FUNERAL RITES.

Over Body of Murdered President—The Whole Nation Mourns—Mrs. McKinley Bearing Up Nobly.

The city stays its busy hand.
The plows in furrows idle stand.
The mountain crapes its loftly head
With cypress crowns and of lead.
The President is dead.

The nation bears his sleeping bier,
With clasped hand and flowing tear
Committed to her loving care—
She trusts his God, she cannot fear.
The President is dead.

Religious services over the body of President William McKinley were held at 11 A. M., Sunday at the home of Mr. John C. Milburn, in Buffalo, where his death took place.

Afterwards the body was escorted by a military procession to the Buffalo City Hall, where it lay in state from 1 P. M. to midnight. Thousands of persons took a last look at it.

Monday the body was taken to Washington by way of Baltimore. It left Buffalo over the Northern Central Railroad about 8.30 A. M. and reached Union Station, Baltimore, between 7.10 and 7.30 P. M. It is estimated that there were 20,000 persons at the depot to view the train and the route to Washington was a veritable bed of roses. The train arrived in Washington between 8.15 and 8.45 P. M.

The body was taken from the Sixth Street Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad to the White House soon after its arrival; a squadron of calvary escorted it.

At 9 A. M. Tuesday the body was escorted from the White House to the rotunda of the Capital, where funeral services were held. During the remainder of the day the body lay in state there and thousands of persons viewed the body. Scores were wounded in the crush that occurred on the Capitol steps. About 6 P. M., it was escorted to the Pennsylvania Railroad Station and left on a special train for Canton, Ohio, where it arrived Wednesday.

Wednesday night the body remained at the McKinley home and the final funeral services were held Tnursday at Canton, Ohio. First, there was a procession from the McKinley home, on North Market street, to the First Methodist Episcopal Church, of which the murdered President was a member. This procession was chiefly composed of men prominent in official life and members of the family. It reached the church at 1.45 P. M., and 15 minutes later the funeral services began. Rev. Dr. C. E. Manchester, pastor of the church, preached, and Bishop Isaac W. Joyce, of Minneapolis, offered prayer.

At 3.30 P. M., the services were over and an imposing procession escorting the body started for West Lawn Cemetery. This procession was much longer than the previous one. It included, besides the new President, the Cabinet, Senators and Representatives in Congress, Governors of States and members of the McKinley family, the entire National Guard of Ohio, militia bodies from Georgia and other States, many Grand Army posts, Confederate veterans, civic organizations and a host of others. A little after 4 o'clock the cemetery was reached. There Bishop Joyce read the burial service and the body was entombed in the public receiving vault. Later it will be buried in the McKinley family lot.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific the country showed its grief. Bells tolled, cannons were fired, funeral parades were held, orations were delivered and memorial services took place in churches in many localities. Railroad trains and street cars stopped for five minutes as the church services at Canton began. The telegraph wires were stilled for the same period. Nowhere was the public mourning more sincere and general than in the South. In Canada, Mexico, Central and South America, Europe and even in China and India memorial services were held. Those in Westminster Abbey and St. Paul's Cathedral, London, were particularly notable.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE OPENS.

The Fall Session Auspiciously Begins With Many New Students.

Every indication points to a successful year for Washington College. There are at present 65 students, and many more are expected next week. Dr. C. W. Reid is in his place with his excellent corps of teachers. Among the new students are the following:

Chestertown—W. H. Toulson, Henry C. Beck, Hannah W. Bell, James H. Brown, Louise E. Carroll.

Mabel B. Ryder, Chesterville; Harry P. Porter, Girdletree; Jesse R. Plummer, Melitota; May G. Pennington, Still Pond; Thos. H. Beck, Fairlee; Julia Brinsfield, Crumpton; P. M. Brooks, Kennedyville; Addie M. Cooper, Rolph, Del.; Harry T. Deputy, Melitota; Alfred S. Garretson, Taylor, Harford co.; Sara N. Hessey, Hanesville; John H. Hughes, Royal Oak; James T. Kendall, Fairlee; Geo. M. Merriken, Hobbs; Walter A. Mudd, Charles co.; Lula P. Welch, Trappe.

THE trial of Czolgosz will take place Monday in Buffalo. He will plead insanity, but in vain.

SORROW IN KENT.

The President's Sad Demise Shocked Chestertown and the Whole Community.

The NEWS as usual gave out the important news concerning the condition of President McKinley last Friday evening, and after reading the bulletins the public were prepared for the worst. Early Saturday morning the NEWS bulletin was the first to tell the sad news of the death of the President. The NEWS flag was placed at half mast, then the town flag was lowered, the pole draped, and soon the whole town was apprised of the end. The postoffice, Chestertown National Bank, Col. W. J. Vannort's home and other places gave evidence of mourning. A pall seemed to hang over the town all day Saturday and everywhere could be heard regret for the terrible deed and sympathy for the wife.

Christ M. P. Church pulpit was draped in mourning and Rev. D. L. Greenfield preached one of the most masterly, forcible and practical patriotic discourses we have read or heard. He took the view that McKinley in his death suffered for the whole nation and out of it will come good. The President's favorite hymns were rendered there and also in the M. E. Church.

Dr. Martin at Emmanuel Church discoursed in a most touching manner from the text "I heard a voice out of Heaven."

Rev. E. C. Mckoskey, of St. James M. P. Church, preached a strong sermon from the text "A mighty man in Israel has fallen."

Father McSweeney made touching remarks upon the assassination of our President at both Rock Hall and Chestertown, which fell upon sympathetic hearts.

At Kennedyville Rev. Louis Randall took the following text: "Let every soul be subject unto the Higher Powers; for there is no power but of God. The powers that be are ordained of God." His theme was "Our Civic Duties" or lessons suggested by the assassination of President McKinley.

The School Board declared a holiday on Thursday in memory of the late President and all the schools throughout the county closed for the day.

At 3 P. M. the church bells and town clock tolled a requiem for ten minutes.

The day set apart by Gov. Smith was universally observed by the banks, public offices and many stores and the tolling of bells gave the day a solemnity that was very impressive.

Dr. C. A. Grise, of Easton, and a former pastor here, makes the following good suggestion: As one of the results of the tragedy in Buffalo, he thought and hoped a general federal law would be passed by which anybody proclaiming to be an anarchist, as we understand his creed, or found to indulge in anarchistic sentiments, would be regarded as a foe to the Constitution and a traitor to the flag, put into some old boat and sent to some lonely island to spend life in company with kindred spirits. He would not say kill him but put him where he can thoroughly test his ideas (?) of Government among people of his way of thinking and let law-loving people enjoy peace.

Wedding Notes.

The marriage of Miss Mary E. Lowe and Mr. George W. Usilton, son of Mr. H. Clay Usilton, took place on Wednesday at the home of the groom's parents near Lankford. The wedding was performed by Rev. C. T. Denroche, of St. Paul's P. E. Church. The bride's maid was Miss Sallie Usilton, sister of the groom and the best man was Mr. Chas. Atkinson. After the ceremony a grand supper was partaken of by a large company who witnessed the wedding.

Rev. C. K. Morris, pastor of Piney Neck M. E. Church, was called upon Sunday evening by an unusual wedding party, and, in the presence of a few friends, united two couples of the same name in matrimony as follows:

Harry H. Vansant and Miss Margaret Middleton, both of Piney Neck; David Middleton and Miss Mary A. Vansant, of Piney Neck.

George E. Baker and Daisy Sandford, of Kent, were granted a marriage license in Baltimore Tuesday.

Marriage licenses have been granted this week to Noah Perry and Annie Briscoe, of Chestertown.

Trouble in Quaker Neck.—Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Cannon, of near Cliff City, had a fracas Thursday with two Italian laborers one of whom drew an axe on Mr. Cannon while the other made for him with a corn knife. Constable Gill arrested the foreigners and a hearing will be held in a few days. It seems that the trouble arose out of some family trouble which makes rather a difficult problem to settle.

The Northern Convocation of the Diocese of Easton will meet in St. Mary's Church, North East, Monday evening, September 23, at 7.30. This will be followed by services on Tuesday morning and night and Wednesday morning and night at the hours of 10.30 A. M., and 7.30 P. M. The Convocation will meet in St. Mark's Chapel, near Perryville, Thursday morning, and in the Parish House at Perryville on Thursday night. Hours of service 10.30 A. M., and 7.30 P. M., in all cases, unless otherwise announced. The Right Rev. William F. Adams, D. D., Bishop of the Diocese of Easton, will preside. Interesting discussions may be expected at all of the evening sessions, with sermons by one of the visiting clergy at the morning services.

LOCAL NEWS

THE toll house at the bridge was sold Tuesday to Mr. Walter Pippin for $12.

AN interesting christening took place at the regular session of Christ Church Sunday school Sunday, Dr. D. L. Greenfield officiating. The interested participants were Theophilus Waters Russell Wheatley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. N. Wheatley, and the twin daughters of Cashier W. F. Russell and wife. The cute little girls were christened Louise Bemana and Helen Tabitha.

THE convention of Christian Endeavorers to meet in Chestertown next month promises to be an enjoyable occasion. The ladies have secured the Watts House adjoining the Voshell House, in which to serve dinners to the delegates and other visitors. Mr. Frank Wheatley will have charge of the choir and President Walter Gale will see that the program is carried out.

JUSTICE FRANCE held a hearing in a whiskey case Monday but the evidence was insufficient to hold any of the parties. It seems that a white man contributed twelve cents and a negro thirteen cents towards buying a half pint of liquor. They secured the liquor and each drank from the same bottle. A quarrel arose and the white man charged the negro with selling him liquor. At the trial, however, these two stated the liquor was bought of John Sheppard but John persistently denied this and the magistrate dismissed the case.

H. M. BROWN states that he has bought over 25,000 bushels of corn at 50 cents per bushel same to be delivered in November or December. Mr. Brown says he has never known the like before. This week he has paid fifty cents for second grade corn and finds many farmers eager to accept his offer. 52 to 54 cents for new Corn and for wheat 71c., for No. 2 Red 66c. by steamer.

THE question of labor is more serious this year than ever before and farmers are paying $1.25 per day to hands for cutting off corn. Even at this price and at $1.50 it is difficult to secure good help. We would suggest trying chinese help. They are cheap, honest, industrious and faithful.

J. E. WALMSLEY, merchant of Morgnec, lost $71 Sunday morning in a peculiar manner. He left his store for a few minutes and when he returned found his bed room had been ransacked and all his money stolen. The money had been counted by Mr. Walmsley early that morning and evidently some one saw him. The thief must have had a key for the front door was locked and no evidence of where the thief entered can be found.

A LIVE electric light wire fell down in the streets of Chestertown on Thursday night and John Barnes, the colored driver of Mr. Wm. R. Pippin's hack, got tangled up in it. His face and hair was burned and the horse slightly scorched, but no serious results were experienced. The wire was soon replaced by Lineman Sam'l Latham.

EX-JUSTICE J. W. WRIGHT will deliver a lecture on Human Science on Monday night at Hatcherson room, adjoining McWhorter Livery. The subject is very interesting.

A PRETTY MONUMENT has been erected lately in the old Union Cemetery, by Mr. Wm. Krusen, of Still Pond. It is of dark polished quincy granite inscribed "In Memory of Enoch A. Moffett, who died Dec. 6th 1901. We shall all meet again. Daughter Bessie Moffett, who died Dec. 6th, 1900. With her Redeemer."

BEDWORTH, Jr., owned by Mr. Willie Bell, won the 2.16 race at Electric Park Wednesday, over ten other horses. He was never headed during the race and won in three straight heats in 2.17, 2.17¼, 2.15½. It is said that Mr. Bell can get $3,500 for this fine animal.

THE merry go-round has been doing a big business on Cannon street. He was notified Wednesday by the town authorities to leave this section because of anarchistic utterances in reference to our martyred President. The people of Millington got rid of the carrousal for the same reason.

MR. J. B. RICHARDSON, of Macon, Missouri, is in Chestertown for a few days. This young man will offer 40 head of mule colts for sale next Saturday. He raised these colts and knows that they are fine. Mr. R. says his county has been nearly burned up this summer and hundreds of cattle have been shipped out of the State. No rain fell from April 4th to August 7th, and the mercury stood at 100 and 114°. A neighbor sold 40 head of perfect cattle for $530 because he had no grass.

BUYERS at the Chestertown steamboat wharf paid 20 and 24 cents per basket for tomatoes Thursday and 2,000 baskets were shipped to Baltimore canners. Mr. G. S. Biddle gathered 331 baskets Thursday from off 4 acres and he was paid $76.13 for same. Other growers who had contracted were being paid ten cents per basket.

Rev. A. H. Covey was unable to fill his pulpit at Bond Sunday but hopes to be present next Sunday and will take the assassination of our president for his subject. His people may expect something interesting.

In the absence of Rev. J. M. Arters, Mr. George R. Bellows, of Baltimore, gave a delightful talk at Union M. E. Church, Worton, to about 200 persons. He is a fluent talker and his presence was very agreeable.

Rev. John M. Arters has returned from his vacation and will occupy his pulpit at Fairlee tomorrow Sunday morning, and at Worton, afternoon and evening.

• CHARLES T. WESTCOTT, ESQ., has sold at private sale to Mr. C. G. Hadaway the Barney Decourse farm in Quaker Neck, for $7,500. This farm contains about 300 acres and is now tenanted by Mr. H.
