Mrs. Louis P. Atwell returned home from Philadelphia on Saturday, her sister Mrs. Rachel Stradly expects to return this week.

Mrs. J. L. Sheppard and Mrs. Banard, of Middletown, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sheppard on Wednesday morning.

There is one exceedingly bad boy in this town. He throws stones at your house in the doorway and in the yard and kills chickens, goes to your back gate and grins at you, slaps the smaller boys in their faces, shoots off his rifle in the boys faces and in fact he is the worst I ever saw, he surely should be arrested he yells on the street from morning until night-time. We do want a constable bad here.

Dr. I. Ritchie, of Middletown, was in Sassafras on Wednesday.

James J. Gayley, of Pittsburg, Pa., will deliver the address to the Graduating class of the West Nottingham Academy at Colora, he was a former student and spent all his early boyhood life in the rectory there as his father was the Presbyterian clergyman there for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Griffith and children, were the guests of her mother Mrs. W. R. Lockwood, of near Warwick, on Sunday last.

Wilbert Staats, of Fairlee, is visiting his aunt, Mr. James Davis near town.

An Extravagant Job.

CHESTERTOWN, May 19, 1902.

I was surprised to read in the NEWS a few weeks ago that our county commissioners had decided to build an iron draw on a wood foundation. This to my mind is a foolish act. But it is the great difference between the cost of an iron and wooden draw that I wish to call to the attention of the public. Chester river draw never was any trouble until the center pins were cut nor did it cost one dollar for repairs.

The bed was repaired a few years ago at considerable expense and should last 25 or 30 years. The iron is all good and with some blacksmith work it should last 20 years or more. A good draw kept painted will last 17 or 19 years. If we count the difference in interest on the cost of the iron draw with cylinder base and cost of the wooden draw there will be a saving to the county of from five to seven thousand dollars by building a wooden draw. A wooden draw will work just as easy as an iron draw and will only cost one-sixth as much.
