SHERIFF WINGED HIS MAN.

Reedy's Horses Took Fright and Minner Tried to Escape.

W. W. Hubbard in conversation with the NEWS man Saturday told the following incident in connection with a prisoner who was brought down on the train Friday, Mr. H. being a passenger on the same train.

Some time ago the Sheriff at Dover received instructions from State's Attorney J. Frank Harper, of Centreville, to apprehend John H. Minner, who, the Attorney said, had on April 15 forged the names of William H. Sudler, Thos. J. Melvin and Carey Sudler, all of Centreville, to a promissory note on the Queen Anne's Savings Bank, payable in six months. The note was for $36. Sheriff Reedy's men located Minner carrying on a farm for his mother near Willow Grove. Friday an order for his arrest came, and Sheriff Reedy, accompanied by Warden John M. Ward, started for Minner behind a team of fast horses. As Reedy was reading the writ to Minner a traction engine came down the road and the Sheriff's horse became frightened. Warden Ward ran out to hold the team and Minner dashed for liberty.

Sheriff Reedy gave chase, crying: "Halt, or I'll shoot!" Just as Minner entered a cornfield the Sheriff shot and the man dropped. Reedy ran to Minner's side, but he found the bullet had only scratched him and that he was feigning injury. While bending over Minner the latter's mother ran at the Sheriff, brandishing a weapon and declaring he must pay for that shot with his life. Fighting off the woman with one hand and pulling young Minner with the other, the Sheriff got him to the carriage. In the afternoon Minner was turned over to the Maryland authorities.

BATHERS IN PERIL.

Narrow Escape of a Minister and Ladies at Fenwick Island.

Great excitement was caused Thursday morning on the beach at Fenwick Island Methodist Protestant Camp-Meeting at the height of the bathing hour by what threatened to be a most appalling drowning accident. Rev. J. M. Yingling, formerly the Methodist Protestant clergyman stationed in Baltimore, but now located at New Church, Va., was bathing with two ladies from Philadelphia—Mrs. John Neathammer and Mrs. John Martin. The recent severe southeast storm has cut rather deep holes in the usually very even bottom. Into one of these Rev. Mr. Yingling and his companions accidentally slipped. Fortunately the tide was on the increase and there was no undertow whatever. This made it possible for them by dint of paddling to remain practically in the same spot. The shrieks of the drowning women and the loud calls for aid by Rev. Mr. Yingling soon brought hundreds of bathers on the beach near the spot. Most of them, however, as is usual in such cases, seemed transfixed with horror. There were a few cool heads, however, who very quickly formed a living chain until it stretched within a few yards of the imperiled persons. Strong swimmers then swam out to the party and succeeded with great difficulty in bringing them to the end of the chain, where they were passed on to the beach.

Both women were unconscious, having taken some water into the lungs. Mrs. Neathammer was particularly exhausted and it was some time before the rescuers succeeded in restoring her to consciousness through restorative methods. Their escape from drowning was due in a large measure to the strength of Rev. Mr. Yingling. He is over six feet in height and powerfully built. He succeeded in keeping the women above water until thoroughly exhausted. But it was long enough to give the rescuers time to form the chain from the beach, At night Rev. Mr. Yingling was sufficiently recovered from his experience of the morning to officiate in the pulpit.

DR. BOSLEY, of Baltimore, has confiscated all sausage artificially smoked and colored and the dealers are up in arms. The stuff is said to be unhealthy.

Plant Potatoes.—The farmers should not fail to plant large quantities of potatoes for late crops. Owing to the potato famine, prices for the tubers are likely to rule high this winter. We learn from investigation that several of our leading farmers and truckers intend to plant more largely of late potatoes than usual. From one station in Worcester county over 4,000 barrels of potatoes have been shipped this season.
