WEDDING EVENTS.

The old historical St. Paul's P. E. Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on the 8th inst. at 6.30 o'clock P. M. The contracting parties were Miss Edith C. Rees and Mr. Raymond Jones. Never did the church look more beautiful, than on this occasion; arches of evergreen spanned the aisles and chancel, under which the ceremony took place. In the wedding party were Mr. Lewin U. Skirven and Elwood Burgess ushers. Miss May Rees, sister of the bride, maid of honor. The bride approached altar on the arm of her brother Walter L. Reese, who gave her away. They were met at the altar by the groom and best man, Howard D. Rees, brother of the bride. Rev. C. T. Denroche performed the ceremony in his usual impressive manner. Mrs. Wm. G. Smyth, beautifully rendered the wedding march. The bride looked very sweet in her pretty white Persian lawn, trimmed with satin ribbons and carried white carnations. So also did the maid of honor, who wore white organdie and carried white carnations.

After receiving congratulations the bride and groom left amid showers of rice for the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary A. Rees, where a splendid wedding supper was served. Only the immediate family, ushers and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. Smyth were present.

The bride received many beautiful and useful presents. Mr. and Mrs. Jones will reside near St. Paul's Church, where Mr. Jones is engaged in farming. We wish them many happy years of married life.

Parks—McFeely.

The Observer thus speaks of the wedding of our fellow townsman, Mr. Claude Parks:

Amidst the blaze of brilliant lights and the melody of a dreamy waltz, two hearts met, when Miss Mary J. McFeely, daughter of Mr. Harry R. McFeely, a prominent insurance agent and retired farmer, of Centreville, and Mr. Claude Parks, oldest son of Mr. Rufus F. Parks, a well known merchant of Chestertown, were made known to each other. It was in the early part of Sept. 1900, at a Church Hill dance, this beginning of a short but fortuitous courtship. We say two hearts met, for those intimately acquainted with the principals, who have watched them as they floated along with the current of love, can have no doubt as to the existence of soul affinity. But a month later they were in company at the tournament dance. These were the beginnings of a love which strengthened and deepened as the months rolled by—a love which knew "no variableness, neither shadow of turning."

Last Sunday night at 7 o'clock Rev E. K. Creed blessed these two young people and made them one, the only witness being Mr. Lem. Roberts, a friend of the bride. When the news became spread around town little surprise was manifested; the expected had happened. For months past these two had been entirely devoted to each other and supremely happy in each others presence. At the dances attended by them, their attentiveness to each other was marked. There was but one outcome—last Sunday evening's event.

The bride was one of the most popular ladies of this town. A graceful dancer and a charming conversationalist, she had a large circle of admirers. The groom is a promising young business man, of Chestertown. He was formerly a student at Washington College. Mr. and Mrs. Parks will reside in Chestertown.

Loller—Tarbutton.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Tarbutton's home, near Melitota, was the scene of a very pretty wedding Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. One of the learned writers of old has truthfully wrote, "Life is but a drama," and one of the acts of two young lives was beautifully and gracefully done when they plighted their troth and joined their hands in holy matrimony. The contracting parties were Miss Ida, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Tarbutton, and Mr. Samuel C. Loller, the eldest son of Mr. Sam'l Loller. Promptly at the appointed time the bride and groom, preceded by the ushers, Mr. W. Sutton Tarbutton, brother of the bride, and Mr. Walter Gale, son of Mr. John Gale, and the maid of honor, Miss Ethel Loller, a cousin of the groom, entered the spacious parlor to the strains of Mendelsshon's wedding march, most beautifully rendered by Mrs. John P. Nicholson, where they were met by the Rev. E. C. Makosky, pastor of St. James M. P. Church, who in a very impressive ceremony pronounced them husband and wife. The bride was gowned in a beautiful satin Pernela dress, trimmed in white chiffon and panne velvet, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and ferns. The maid of honor was gowned in a beautiful dress of white organdie, trimmed in lace, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and ferns. The groom wore the conventional black with buttonniere of white carnations. The spacious parlor was beautifully trimmed with ropes of evergreen, hanging in graceful festoons from the sides and corners of the room to the centre, where a pretty marriage bell, with a golden clapper, hung over the happy couple as they said "I will" to the vows they made to God and each other.

The house was prettily trimmed throughout with evergreen and holly. The balusters of the stairways were entwined with evergreen which was very pretty and as one would move from room to room the different trimming showed that loving hearts and willing hands were diligent in showing the appreciation of the happy couple; they were recipients of many beautiful and useful presents consisting of pictures, silverware, dinner-sets, lamps, rugs, salad dishes, handsome rockers, chamber-sets and many other presents. Mr. and Mrs. Tarbutton served their guests with a splendid and bounteous supper, consisting of roast turkey and goose, chicken and potato salad, slaw, beef tongue, scalloped oysters and all the accessories to a first class supper. Mrs. Tarbutton was assisted in serving supper by Mrs. T. E. Crew, Miss Ida Crew, Mrs. A. S. Crawford, Mrs. Mason, Mrs. Frank Plummer, Misses Etta and Nellie Vansant. Mr. T. E. W. Crew and Mr. A. S. Crawford did the honor at the carving table most acceptably.

There were about 115 present. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Loller, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Makosky, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Nicholson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Crossley, Mrs. George Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. H. Tarbutton, Mr. and Mrs. B T. Crew, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Crew, Mr. W. Crew, Mr. C. H. Crew, Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Nicholson, Mrs. J. R. Usilton, Mr. and Mrs. Romie Skirven, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Satterfield, Mr. R. G. Nicholson, Mr. Van Dyke, Mr. George Van Dyke and Miss Lula Van Dyke, Mrs. C. Leager and son, of Baltimore, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Plummer, Mrs. Mason, and Mrs. Albert, of Balto. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Crew, Mr. and Mrs W. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Cooper Tarbutton, Dr. J. H. Hessey and wife Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rash, Mr. and Mrs. John Gale, Mrs. H. H. Rasin and daughter, Mr. Arthur and Carroll Loller, Misses Ethel Loller, Bessie Nicholson, Etta and Nellie Vansant, Laura Volk, Florence Jewell, Sadie Morris, Arsula Moffett, Viola Moffett, Clara Biddle and brother, Rachel Bacon and sister, Katie Kelley, Messrs. Skirven farm in Worton Point. GUEST.

Davis—Shuster.

The wedding of Mr. J. Frank Davis and Miss Mamye Pearl Shuster took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Shuster, in Wilmington, Wednesday at 4 P. M., Rev. C. A. Grise, Alfred Scott and Aloyscious Green officiating. Messrs. Jas. Shuster, brother of the bride, and Milbourn Davis, brother of the groom, acted as ushers. The home was tastily beautified with palms. An elegant luncheon was served at 2 P. M. to the guests and bridal party.

The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shuster, formerly of Chestertown, while the groom is the son of Mrs. Fannie Davis, of Chestertown, and a member of the firm of Davis Bros., printers, Wilmington. The bride wore a rich dress of pearl covered crepe de chene over lavender silk and carried bride's roses. After the ceremony Mr. and Mr. Davis went on a trip North and will take up their residence at 304 West St. They received a number of very pretty presents. Misses Emma and Lizzie Davis and Mrs. W. F. Russell attended the wedding from Chestertown.

Smith—Legar.

To the straius of Lohengrin's march executed by Mrs. Nan Pierce Morgan, last Tuesday night at 7 o'clock, Mr. S. Olin Smith and Effie Legar marched to the altar and were united in the bonds of wedlock by Rev. E. C. Wright, pastor of Calvary M. E. Church, Sudlersville. The church was beautifully decorated with evergreen and white ribbon and while the marriage ceremony was being read, the bride and groom stood under an evergreen bell tied with white ribbon. The ushers were Messrs. Lee and John Smith, Leslie Wallace and Chas. Chance. The bride was becoming attired in Paris muslin. A reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the home of the groom, where refreshments consisting of fruits, cakes and ices were served. The bride was the recipient of many useful and valuable presents.

COMING TO TOWN?

High Officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad in Chestertown on Wednesday.

Major E. F. Brooks, general superintendent of the Pennsylvania Railroad, J. B. Brook, train master, Frank Duane, assistant engineer and Col. Holiday, superintendent of the Delaware divison, came to Chestertown Wednesday and thoroughly inspected the property here. They walked over the route of the old railroad from the depot to their wharf on Chester river and were favorably impressed. A petition has been circulated here asking that the company change the location of their depot nearer the centre of town. A lot at the foot of Cross street is being recommended as a site for the new depot.

The present site is certainly inconvenient to the public, and especially to the business men who have to use the telegraph office, which is also located there. The new management are very anxious to serve the public and we feel confident they will do all in their power to improve Chestertown's railroad facilities at an early date.

THE steamer Louise, of the Tolchester Company, is at the ship yards and being newly fitted up. A new boiler is being placed in the steamer and other costly improvements made in her.

Two fine Belton geldings were sold recently by Mr. Wm. Clarke, of Queen Anne's, to Baltimore parties for $750. The animals are 4 years old and make a well-mated pair.

HERMAN HENDRICKS takes the cake for trading horses having made ten different trades in one day.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

Mr. John Wethered Janvier died at his home near Kennedyville last Friday afternoon of cancer, aged 41 years. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, interment at Shrewsbury, Undertaker J. E. Ferguson in charge of funeral arrangements. The deceased was unmarried and made his home with his brother, Mr. Wm Janvier. The bearers were W. H. Wallis, L. J. Usilton, P. G. Wilmer, Thos. Quigley, Thos. Bradley, H. C. Derringer.

Mrs. S. Blanche Pote.

After a long illness, Mrs. S. Blanche McKnett Pote, died at her home at Cardiff, Md., Wednesday night, aged about 30, leaving a husband and a fine son. The funeral services will be held in Kennedyville M. P. Church Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. Louis Randall officiating. The pall-bearers will be Dr. Barwick, Elias Othoson, Jesse R. Copper, Thos. Godwin, Richard Rasin, W. M. Hurlock. Undertaker Dodd will have charge of funeral arrangements.

She is the daughter of Mrs. S. A. and the late W. W. McKnett, of Urieville, and from a child had that sweet disposition which made her a favorite everywhere she went.

She was married several years ago to Mr. Wm. A. Pote, a successful merchant of Kennedyville, but on account of delicate health they removed to the Western Shore several months ago. Everything possible was done for her and loving friends aided the devoted mother in ministering to her daughter. The last evening she was in Kennedyville a host of friends was there to bid her good-bye and to pray for her recovery.

The deceased had been from early life a faithful member of Kennedyville M. P. Church, and was recognized far and near as a Christian woman of the highest type—her deed kept pace with her words, and her sweet spirit and gentle demeanor won the respect and love of all with whom she had to do. For many years she taught the Urieville public school and Kent county never had a more efficient teacher nor one who had the esteem and confidence of her pupils. As a singer she was a grand success and rarely refused when her services were asked. Her voice was sympathetically sweet and during revival services she would always be at her place at the organ leading in the singing and earnestly pleading with the unsaved to turn to the Lord.

Though she has gone from us and her body lies deep beneath the sod in the silent city of the dead, the balmy breezes sigh in the willows unheeded above her, and the rain falls upon her grave, she will not be forgotten. So the years come and go, but after successive winter's snows have fallen and the summer flowers have bloomed and withered again, the name of Blanche McKnett Pote will be enshrined in many hearts by the recollection of her generous deeds and sacrificing life.

Mrs. Elizabeth Fowler.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Fowler, widow of Thomas Fowler, died at the home of her son, John W. Fowler, Flatlands, on Tuesday, aged 78 years, 10 months and 4 days, of infirmities incident to old age. She leayes four sons, viz., John W., Isaac E., Joseph L., Alonzo P. The interment took place in Union cemetery Thursday, Rev. E. C. Makoskey officiating. The pall bearers were Wm. Vansant, James A. French, Walter T. Morris, W. W. Newcomb, Purnell Jefferson, Alexander Bacon. Undertaker J. N. Dodd was in charge of the arrangements.

Thus another of the old mothers of Worton has been laid in her last resting place on earth. A good, kind, sacrificing mother, a kind and affectionate wife and loving friend, like the withered leaf, has dropped into mother earth, and the soul has gone to the God who gave it. May her children emulate her virtues and take heed to the admonitions of the words spoken over her remains by her pastor and be prepared to meet the summons when the Lord shall see fit to call them.

Mrs. Mary Mitchel, wife of Charles Mitchel, died at her home at Worton Friday night, aged 33 years. An infant twin died at the same time.

Mrs. Wm. B. Wilmer.

Ada Leonora, beloved wife of Mr. Wm. B. Wilmer, died at the home of her husband in Morgnec on Wednesday, January 15th, aged 35. The deceased was the pretty daughter of Mrs. Maria L. and the late George A. Jessop and was a belle in the wide circle in which she moved. She was a devoted and loving wife and it was her untiring watchfulness and care of those she loved that caused her sad demise, having nursed a child through a spell of Pneumonia and soon after contracted the disease. She leaves a husband and six small children.

The funeral services will take place to-day, 1 P. M. at St. Paul's P. E. Church where she was a devoted member, Rev. C. T. Denroche officiating. The pall bearers will be Messrc. R. D. Hynson, Horace B. Constable, Page Gale, Merritt Miller, P. A. M. Brooks, Philip G. Wilmer. Undertaker Dodd will have charge of funeral.

The funeral of Mr. Theo. E. Hayes held last Saturday afternoon was largely attended and the details carried out as outlined in the NEWS. His will made a few years ago will be probated in a few weeks. He leaves a large estate to his widow value at $90,000.

THE cattle sale advertised for next Saturday has been recalled. Mr. Richardson was unable to get the kind of stock he wanted, and refused to have any.

THERE were fourteen weddings reported in the KENT NEWS last week. May the brides and grooms prove constant and live useful and happy lives.

"DEATH" HIS LAST WORD.

They are Crossing the Mystic River One by One—Albert Medders Dies While Reading of His Friend, Mr. T. E. Hayes', Death.

Mr. Albert Medders, a former resident of this county, who made his home at 646 North Carey street, Baltimore, for past 11 years, died suddenly about 5 o'clock last Saturday afternoon in the dining-room of his home. Two of Mr. Medders' son are physicians, but neither was home when he was fatally stricken. Drs. John Zeff and Z. K. Wiley were hastily summoned. On their arrival they said that Mr. Medders' death was instantaneous. Coroner Baldwin of the Northwestern district, made an investigation unnecessary, death resulting from heart failure.

Mr. Medders had been in excellent health, and shortly before his death he had been down town. On returning home he entered the dining room, where his wife was sitting, and opened a Kent county newspaper. One of the first items that met his eyes was an obituary notice of Theodore Hayes, of Chestertown. Mr. Hayes and Mr. Medders were friends, and Mr. Medders started to tell his wife about his death when he was stricken. One of Mr. Medders' daughters who was standing near, said her father muttered the word "death," and as he did so his head dropped to one side. When she reached him he was dead.

Mr. Medders was born in Galena, this county, 73 years ago and was a son of the late John Medders. For a number of years he was a merchant in Kent county. He took an active part in Democratic politics and was elected to the House of Delegates in 1860.

He married Miss Caroline Virginia Boyd, daughter of the late David Boyd, of Frederick, Md., survives him. Mr. Medders also leaves three sons and three daughters. Their names are: Drs. D. A. and C. H. Medders, of Baltimore; Mr. William Medders, the successful Still Pond merchant, and Misses Mary R., Ellen S. and Carolyn Mck. Medders.
