

Mrs. D. Arnold, President German Woman's Club, Grand Pacific Hotel, Los Angeles, Cal., Relieved of a Tumor by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered four years ago with a tumor in my womb, and the doctors declared I must go to the hospital and undergo an operation, which I dreaded very much and hesitated to submit.

"My husband consulted an old friend who had studied medicine, although he was not a practising physician, and he said he believed that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure me. That same day I took my first dose, and I kept it up faithfully until twelve bottles had been used, and not only did the tumor disappear, but my general health was very much improved and I had not felt so well since I was a young woman.

"As I have suffered no relapse since, and as I took no other medicine, I am sure that your Compound restored my health and I believe saved my life."—MRS. D. ARNOLD.

Miss Caroline M. Anthony, Who Was a Nurse in Cuba, Visits Kent—Three Letters Showing a History of Her Family.

Miss Caroline M. Anthony, who was a nurse in Cuba during the Spanish-American War, spent several days in Kent. Miss Anthony remainded in Cuba for some time after the close of the war, during which time she contracted yellow fever. She expects to return to the Island Republic in the near future. Miss Anthony was a daughter of Wayne Anthony, and a grand-daughter of John Anthony, who was a Revolutionary soldier, and fought under General Wayne, familiary known as "Mad" Anthony. She was raised in Kent county and recently paid a visit to friends near Georgetown, Kent county. She has in her posession three interesting letters, from Capt. Andrew Woodall, Philip F. Rosin and Cornelius J. Scott, which prove that she is a descendant from a Revolutionary soldier. Miss Anthony had a copy made of the letters, above referred to, by Magistrate Philip M. Groves, who will send them to Washington, D. C., in order that her cousin, Mrs. Harry T. Alexander, may be elected a member of the Society of Daughters of Revolution. Miss Anthony is already a member of the society. The letters read as follows:—

Georgetown, Md., May 6th, 1899.

Miss Caroline M. Anthony,

Dear Miss:—Your favor duly received. In reply am pleased to say that I was acquainted with your father, Wayne Anthony, and in my boyhood knew your grand-father, John Anthony, and remember of his death and burial on his land, one mile from Georgetown on Sassafras river. He at the time of his death owned considerable real estate between this town and Galena, including a mill property. Since his death his heirs have disposed of all his property, and which is now owned by several parties, one of them being a member of your family. She is Mrs. Koss. Your grand father was known to all his acquaintances as a Revolutionary soldier and fought under Anthony Wayne, and your father, as you know was named Wayne Anthony after him. Your grand father's remains yet lie where buried, as I do not remember of them being removed. His death occurred about 1836. The property above referred to is on the east side of the road, about one and one-half miles between Georgetown and Galena, present owners being Mrs. Prettyman, Miss Jervis, Mrs. Koss, Mr. Scott, Mr. Todd Mr. Hynson, Mr. Walls, Mrs. Horsey, Mr. Crisfield and Mr. Burns. The latter is the owner of the site of John Anthony's house and burial place. My age is 81 years April 24th, 1900. Yours Respectfully,

A. WOODALL.

A letter from Philip F. Rosin, reads as follows:

I, Philip F. Rosin, of Kent county, State of Maryland, born and raised therein, and now in my seventy-fourth year, state that I knew John Anthony who lived at his Mill, near Georgetown Cross Roads (now Galena), in this county and State of Maryland, who was reputed to have been a Revolutionary soldier and I was present at his funeral about the year of eighteen hundred and thirty five or eighteen hundred and thirty-six, which occurred at his late residence above named, and I witnessed his burial with the honors of war, it having been acknowledged by all the neighborhood that he had been a Revolutionary solier with an honorable discharge. Given under my hand, signed,

PHILIP F. ROSIN.

GALENA, MD., October 3rd, 1898.

A lady called at my house last night and represented that her name was Caroline Anthony, a daughter of the late Wayne Anthony, with whom I was well acquainted and upon intimate terms. She said that she was a trained nurse and had been with the sick with the yellow tever on the Island of Cuba, and expected to return in a short time and take her place in the hospital. But before returning she wished to learn some history of her family on her father's side, and applied to me for information, I having lived longer in this village than any other living person; and lived longer in this neighborhood than any other person, except Capt. Andrew Woodall, who has resided in Georgetown, about one and one-half miles from this village.

Wayne Anthony was the son of John Anthony, a reputed soldier of the Revolutionary War, and was with Washington at Yorktown, and saw Lord Cornwallis surrender his sword to the commander in-chief, although I have of late seen it stated that Washington would not receive the sword, but appointed another to do so. But I believe Mr. John Anthony was right when he said it was Washington whom he saw receive the sword. The Anthonys always had four peculiar characteristics for which they were noted—high temper, fearlessness, truthfulness and honesty. From my earliest recollection John Anthony owned and run the grist mill, between Galena and Georgetown, to the time of his death, which was in the summer of 1835 or 1836. I have been told that the ownership dated back to the last century. He also owned a tract of land of about two hundred acres purchased by George W. Wilson within my recollection, adjoining the mill property, and on the eastern side of the public road from Georgetown to Galena, connecting them. I was not present at the burial, being absent from home, but know where his remains lie, and know that he was buried with the honors of war. He was a man of considerable means. He was reputed to be about eighty years of age at the time of his death. John Anthony was a Spaniard by birth, but was naturalized or adopted this country as his home and married here. He had five children, Wayne, named after "Mad" Anthony Wayne, who married Miss Brown and left children; he married a second wife and left children. Benjamin arrived at his majority but died single. Fannie married Benjamin Jervis and left one child. I think I have an indistinct recollection of another daughter, named Caroline, whom I think married a Kendall. I can't speak positive of the last named. My father was his family physician for many years, and I have often heard him relate the trials and hardships as told by Mr. Anthony during his experience as a Revolutionary soldier. I knew the old gentleman very well, and he was kind to small boys, of whom I was one, about giving them cherries, apples, peaches and pears from his orchards, but he always restricted them. Unfortunate for the boy or man who went beyond his limits in quantity or quality of fruit, or of space in his orchards. While it was always conceded by the old men of the neighborhood that he was a Revolutionary soldier and was at the surrender of Cornwallis, he was always modest in speaking of his services in that cause. I am satisfied that old Mr. Anthony was a spaniard, as Spanish characteristics were never marked in any one more than in him. And I know that he was a Revolutionary soldier and was at the surrender of Cornwallis as well as I know George Washington was there at that time—one by the written history of the country and the other by the written history of the neighborhood. I am in the seventy-eighth year of my age, and have always lived in this village and know wherof I am writing.

Out of Plumb.

When the wall is out of plumb the building is more or less unsafe, and the higher the wall is carried out of the perpendicular the greater the danger of collapse. It's about so with the health; it is out of plumb when the digestion is impaired, when there is a dull, sluggish feeling, with nervousness, irritability and sleeplessness. Every day that these symptoms are neglected increases the liability to physical collapse.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It purifies the blood and cures nervousness, irritability and sleeplessness by curing the diseases in which they originate.

"For three years I suffered untold agony," writes Mrs. H. R. White, of Stanstead, Stanstead Co., Quebec. "I would have spells of trembling and being sick at my stomach, pain in right side all the time; then it would work up into my stomach and—such distress it is impossible to describe. I wrote to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, stating my case to them, and they very promptly answered and told me what to do. I took eight bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and five vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Thanks to Dr. Pierce and his medicine I am a well woman to-day. Dr. Pierce's medicines also cured my mother of liver complaint from which she has been a sufferer for fifteen years. We highly recommend these medicines to all suffering people."

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book containing 1008 pages, is given away. Send 21 one-cent stamps for expense of mailing only, for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the volume bound in cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

HOUSEWORK

Too much housework wrecks women's nerves. And the constant care of children, day and night, is often too trying for even a strong woman. A haggard face tells the story of the overworked housewife and mother. Deranged menses, leucorrhœa and falling of the womb result from overwork. Every housewife needs a remedy to regulate her menses and to keep her sensitive female organs in perfect condition.

WINE OF CARDUI

is doing this for thousands of American women to-day. It cured Mrs. Jones and that is why she writes this frank letter:

Glendeane, Ky., Feb. 10, 1901.

I am so glad that your Wine of Cardui is helping me. I am feeling better than I have felt for years. I am doing my own work without any help, and I washed last week and was not one bit tired. That shows that the Wine is doing me good. I am getting fleshier than I ever was before, and sleep good and eat hearty. Before I began taking Wine of Cardui, I used to have to lay down five or six times every day, but now I do not think of lying down through the day.
