So much blustery weather of this month so far, has been a great draw back to our oystermen, and hundreds of others dependent on the oyster industry. Many plans for the near future, has been frustrated. The luscious bivalve however, are very much the beneficiary by the prolonged blow out. If, as some say, the stormy period is the result of Democratic success on the 5th, we hope something better two years hence. But we hardly think that the information Capt. T. B. Howard brings from the lower parts of Dorchester, Wicomico and Somerset counties that the sentiment of the oystermen there, favors taking off the month of September from the oyster season, will be the "something better." This sentiment, if it exists, looks as if it is more because they are so remote from the Baltimore market, and envious of the fortunate circumstances of the upper bay oystermen.

Miss Eva Proctor after a long illness of consumption, which she bore with Christian fortitude, entered the habitation of everlasting "life, beauty and joy" on Saturday. Funeral services took place in the M. E. Church Monday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Outten, officiating. Memorial services in memory of the deceased will be held by the M. E. Sunday School tomorrow afternoon. The mother of the deceased young lady, is lingering in the grasp of the same terrible disease only awaiting the summons of the Master to come and join the loved ones gone on before.

The pulpit of the M. E. Church was filled morning and night Sunday last by Rev. T. F. Beauchamp by request of presiding Elder Corkran. Mr. Beauchamp is a forceful preacher and left a happy impression upon the membership and friends of the church. We understand that the Elder has arranged to have a permanent supply on and after the 1st of December. Mr. Corkran will preach here tomorrow.

The Odd Fellows of this place propose to have an oyster and poultry supper in the Hall of their Lodge on the evening of Dec. 4th. Prominent speakers from other parts of the State, will be present to entertain the audience. Tickets 25 cents at the door.

Considerable complaint is heard about the catching and sale of unlawfully culled oysters about the harbor of Huntingfield creek these days. An oyster inspector is a necessity at that place. By having one there last Spring resulted in the saving of many hundreds of bushels of oysters, hence the excellent supply on the bars this fall. It is hoped that the "power that be," will supply Huntingfield and Rock Hall harbors with an inspector. Capt. Satterfield is unable to give the protection he feels the oysters ought to have by reason of the scattering locations of the buy boats. The buyers that harbor in Huntingfield, desire to see the law strictly enforced, but they will know, that if they refuse to buy the illegally culled oysters other buyers will take them. Then Huntingfield buyers may whistle for oysters in vain so long as others are about.

Mr. Arthur Greenwood, is home from the Conference Academy recuperating from a recent illness.

Miss M. A. Ryan after a two weeks visit at the paternal home returned to the City on Monday to resume her duties.

Fairlee Notes.

Local and Personal Notes. — In Salem M. E. Church at 2.30 p. m. Saturday, Presiding Elder W. F. Corkran will hold the 3rd quarterly conference for Salem and Union charge. On Sunday morning at 9.30 o'clock the Dr. will hold love feast in Salem church, and he will preach at 10.30.

Mr. Bertie Crouch has commenced a tasty dwelling on his lot adjoining the public school lot. Bertie wants to stop paying rent.

Mr. R. A. Smith has had his new dwelling papered and painted in-side, and it is now ready for occupancy.

Corn shelling is now the order with our machine men.

A quantity of poultry is being shipped to market on account of approaching Thanksgiving.

The weather still continues dry, and and farmers are much concerned about their wheat.

Miss Maud Hasson and James Willis were married at the home of Mrs. M. L. Corey near Melitota, last Monday at 8.30 o'clock A. M. A happy company witnessed the marriage, after which refreshments were served. The silken cord was tied into an inseparable knot by Rev. John M. Arters. The bridal company took the Sassafras river steamer from Buck Neck at 9.30 A. M. for the North via Baltimore and will be gone a week or more.

A gunning carnival is on hand and it is to be wondered that more accidents do not happen.

Great many dogs running rampant around our town.

Miss Ida Hudson returned from her extended trip to different cities on last Saturday.

The young people of our community were pleasantly entertained on last Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Lamb in honor of Miss Ford our assistant village school teacher.

Accident To Freight Train. — The wreck of P. W. & B. freight train No. 117, southbound on Saturday night, between Blackbird and Townsend was caused by the breaking of an axle of a freight car, which caused the cars to pile upon each other. Wreck trains and crews were sent out and the tracks cleared in about four hours. General Superintendent Brooks of the P. W. & B. railroad was in a special train en route north from a gunning trip and when the train pulled into Clayton he was notified. The special was run over the Baltimore & Delaware Bay railroad to Massey's and thence over the Queen Anne's & Kent to Townsend to the main line, thus going around the wreck, although covering 18 extra miles. Thus was the track from Massey to Clayton of service in getting around a wreck.

Start Right End Right.

TO MY TRADE:

We request you to read over and over again the above heading "Start Right" "End Right," besides being so in other things, the same is the case in merchandising. This may seem strange to you yet the majority of store keepers are not merchants, because why? The answer comes back to you they started wrong, not right. These days of competition require one to be on the alert for any economical penny saving points. We mention a few of ours that few have and consequently it means dollars to all Christmas buyers. Come to our place and get them. We buy for cash and sell for cash. No risk. We keep no books. No expensive books and bookkeeper—a saving. We discount—can and do—allows us to sell lower than others. We have our own sailing vessel to freight our goods—another saving. We could go on and tell more of our economical profit saving points to you, my trade, but think it best to let you call and inspect our already in stock Xmas goods.

OUR STOCK FRESH

consist of Rasins, Currants, Citron, Prunes, Apricots, English Walnuts, Almonds, Cranberries, Malaga Grapes, Apples, Oranges, Lemons, Bananas, Celery, Mince Meat, Plum Pudding 10c, 20c, 50c sizes, Hominy, Buckwheat, Pickle Pork, Sugar Cured Hams, Tarbell Cheese, Pettyjohn Breakfast Food, Hominy Grits.
