Trustee's Sale

OF ONE OF THE MOST VALUABLE ESTATES IN KENT COUNTY KNOWN AS THE

"WICKLIFFE FARM"

Containing 375 Acres of Land.

BY VIRTUE of a decree of the Circuit Court for Kent county, Maryland, passed in chancery cause entitled Charlotte A. Strong et. al. vs. Robert Wickes et. al., being No. 1381, wherein Hope H. Barroll was appointed Trustee to sell the real estate hereafter described, the undersigned will offer at public sale in front of the Court House Door, in Chestertown, Maryland, on

TUESDAY, May 27, 1902

Between the hours of 11 A. M. and 12 o'clock noon, ALL THAT

Valuable Plantation

OR ESTATE, CONTAINING

375 ACRES

OF LAND, situate, lying and being on Eastern Neck Island, in Kent county. Maryland, on the waters of the Chester river and the Chesapeake Bay. This is one of the handsomest and most desirable estates on the Chesapeake Bay. Its peculiar location, lying as it does at the mouth of Chester river, at this point three miles wide, with the waters of the Chester river on the east side and those of the Chesapeake Bay on the west, with an unsurpassed river and bay view, make it one of the most valuable tracts of land now on the market. For years past PEACHES FROM THIS FARM AND EASTERN NECK ISLAND have commanded the HIGHEST MARKET PRICES in Baltimore and other markets. It has been many years since any estate as fine as this on the Island has been offered for sale. The land is well adapted to the growth of all Grains, Fruits, Berries, Grass and everything else which can be grown on the most productive soils in Kent. It is within one mile of the wharf of the Chester River Steamboat Co., on Eastern Neck Island. The shores of the farm are close to the interesting, valuable and LARGEST OYSTER BEDS; the Fisheries here are valuable, and for the last century its shores have been known for its fine Swan, Wild Geese and Duck Shooting.

The Fine Dwelling

is a large and commodious FRAME STRUCTURE of Ten or Twelve Rooms, with a wide and attractive Porch, surrounded by ample shade. There is a Barn, Stable, Dairy, Meat House and other buildings on the farm. Any one wishing a home on the shores of the Chesapeake Bay, or to any one desiring a profitable investment, this farm offers a most attractive opportunity. It is about six miles from the thrifty and thriving village of Rock Hall, the proposed terminus of the projected Kent County Railroad, and the last landing of the Centreville Line of Steamers, in daily communication with Baltimore. The present tenant of the farm is Mr. James E. Newcomb, who will take pleasure in showing it to any intending purchaser. This estate was formerly the residence of the late James P. Wickes.

TERMS OF SALE:—As prescribed by the decree are one-third of the purchase money cash on the day of sale, and the residue in two equal installments, payable in one and two years respectively. All unpaid purchase money to bear interest from the day of sale and to be secured by the note or notes of the purchaser, to the satisfaction of the trustee. All title papers at cost of purchaser.

HOPE H. BARROLL, TRUSTEE.

J. H. GREENWOOD, Auct'r.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

Notice is hereby given to all the creditors of the late Charlotte A. Wickes and all other persons who may be interested in the proceeds of the sale of this estate, to file their claims on or before the 26th day of August, 1902, duly authenticated, with the Clerk of the Circuit Court for Kent county, otherwise they may by law be excluded from any share in the distribution of the proceeds of sale in this cause. After that date an audit will be stated, distributing the trust estate.

HOPE H. BARROLL, TRUSTEE.

Any intending purchaser can make satisfactory terms by arranging with the undersigned for assistance in compliance with the terms of sale.

LIVING ON $6 A WEEK.

How a Family of Five Make Both Ends Meet in New York City—The Wife's Sacrifice.

The man who wrote this letter lives with his family in two room second-story back of a downtown house. The neighborhood is not pleasant and the other occupants of the house are neither cleanly nor desirable persons from any point of view.

He is forty. His wife is twenty-eight They have two small boys and a baby. He earns his wages of $6.00 a week by working as sort of general utility man in a factory, and he is glad, very glad, of these six dollars to take home each Saturday night, for he and his wife and the boys and the baby have known what it is the past winter.

The furniture consists of a bed, a trunk, a table, a lamp and a stove.

"Home, Sweet Home" worked in red worsted hangs over the door.

"Fifteen dollars a week!" said his wife wistfully. "Why, I could live like a queen on fifteen dollars a week. I could buy everything we need and save money besides. It seems a great deal of money.

"It's true, quite true, that we live on six dollars a week. Do we have enough to eat! She shrugged her shoulders and her face flushed—"Well, sometimes. He does, my husband, because he works; he needs more. He's a good man and does the best he can. I go without myself to put more in his dinner pail. He doesn't know, and I can get along someway.

"You see," and she smiled triumphantly. "I take a cup of coffee or tea and I can go all day on that. It's just that much saved for him and the children. I buy a pound of coffee a week and then I get an essence which comes for the purpose that I put in it. No, it doesn't taste much like coffee, but it is black.

"The children eat so much. And the baby! What a great deal he would eat if he had it! I pay twenty-one cents a week for his milk alone—a pint a day. The children have soups and stews. I buy a pound of stewing meat, which costs twelve cents; then there is three cents, or perhaps four, for a vegetable or something extra, and eleven cents for bread. That's all we spend a day; a pound of sugar and a quarter of a pound of tea. I go from place to place in the market seeing where I can buy the cheapest. I dare not spend one penny that is not necessary. Our rent is $5 a month, so I must save $1.25 a week toward it. My husband's business is thirty blocks away, so ten cents a day goes for car fare. Once in awhile I buy him a shirt, or a pair of stockings for the children or shoes. But the shoes we can afford are so cheap that go all to pieces in no time at all. But what can I do? I can only do the best I know. Sometimes I do not see how we are going to get through the week and when each week ends I say "Thank God it is over.'

"The children go to school. I will keep them in school. They must have an education. Their father is smart; he can do anything; but he is so unlucky. The unluckiest man I eyer saw. He can keep books and do lots of things. He has a good education in German and so willing to work, but he has been unfortunate since he came to this country.

"I am twenty-eight, but I look older, don't I?

"People who used to know me, see me and they say, 'How you have changed! Are you getting along well?' And I always, say 'Fine,' but I'm not very well—the baby and all that. I would not tell the truth for the world. See, my lips are dry, my voice is hoarse. It's weakness—that's all. I wouldn't be so if I could have all I want to eat. I used to have red cheeks and was strong, but I'm not like that now.

"We're Germans. We came from Pottsville here, and, oh! we had a hard time at first. It's almost a blank to me. I cannot seem to remember much about it now, except that we were so desperate. We have never asked or told any one. I would starve with my children before I would go to a charity inn or ask charity.

"We are getting along now; at least, it is much, much better, and perhaps after awhile he will get eight dollars or ten dollars. Then we will be comfortable." And the plucky little woman, the loyal, self-sacrificing little woman, smiled brightly through the tears which filled her brown eyes.

"But, $15 a week," she continued, "and puzzled how to live upon it. It seems so strange to me."
