CHESTERTOWN, MD. . NOV. 16, 1901

MANY of our exchanges are suffering with severe cases of Gormanphobia. The Mudd cure could not be had for money.

OUT of the twenty three counties in the State the Democrats carried 17 and the Republicans 6.

DEPUTY TREASURER FRED. WILSON does not bank much upon the result of a recount in Kent. He says he expects to go to Porto Rico.

THE republicans of Maryland are taking their defeat too much to heart. Especially are Messrs. Mudd, McComas and Goldsborough sad these autumn days.

THE colored voters now realize that their best friends are not the men who tell them that if the Democrats win they will be put back into slavery. These very men do not believe such nonsense.

"IF Goldsborough had not been so jealous," remarked a Republican in the NEWS office, "we would have won the Legislature. He was afraid of Kerr surplanting him."

SENATOR GORMAN is receiving congratulations from every section of the Union for the grand Democratic victory in Maryland. Its thrill touches the true Democratic chord everywhere. The "unterrified" hosts are lining up for the conflict in 1904, when the Maryland Senator will almost certainly be looked to for leader.

ONE of the surprises of the election was the result in Allegany. It has always been a Republican stronghold and is the home of ex-Goyernor Lowndes. Yet his nephew, Philip Roman, was beaten for the Senate by David J. Lewis, Democrat, and several Democrats were elected to local offices. Senator Wellington is still living.

THE Peninsula Democrat's Light burns very dimly since the election. Indeed we think the "oil" must have given out as no paper has been received here since October 31st. Mr. Lightburn started his paper as a Democratic weekly, but like many other reformers, in less than a week he was anything else than a Democrat.

No definite steps have been taken in Kent as yet for contest of the recent election. A number are discussed. Among them Mr. Hill against Mr. Copper; Mr. Davis against Mr. Fletcher and both of the county commissioners returned elected; also Mr. Johnson against Mr. Trew. Mr. Kendall is concluded to be "out of the bushes." Both of the political parties appear to be equally willing to a recount.

IN the Baltimore Sun on Tuesday Secretary Lloyd Wilkinson, of the Democratic State Central Committee, publishes an answer to the charges of fraud uttered by Senator McComas and Chairman Goldsborough. Mr. Wilkinson says these gentlemen started the campaign by crying fraud and it is fitting they should end it by doing the same thing. Mr. Wilkinson gives facts and figures to show the baselessness of the charges. He characterizes Senator McComas' statement that "instructions went out to the Democratic managers in every county to throw out the ballots of Democrats and Republicans, the first sparingly; the second liberally" as a "malicious falsehood, showing to what depths a United States Senator may go in his partv zeal."

SEVERAL GUNNERS this season have already killed their friends by mistake, while other gunners have wounded other friends. It is estimated that more hunters than deer are killed every year in the Maine and other woods up north. Be careful.

Ned Jones and the Heeler.

Every republican newspaper in Philadelphia, but one, not only admit but boldly declare that the whole fifty thousand majority in Pennsylvania was fraudulent! The frauds in Philadelphia were never exceeded in any city in the union Repeaters by the thousand were employed—each man receiving fifty cents for every time he voted. Our young friend, Ned Jones, was hailed by a "heeler" and this was the interview: Heeler—Have you voted, sir. Jones—No, I don't vote here. Heeler—Why not. Jones—I have no right; am not registered. Heeler—O, that makes no difference. Come go vote. Jones—Not a bit of it. If I could vote it would not suit you, for I would vote the full Democratic ticket!

Republicans Take It Hard.

The Republicans, both the leaders and the rank and file, take their defeat to heart and great disappointment is manifested all along the line. The Senatorial aspirations of a number of gentlemen have been nipped in the bud, just when they promised to bloom most beautifully. The aggressive campaign made by the Republicans, with the strong factions which were with them and the split among the Democrats, had instilled a confidence that in the last few days before election was almost sublime. The Democratic managers say now they never expected it to be as close as the result showed and are willing to credit the other side with having made a good fight. Senator McComas toiled night and day and the victory would have meant much to him. Besides clinching his position as the Republican leader of the State, to have beaten Mr. Gorman in his last fight would have been a feather in his cap that would have considerably increased his importance in the Senate.

Little comfort is taken by the leaders from the victory in the city, as the Legislature was the acknowledged prize. Besides the election of a United States Senator the control of the Legislature means also the election of a State Treasurer and consequent representation on the Board of Public Works, the most important board in the State, composed as it is of the Governor, Comptroller and the State Treasurer.

The re-election of Chairman Murray Vandiver as State Treasurer is a foregone conclusion. His management of a campaign the result of which is the control of both branches of the Legislature without a single vote needed from Baltimore city is regarded by his political colleagues as an achievement almost unprecedented in Maryland politics.

The strongest candidate in the field as for speakership of the House of Delegates is Mr. Isaac Lobe Straus, and the indications are that he will be chosen. His chances have been discussed and it is believed he will be more acceptable to the county Delegates than any other city man because of the fact that he is known personally to many of them and has frequently campaigned for them in the last eight years.

The chances for the Presidency of the Senate seem to favor Senator Peter, Howard county, whose five terms, his friends claim, entitle him to the honor, Senator Spencer C. Jones, or Senator Hubner.

The re-election of Arthur P. Gorman to the United States Senate is assured and once more Maryland will be represented by a statesman.

POOR Lowndes not only had his Senatorial boom knocked out but lost his own county. Wellington DID it.

The Georgetown bridge was run into by a Schooner last Friday and broke out a span of the bridge without injuring the vessel any, showing how rotten the structure is and unsafe for travelers. It is now repaired so that light vehicles can travel over it. The contractors for the new bridge were to finish this month but does not look now as if it would be done before Spring.

Hog butchering has commenced. The cholera is said to be among some hogs in the county near by and they want to take advantage while the weather is cool. Dr. Scott killed his hogs yesterday. Edwin Chrisfield and others are now killing theirs.

A GREAT MEETING.

The mass meetings at night were held at Music Hall. The addresses were by distinguished men from different sections of the country. Denominational rallies were held in the various churches of the city. The Junior rally was a most inspiring occasion.

Kent was well represented and Mr. Walter R. Gale had charge of the opening exercises on Wednesday morning. Among the delegates and visitors from this county were the following:

His lines now reach every town of any size in Maryland and Delaware. Mr. Richardson's company now owns nearly 2,000 miles of wires.

THE Delaware republicans are again in hot water among themselves over the appointment of an anti-Addicks editor in the person of R. S. Houston, of Georgetown, as collector of the port of Wilmington.

IN MEMORIAM.

In remembrance of our loved one GERTIE HOIT.

Just one year ago today
Since dear Gertie passed away,
And it almost breaks our heart
To think, from Gertie, we had to part.

Oh, how sad it is to me
When I think of that sad day,
When we set beside her bed
Until her loving spirit had fled.

Those eyes we love are closed in death
The voice we loved is still,
A place is vacant in our home
That never can be filled.
