MOODY & LUSBY.

ARRIVING

Daily we are receiving from the largest work shops of Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York our fall and winter supply of wearables for Men, Boys and Children. In fact the line thus far is fully complete as ordinarily shown in country places, but our large output is such that we must display an assortment equal in volume to city establishments which we not only do, (such has already been demonstrated), but we supply them at so much less in price that a great portion of heretofore city purchases have learned the way and come to us, the saving being plainly evident. The worthiness of our

has won for us an enviable place, second to none, in variety of shapes at less cost than city quotations.

Children's Clothing

in abundance and some of the best things even our selves have ever shown. A specific description of which we will give you later.

NECKWEAR

the proper sort, pretty patterns, newest shapes, the 25c winning kind; better ones at 50 cents.

Those who have not given the relative positions as to who can offer best advantages, as much consideration as they might. Better investigate.

Messrs. Robert S. Griffith and William H. Spry visited Rev. J. McLain Brown and family, of Warwick on Monday afternoon.

Our town was indeed saddened and shocked on Monday to learn of the death of our ministers little son, Rev. J. McLain Brown, of Warwick. The bright little fellow only ten years old, has only been ill a week. It was only a few Sundays ago we heard him sing so sweetly with his little sister in our church. His parents are almost protracted over his unexpected and sudden death. They have the sympathy of our whole town. His funeral will take place on Wednesday morning at 10 from his parents residence to proceed to Salisbury his former home where he will be buried.

Mrs. Harry Griffith and children spent Tuesday with her mother, Mrs. W. R. Lockwood.

A Warning. — Wilbert Calhoun, a well-known young man of near Laurel, Del., died Saturday from excessive cigarette smoking. The parents, like many in Kent, tried pleading and most drastic measures to check their son from the habit, but to no avail.

MURDER NEAR GALENA

Thomas Brown, Colored, Found Dead in a Clump of Bushes near Georgetown Bridge—George Dean charged with Crime Arrested.

Fredericktown is all agog over a murder that was committed in that village on Thursday night week. George Dean, aged 27 years, was lodged in Elkton jail about 2 o'clock Saturday morning, charged with the crime.

The murdered man was Thomas Brown colored, aged about 40 years, whose dead body was found last week by some school-boys. The scene of the crime was a short distance from the bridge dividing the counties of Cecil and Kent, the crime being committed in Cecil.

The two men were last seen on Thursday night walking from the bridge for the purpose of playing a game of cards. It was learned that a desperate struggle arose between the men over the money, when Dean, picking up a large hickory club, beat the brains out of Brown's head. When found the body presented a horrible sight.

After the crime had been committed it is alleged that a pile of leaves was gathered by Dean, with the intention of burning the body, in order to cover the crime, a can of oil being found near the corpse. It was further learned that before this could be done the murderer was frightened off.

Dr. Scott, of Galena, made a post-mortem examination, Justice of the Peace W. J. Duhamell, of Earlville, Cecil county, held an inquest. Dr. Scott proved conclusively that Brown had been killed and that the murderer had used some sort of a blunt instrument. A verdict was rendered in accordance with the facts.

Suspicion was directed to George Dean, colored, who was last seen with the deceased in Fredericktown, on Thursday night week, at the hotel and later on the road. Near the body of Brown was d a bottle that had contained coal oil. Witnesses were produced who testified that Dean had been seen carrying this bottle of oil.

Dean was arrested in Kent county by Constable Joseph Boyd and brought to Cecil, where he was committed by Justice Duhamell. Brown and Dean had both been drinking heavily and the supposition is that they had gambled and quarrelled. Dean denies the killing, but admitted that he and Brown had been drinking and had each purchased a deck of cards.

Blood stains were found on the prisoner's shirt, which he says were caused by his nose bleeding. The prisoner is about 30 years of age, rather stout, and during the interview with State's Attorney W. S. Evans, in jail, appeared very nervous. He expresses much sorrow at the death of Brown, but stoutly denies any connection with his death.

The common law wife of George Dean, the accused, swears that her husband was home when the crime was supposed to have been committed. Five other negroes, who were with Brown on the night he met his death, have all been located and have all proven that after they had left Brown and Dean at the hotel about 10 o'clock, they went to Galena. At the time they left Fredericktown Dean was still in Brown's company.

Brown was buried Saturday from his home in Kent county. A widow and several children survive him. Dean has only been in this section about 5 months and little is known of his past character while Brown bore a good reputation.

THE Republicans tried to knock our Deputy Register of Wills out of his vote, but the Democrats made no effort to disturb the Republican deputy treasurer. Both cases are alike, and neither should have been notified. Here is at least one instance in which Democrats were more iberal than the Republicans.

A Fine Supper.—The Kings Daughters served an excellent supper in the old Chambers House on Water street, Wednesday evening, and realized about $50. The Menu was as follows:

Slumberer of the deep; Marine Swimmers; Roast Squeeler; Sugar cured Walker; Rose leaves shredded and dressed; Physician's Hobby; The hotest of hot things heated with hotness; Sweetest of sweet things sweetened with sweetness; Staff of Life.

The school festival was a great success the night being stormy kept many away. Recitations were made by Misses Ryder and Melvin. The teacher, Miss Solloway, knows how to make her entertainments successful.
