fact that there will be but one-thind of a crop of peaches, owing to heavy rains and prices will likely improve.

We named in our last issue the purchase of seven peach crops by John Kienzle, of Philadelphia. He has since purchased the orchards of James F. Davis, Wm. David, Enoch Carrow and James T. Truax, making eleven in all, or 35,000 baskets at 40 cents. Some of Kent's growers have refused 45 cents per basket.

Numsen's cannery at the Chestertown wharf will begin work Monday on peaches.

The tomatoes bought at $6 per ton are slow in coming. They are selling for about $17 per ton at retail.

Mr. Frank Baxter, on Mr. S. R. Hurlock's farm, has shipped 1,000 baskets of peaches of the Mountain Rose variety. He will probably have over 15,000 baskets.

Those who have large crops of peaches that will be shipped from Rolph's are Messrs. Frank Baxter, S. R. Hurlock, J. H. Evans, Silas Weller, Budd Potts, C. H. Jefferson, James Brown, George Snitcher, H. H. Klinefelter and L. Anderson.

At the Chestertown depot yesterday the peach buyers were paying from 35 60 cents per basket.

BOUGHT A VILLAGE.

Ex-Senator Charles T. Westcott Joins Messrs. William and Thomas E. Trenchard in Lumber Business.

Ever since the Trenchard Bros. sold their interest in the basket factory here they have been prospecting in the South for another one and a few days ago closed a big deal. Hon. Charles T. Westcott and son, Mr. John G., have joined the Trenchard Bros., in the new venture which promises success. They have purchased a tract of timber land in Northumberland county, North Carolina, supposed to contain 1,000 acres. Timber land, however, is not bought by the acre, but these gentlemen have purchased all the Georgia pine they can cut in 20 years, a big saw mill, covering 125 acres and a village of 14 houses for $68,000. The village includes a store with $4,000 stock of goods, boarding house, railroad office, etc. It is located 70 miles from Norfolk and Richmond and said to contain fine lumber.

The recent owner has been cutting 12 years and has laid 20 miles of railroad through the forest. The logs are hauled out by rail and the track is laid to keep pace with the cutting. The new firm bought a half million feet of lumber ready for shipment for which there is great demand. They will confine their attention to lumber this year, adding veneering machines and furnishing box and basket material for the whole South.

Mr. Wm. Trenchard will move his family to the new scene. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bradley will take charge of the boarding house, Noah Perry will enter the mill while several colored men from Chestertown will remove to the plant. Mr. Clifton Jarrel, the efficient book-keeper with Crane, Hynson & Valliant, will have charge of the Baltimore office of the new firm, assisted by Mr. Charles Newnam. Mr. Thomas E. Trenchard will finish up the business of the plant in St. Mary's county and remove South with his brother. We wish the new firm great prosperity.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Upon the request of the patrons of the school at Mrs. Janvier's the school commissioners on Tuesday decided to reopen same and appoint a lady teacher there. Messrs. Carson Harris, Samuel F. Cooper and John Silcox were appointed trustees.

Miss Carrie V. Ford, a graduate of Normal Hall, was appointed assistant teacher at Fairlee. She is a daughter of Mr. Robert Ford.

Miss Anna B. Weer, a graduate of the State Normal School, was appointed assistant at Locust Grove.

Miss Bessie Wheatley, a graduate of Washington College, has been appointed teacher of school at Coleman's, near Still Pond.

Cutting Affray.—"Mickey" Gibson, the boot-black, cut his play-mate, Harry Maze, Tuesday night while engaged in a fight. The wound required the attention of two doctors. Mickey is in jail awaiting the result.

THE SAD REAPER.

Sudden Death of Miss Carrie Reiche—Other Homes Desolated.

Like a flash of lightning from a clear sky came the report to us Thursday of the death of Miss Carrie Reiche, youngest daughter of the late E. C. Reiche, which cast a gloom over many households. Miss Carrie visited her sister and brother in Chestertown during July returning to her home in Baltimore, August 3. On the following Thursday she was taken very sick with peritonitis and became alarmingly ill. An operation was to have been performed last Thursday but the patient grew worse and died at 8.30 A. M., 15th inst., just one week from the time she was taken, aged about 25.

The deceased made her home with her sister, Mrs. Mattie Fitzpatrick, and wherever she went made friends. She was of a happy disposition and the life of many social gatherings. A sad feature of the sudden death is that Miss Carrie was making preparations to be married on Tuesday, September 3rd, to a Baltimore gentleman, and her wedding garments will be turned into a burial shroud.

The remains were brought to the home of her brother, Mr. Charles J. Reiche, on Water street, and the interment will take place this morning in Chester Cemetery at 10.00 o'clock; Rev. E. P. Roberts officiating.

Capt. Isaac Duyer, a well-known resident of head of Still Pond Creek, died of general debility Wednesday, aged 83. He was one of Kent's oldest residents and had a host of friends. He was a brother of Mrs. George C. Adkinson, of Chestertown. The funeral was held yesterday interment at Still Pond, Undertaker Krusen in charge.

He leaves six children, viz., Mr. Jos. Whiteley, Mrs. James Jones, Mrs. James A. Smith, Mrs. Joseph L. Bullock, all of Baltimore; Mrs. Emmet Taylor and Mrs. Josephine Taylor, of Kent.

Mr. Geo Moore, one of Worton's best known citizens, died Monday morning at the home of Mr. John Gale, near Hanesville, aged 71. Mr. Moore was a great sufferer for some time and for about six months has been confined to his room and bed and was unable to help himself. His last days were made as comfortable as could be by the untiring efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Gale and son, who did everything they could to alleviate his sufferings. Interment held Tuesday at Still Pond cemetery; the pall-bearers being Messrs. Thomas W., Washington G., and Walter Skirven, Samuel Vannort, S. G. Lee and W. E. Keyser.

Lorenzo Pheffer, died at his home near Crumpton, Thursday morning. He was 83 years of age and died of general debility occasioned by old age Capt. Harry Pheffer is a son. The funeral will take place to-day. Interment at Crumpton cemeterv; Father J. L. McSweeney officiating.

Mr. James P. Merritt, at one time a well-known contractor and builder of Elkton, Cecil county, died Tuesday at his home, 758 Dolphin street, Baltimore. His death was due to peritonitis after a week's illness. Mr. Merritt was born at Elkton on February 3, 1838. Up to 10 years ago, when he removed with his family to Baltimore, he had been a contractor and builder in Cecil county, having erected many of the finest residences in that county. Since coming to Baltimore he has lived a retired life. Mr. Merritt leaves a widow, who was formerly Miss Johanna White, of Cecil county; a son and two daughters and one son. The son is Mr. John P. Merrit, of Baltimore and the daughters are Mrs. Elizabeth J. Low, wife of Dr. John W. Low, manager of the Elite Steam Laundry, and Mrs. Katherine Twilley, wife of Dr. Charles R. Twilley, of Chestertown,

Mr. Charles Steuart Solomon, a former resident of Calvert county, Md., died at Riverton, N. J., on August 9th, in the fifty-fifth year of his age. While living in Maryland Mr. Solomon was extensively engaged in the fruit and oyster packing business at Solomon's Island. He moved to Philadelphia in 1886, where to the time of his death he was a manufacturer of machinery, his place of business being 1515-17 Sansom street.

Mr. Solomon was a man of charming personality, and had a host of devoted friends, both in Maryland and at the home of his adoption, who sincerely mourn his death. He left a widow, who was Miss E. O. Somervell, of Calvert county, and one son and two daughters. His eldest daughter, Alexine, was recently married to Lewin W. Wickes, Esq., of Chestertown, whom he visited in June.

His remains were taken to Calvert county on Sunday last and interred the next day in the cemetery of Middleham Chapel, one of the old colonial churches of Southern Maryland, and where for more than a century the Somervells and ilk have worshiped. While his coffin was being borne to its resting-place the bell presented to the chapel in 1690 was solemnly tolled. Beneath the venerable oaks that have stood like sentinels for many a year in the ancient burial-ground he will sleep well.

Harry Willis, a nephew of the late George H. Bennett, formerly of Chestertown, died at his home near Crumpton on Sunday, aged 25. Rev. D. L. Geenfield officiated at the interment in Chester cemetery on Tuesday.

Mrs. Richard Redding was paralyzed on Monday week and died on Saturday. She was 72 years of age and widow of the late Richard Redding, of Galena. She leaves two daughters and four sons. Rev. Mr. Prettyman officiated.

One of the pleasing features of the evening was the rendition of that well-known ballard, entitled "The Boston Burglar." Among those present were Prof. Robt. Godwin and his band of which Arthur is a member. They left wishing their hosts many such events.

Sure Cure for Hog Colera.—It is not often that I attempt to write anything for the papers, and it is only with a philanthropic spirit that moves me to write this. Every editor in the United States should copy it, and every farmer cut it out and preserve it. Why? Because it is a sure cure for hog cholera. I have never known or heard tell of it failing It is very simple, cheap and easily done. So writes J. A. Dodge to the Texas Live Stock and Farm Journal.

DIRECTIONS—Put one half teaspoon-full of pure carbolic acid in a gill of sweet milk, and pour it down the hog. When the farmer sees any symptoms of cholera among his hogs, especially when one or two have died, drive every hog and pig into a very close pen, let one man catch the hog by the ears and sit the hog up with his back between his legs, while another man opens the hog's mouth with a stick, and the medicine being in a long neck, heavy bottle, is easily poured down. Care should be taken not to dose one hog twice. Twice the amount will kill, and every hog, sick or well, on the farms, should be dosed.

Now, brother editors and farmers, if you do not use all reasonable means especially when it cost you nothing, to let every farmer in the United States know this, you ought to die just a little bit with the cholera yourself."

The above is sent to the KENT NEWS by H. Clay Hendrickson, Esq., of Millington.
