A BEAUTIFUL EDIFICE.

The New Church to be Erected in Washington by Rev. John M. Gill.

The Washington Evening Star, of Washington, D. C, last Saturday had a good picture of the new Central M. P. Church to be erected by the congregation of which Rev. J. M. Gill, formerly of Chestertown, is pastor. It says:

"The congregation of the Central Methodist Protestant Church will erect a new edifice on the northeastern corner of First street and Rhode Island avenue northwest, from plans prepared by Jas. F. Denson, architect. The exterior will be constructed of pressed brick with a liberal amount of stone trimmings, the design being known as English Gothic. Entrance will be gained to the main auditorium through three generous doorways, in each of the three sides of main tower at the corner. There will also be minor entrances to the Sunday-school room on 1st street, on account of the peculiar shape of the lot, it being a decided acute angle, having a frontage on Rhode Island avenue of 78 feet and on 1st street, with only 30 feet on the rear line, a novel and well arranged plan is possible. While the main auditorium will not be a rectangle, it will be entirely symmetrical, having each of its opposite sides and angles equal, thus giving a very pretty room, with its domed ceiling and open timber trusses, radiating from each corner to a central post from which will hang the chandelier. Around this central post will be the colored lantern in the center of the room.

The pulpit platform will be placed in the corner of the auditorium directly opposite and on the axis of the tower. The choir gallery will be placed about three free above and behind the pulpit platform.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ROOM.

Adjoining the auditorium in the rear will be the main Sunday-school room. The two rooms will be separated by rolling partitions. This room will be ample and a perfect rectrangle. Directly connecting with this room will be the infant class room, elevated three steps above the main room by a rolling partition.

In the basement there will be a dining-room of ample capacity, kitchen pantry and boiler room. Provisions will be made for ventilation by changing the air in the entire building every 20 minutes, thereby providing the congregation with pure, wholesome air at all times. The building will be heated by direct and indirect radiation.

Mistletoe.

The prettiest thing about mistletoe is its milky white opalescent berries. The stems and foliage seem to betray the parasite nature of the plant in their unwholesome shade of green, a peculiarly unwholesome shade characterizing the stems. It is an uncanny sort of plant. Most parasites are. Is there anything more positively ghostlike than the plant we know as Indian pipe (monotropa)?

Look For Good Points.

"If we'd spend only half as much time as the photographer does trying to see people in the best light," said the philosopher, "we'd have a much better opinion of everybody."—Indianapolis News.

Planked Shad At Home.—Shad will soon be plentiful in Kent and the wives from Galena to Rock Hall be devising means to make them appetising for their husbands, children and visitors. Try them planked, they are fine and delicious.

The plank wherewith to prepare the shad can be readily obtained in the shops. It is shown in various sizes. One, 11x22 inches, costs $1 25; a plank 12x22 inches, $1.45, and the royal shad plank measuring 21x14 inches, $1.50. Each of these planks is furnished at the back with a metal rod with which to stand the plank up before the fire. In front there are two rods that cross. These are to hold the fish down. The plank itself should be well-seasoned. The best thing to accomplish the seasoning process is use. The juices of the fish and the heat of flame seem to give a delicious flavor to the board, which is in turn imparted to the shad. The fish should not only be cooked upon the board, but served upon it as well. To prepare a shad for planking, split it open, wipe it dry, and if possible remove the backbone. Place the skin-side down upon the plank and fasten it. Spread the fish with butter and season with salt and pepper. It should be cooked in a hot oven from twenty-five to thirty minutes. When it is done add some bits of butter, a little more salt, a sprinkling of paprica and one tablespoonful of minced parsley.

Black Diamond Tunnel COMPANY.

No mining proposition of equal merit has been offered to the public in many years.

It is practically a developed property. The Company owns five claims from which it will get all the ore. It is guaranteed a half-interest in fifteen other mines which it will cut, drain and open.

We have but 400 feet to run before cutting the first vein, equal to tht great Highlander vein; this will take but three months, and from this vein alone a dividend of 6 per cent. on the capital stock will be earned. Ih three months more two other veins of equal value will be cut, and the earnings correspondingly increased. It will thus be seen that these three veins within six months will be earning 18 per cent. on the capital stock, or 36 per cent. on the amount invested, at the present price of 50c., and in 18 months, when the full mile shall have been run, the earnings will average not less than 100 per cent. on the par value, nor is this at all singular. The ore bodies of the Ainsworth Camp are practically inexhaustible, and it is maintained that they will be as long lived as mines in Spain, such as the "Rio Tinto" and the great "Inca" workings in Peru and the Argentine.

The strong features of the Black Diamond Tunnel Company are:

1. This is a property already opened and proved.
2. It has ample water powers and Mills already installed and running.
3. It has ample timber on the ground.
4. It is within 7 0 feet of transportation.
5. It is managed by well known Philadelphians.
6. Its main office is in Philadelphia.
7. It has great reserves of ore in sight.
8. It will make immediate and large returns, thus increasing the value of the stock.
9. All features of risk having been eliminated, the Black Diamond Tunnel Company is now a business proposition, under honest and economical management, entirely free of floating or bonded indebtedness, and with great reserves of ore.
10. And finally—Of the Black Diamond Tunnel Co.'s first allotment of 200,000 shares at 50c. per share, 175,000 have been sold to date: 25,000 at 50c. still remain. After this is sold the price will be advanced to 75c. per share for the next 50,000 shares, and $1.00 per share for the remaining 50,000 shares. The stock will then be withdrawn from the market.

The stock will, within a year, we are confident, give to the purchaser $5 00 for every one now invested.

Shares at present 50c., par value $1.00, full paid and non assessable.

HERMAN

HERMAN, the well-known draft horse, will make the season of 1902 in Kent county, beginning March 20th and ending June 20th. This is said to be the best draft stallion in the county, having taken the first premium at the Tolchester Fair two seasons. Farmers needing good horses for general utility would do well by breeding to this noble horse.
