JUST TELL THEM SO.

There's much to do the whole way through,
And little use complaining,
For the darkest night will change to light,
And the blackest cloud quit raining.
If worth you find in weak mankind,
'Twill do all good to know
That some one thought they nobly wrought,
And frankly told them so.

Enough will remain of bitter pain,
With all the aid you lend;
Some will be sad and others glad
On down to the journey's end.
As in the throng you pass along,
With rapid strides or slow,
If virtue you see in bond or free,
Just stop and tell them so.

There are many cares in home affairs
That were the brain and heart,
And many a way, 'most every day,
In which to bear a part.
If you love your wife as you do your life,
It will keep her heart aglow,
And make her feel your love is real,
To often tell her so.

If on the road you see a load
Some pilgrim downward pressing,
A willing hand to help him stand
Will bring you back a blessing.
So in the fight 'twixt wrong and right
That's waging here below,
Should praise be said, don't wait 'till dead,
Before you tell them so.

TO BUILD NEW STEAMER.

B., C. & A. Will Have Another Modern Boat Costing $100,000.

Capt. Willard Thomson, vice-president and general manager of the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway Company, has sent out specifications to shipbuilding firms in Baltimore, Philadelphia and Wilmington asking that bids be submitted on the plans for a new steamer for that company.

The specifications are for a side-wheel steamer to be 190 feet over all, 53 feet beam over all, 10 feet depth of hold. The first deck is set aside for freight, with a ladies' cabin, washroom, kitchen and quarters for the crew aft. In the hold there will also be sleeping accomodations for both first and second class passengers.

On the saloon deck will be the dining-room and 40 staterooms, four of which will be of extra large size, to be known as the bridal chambers. These rooms will be fitted with brass bedsteads and other equipments necessary for comfort. A large apartment will be set aside for smokers. The saloon will be finished in soft wood and decorated in cream and gold. The stairway leading from the lower deck to the saloon deck will be in quartered oak, as will also be the furniture for the saloon deck.

On the third deck will be the pilot house and captain's and officers' quarters.

The steamer will be furnished with a surface-condensing beam engine, cylinder 38 inches in diameter, with nine-foot stroke. Return tubular boilers with a 60-pound working pressure will furnish power. The wheels are to be what is known as feathering bucket tight. The electric light will be supplied by the most complete plant, which will include enunciators and call bells in all the staterooms and quarters. The search-light will be of 6,000 candle-power.

The contract will be given out in a few days and the boat is expected to be completed by May 1. The cost will be about $100,000.

Among other names under consideration for the new steamer is that of Maryland. When completed the new boat will be placed either on the Pocomoke or Choptank river routes.

Sunken Schooner Brought To Port.—The Baltimore Wrecking Company Saturday raised and brought to port the schooner Little May, sunk last Saturday between the Bodkin and Rock Point by being run into by the schooner William Layton. The mainmast of the Little May was carried away and the port side cut through below the water. Capt. Richard McNeal and crew of the Little May saved their lives by getting on board the Layton, which returned to Baltimore with them. The Little May had on board 500 bushels of oysters from the Chester river. The vessel is owned by Captain McNeal, who resides at Winchester, Queen Anne's co. The tug Anita towed the Little May and the wrecking machine to port.

To Change Management.—The Wilmington Every Evening says: The Rev. A. W. Lightbourn will soon succeed the Rev. Aloysius Green as editor of the Peninsula Methodist, but Mr. Green will continue as an editorial contributor to that paper. The weekly paper at Easton, Md, of which Mr. Lightbourn is editor has been merged into the Gazette —Democrat.

RAYNER'S BRILLIANT PLEA.

Closing Scenes in the Court of Inquiry at Washington.

The climax of the Schley Court of inquiry came on Wednesday afternoon, when Mr. Rayner, the chief counsel for Admiral Schley, concluded a brilliant argument of over three hours with peroration so eloquent and impassioned that all within the sound of his voice were profoundly touched.

This remarkable trial, said Mr. Rayner, sought to condemn the man who had brought to a successful termination as great a naval triumph as was ever won.

He pictured the victorious sailor suffering as few have suffered for three long years while the fires of persecution leaped around him and now awaiting the hour of his vindication in the verdict of the Court.

"And when it comes," he concluded, "he can, from the high and exalted position that he occupies, look down upon his traducers and maligners and with exultant pride exclaim :

"'I care not for the venomous gossip of clubs, drawing rooms and cliques and the poisoned shafts of envy and of malice. I await under the guidance of Divine Providence, the verdict of posterity ?"

The scene in the Court room as he finished with these words was thrilling. The members of the Court displayed evidence of emotion and Admiral Schley himself was plainly moved. He sat, leaning back, with his hands behind his head. His chin twitched, and as his counsel said he could afford to await the verdict of posterity two big tears rolled down his cheeks.

The entire audience applauded and Admiral Dewey and the entire Court congratulated both Mr. Rayner and Admiral Schley.

Married.—Mr. Charles Worrell, of Swathmore, Pennsylvania, was married in Brooklyn, N. Y., on Wednesday, to Miss Merrill, of Brooklyn. Mr. Worrell is a son of the late Dr. Frederick Worrell of Kent. He is now an expert designer of furniture patterns for John Wanamaker.
