OLNEY DRAWS MORAL

He Declares Operators' Attitude a Sign of the Times—The Republican Party's Policy, He Declares, Has Developed a Condition Which Can't Be Changed Too Soon.

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—The Democratic Club of Massachusetts gave a dinner here to-night to Col. William A. Gaston, the party's candidate for Governor.

Over 250 party followers at the dinner listened to speeches by Richard Olney, former Secretary of State; Charles S. Hamlin, Josiah Quincy, John R. Thayer, Congressman from the Third district; Henry Hollis, Democratic candidate for Governor of New Hamphire, and Col. Gaston. Mr. Olney who made the principal speech, said:

"I welcome the opportunity to declare my belief not only that the Democratic party is now heading in the right direction and is tolerably sure of ultimately recovering its old-time ascendency, but that this result is essential to the welfare of the American people. There is one aspect of the present situation to which I desire to briefly call your attention.

"The vital principal, as well as distinguishing merit, of our political institutions consists in liberty regulated by law. With the exception of the two Cleveland administrations, the Republican party has been in control of the national Government for a period of more than 40 years. Where it has landed us as respects liberty I will not now consider. But where has it landed us as respects law, which has no right to the name unless it is the same for the millionaire and for the beggar?

"The signs of the times are that under the regime of the Republican party and through the national Government's 40 years of partnership with the protected industries we have come to a pass where public officials, as well as private citizens, deem themselves above the law.

"Witness the zealous haste with which the Treasury rushed to the relief of Wall street speculators by a novel and forced construction of the National Banking law. Witness the astonishing proceeding of the same department in its instruction to subordinate officers respecting the duties to be collected on coal.

Cites The Coal Strikes.

"But the generally lawless atmosphere in which protected Republican reign has enveloped us is eyen more strikingly illustrated by the recent Presidential demonstration upon the coal srtike. There are those who say that as the President disclaimed any official duty or relation to the matter, he should not have interfered. There is something to be said for that view.

"Though his office is charged with great functions and invested with great powers, the President is a constitutional officer, whose sphere of action is strictly limited by law. Within that sphere he is well nigh absolute; without, he is legally impotent. When, therefore, he goes without the danger is that he may fail and be defied, and that his great office may lose prestige and power and thus be less capable of performing its legitimate duties.

"Snapping Fingers in His Face."

"The President, for example, is our representative with foreign powers. Will it strengthen his hands that some half a dozen private citizens are found snapping their fingers in his face? The President's overtures to the coal operators was prompted by the best motives and should have been treated with respectful consideration. It should have been declined courteously even if firmly.

"But the opportunity to administer a snub to the President was too tempting. Accordingly, he was not only treated as a rash intermeddler; he was also lectured upon the law and facts of the case, and, to crown all, was notified that the cause of the trouble was lawlessness, which he was sarcastically invited to suppress.

"For sheer audacity this attitude of the coal operators could hardly be matched, and nothing could more forcibly emphasize the disrepute into which the law of the land has been brought by long-continued Republican domination.

"Wholly Immune" from Law.

"Yet, who were they who were so insistent upon the suppression of lawlessness in the mining region? Why, the most unblushing and persistent of lawbreakers. For years they have defied the laws of Pennsylvania which forbids common carriers engaging in the business of mining. For years they have discriminated between customers in the freight charges on their railroads in violation of the Interstate Commerce law. For years they have unlawfully monopolized interstate commerce in violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust law. Indeed, the very best excuse and explanation of their astonishing attitude at the Washington conference is that, having violated so many laws for long and so many times, they might rightfully think they were wholly immune from either punishment or reproach.

"It is sometimes urged in extenuation of the coal operators' foolishly offensive tone at the conference that they were enraged at the recognition of labor unions and the presence by invitation of their representative If that be so they must be as blind to the salient facts of the era they are living in as they are oblivious of legal obligations.

Labor's Right To Combine.

"In these days of combination by capital on a scale and to an extent as startling as it is unprecedented can they possibly imagine that labor is to be denied an equivalent right of combination? If they do, it is only another instance of their complete indifference to the law of the land.

"In 1894 receivers of a railroad were brought into court on a claim that laborers ought not to be discharged because of membership in a labor union. Though the court was a Federal court it sat in Pennsylvania, and the petitioners got nothing from that court But what followed? In a year or two Pennsylvania made it a criminal offense to deprive a man of work because he belonged to a labor union. In 1898 Congress not only did the the same thing, but in a statute providing for the arbitration of labor disputes expressly made labor organizations parties to such arbitration. This was in addition to the previous legislation by Congress encouraging and providing for the incorporation of labor unions. In ignoring them, therefore, the coal operators simply ignore and condemn the law of the land.

Says It's Time To Change.

"I will detain you, Mr. Chairman, but a moment longer. In the course of the political campaign now going on Republican orators are sure to wax eloquent in deprecating change. To all such oratory, while there are many good answers, there is one that is conclusive.

"Law supreme and equal for all men is to the American people what the Ark of the Covenant was to the Jews of old. While we have it we need not fear for our safety; when we lose it we are far advanced on the high road to ruin. Hence, if we would not enter upon that road, change and the displacement of Republicanism cannot come too soon or too decisively."

A Rainy Year.—The year 1902 gives promise of passing into meteorological records as a wet one. At present the excess of rainfall since January 1 is about five inches, and if no more rain should fall from now until January 1, 1903, an improbable event, the year will have had an average precipitation. It is almost certain to show an excess. The first month of the year was dry, as were also May, July and August. But each of the other five months showed an excess of moisture. June was the wettest month, a little over six inches of rain having fallen, giving it the highest record in this respect for thirty years with two exceptions only. Most of the rain in that month fell during the last ten days of June, and the wet period lapped over into the first three days of July. During those thirteen days six inches of rain fell. But that precipitation will be rivaled by the precipitation in the period beginning with September 25 and ending with Sunday, or eleven days. In that time a little over six inches of rain fell. These two periods, comprising together twenty-four days, had about one-third the total rainfall of the year so far. A wet year is generally a cool year, and the present year will be held such in popular belief, although the temperature has been more equable than cool. There is still an excess of heat, which may be wiped out or increased before the year is out. Plentiful fall rains however, are welcome to the farmer. Coming before the ground is frozen they sink in deep, fill up the springs and insure an abundance of water during the winter.

Stomachs on Stilts.

The man who puts on stilts does not increase his actual stature by the breadth of a hair. He feels taller while he's on the stilts, and when he's off them he feels shorter than he ever felt. Stimulants are the stilts of the stomach. They make a man feel better for the time being, but he feels a great deal worse for them afterward.

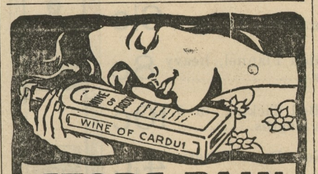

The need of the man whose stomach is "weak" is not stimulation but strength. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery perfectly answers that need. It cures the diseases of the digestive and nutritive system which make the stomach "weak." It enables the digestion and assimilation of food, so that the body receives the nutrition on which depends its strength.

"I took two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for stomach trouble," writes Clarence Carnes, Esq., Taylorstown, Loudoun Co., Va. "It did me so much good that I didn't take any more. I can eat most anything now. I am so well pleased with it I hardly know how to thank you for your kind information. I tried a whole lot of things before I wrote to you. A gentleman told me of your medicine, and how it cured his wife. Thought I would try a bottle of it. Am now glad that I did, for I do not know what I should have done had it not been for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; You lose. Therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

The sluggish liver is made active by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

STOPS PAIN

Athens, Tenn., Jan. 27, 1901.

Ever since the first appearance of my menses they were very irregular and I suffered with great pain in my hips, back, stomach and legs, with terrible bearing down pains in the abdomen. During the past month I have been taking Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught, and I passed the monthly period without pain for the first time in years. NANNIE DAVIS.

What is life worth to a woman suffering like Nannie Davis suffered? Yet there are women in thousands of homes to-day who are bearing those terrible menstrual pains in silence. If you are one of these we want to say that this same will bring you permanent relief. Console yourself with the knowledge that 1,000,000 women have been completely cured by Wine of Cardui. These women suffered from leucorrhoea, irregular menses, headache, backache, and bearing down pains. Wine of Cardui will stop all these aches and pains for you. Purchase a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui to-day and take it in the privacy of your home.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

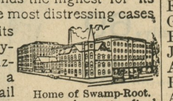

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.
