A GREAT INDUSTRY!

Kent County Farmers Appreciate the Canneries—Local Help Versus City Employes.

Most of the canneries in Kent and vicinity will close on tomatoes this week. It has been a great season and considerable money realized by canner and grower. Numsen's cannery at Chestertown has packed about 11,000 cases having had considerable trouble to get fruit early in the season. This house has employed from 75 to 215 laborers from town and Supt. John Westaway says they were very unsatisfactory. The pay roll amounted per week from $350 to $700.

The Robinson canneries at Chestertown and Still Pond have had a big season and the three houses will pack over 45,000 cases. They began on Keiffer pears Monday. Bohemians have been employed and found to work satisfactory. It is estimated that these three canneries will pay to the farmers of Kent over $32,000 while for labor they will pay out about $20,000 making $55,000 distributed to farmers and laborers.

The cannery at Worton Station closed on Saturday. The Baltimore labor, numbering about 70, returned home the first of the present week. Lynch's cannery closed the first of last week and their labor, about 60, returned home the middle of the week. Worton cannery put up about 16,500 cases and Lynch's about 16,362 cases of tomatoes.

Mr. C. S. Hurlock's cannery at Massey has employed about 50 or 60 peelers and as high as $500 was paid out to labor in one week. The pack will amount to 7,000 cases. Mr. Samuel Hurlock has been efficiently superintending the work here. Local labor has been employed.

Knight's cannery at Lambson's put up 8,500 cases.

The canneries at Black's, Kennedyville and Millington have each packed between fifteen and twenty thousand cases and have paid out thousands of dollars to laborers and to farmers.

Mr. R. Irving Walker, near Chestertown, has packed 4,000 cases of tomatoes and employed but eighteen people, fifteen of whom were Bohemians and three from Chestertown. One mother and her two girls made $97. Mr James Boone was manager of this cannery.

The pack at the Crumpton cannery amounted to 17,000 cases.

Besides the great number of tomatoes sold to Kent canners, scores of farmers sold at the wharf and shipped to city canners.

A well-known gentleman says the farmers of Kent have realized over $125-000 from the tomato crop of 1902, while over $50,000 has been paid for labor.

In reference to large yields Wm. S. Richardson, of Marion Station, Md., writes "I let my son Newman have one acre of what I call the poorest land on my Vanderbilt farm and he planted it in tomatoes, fairly late, and he picked and sold ninteen and one sixth tons, and received checks for $142 42. He picked 9½ tons at two pickings. I think I could have done much better had I planted them on my best land, with proper seasons."

PLANS COMPLETED FOR THE REED MEMORIAL.

Monument to General Philip Reed, Erected on Caulk's Field, to be Unveiled To-day.

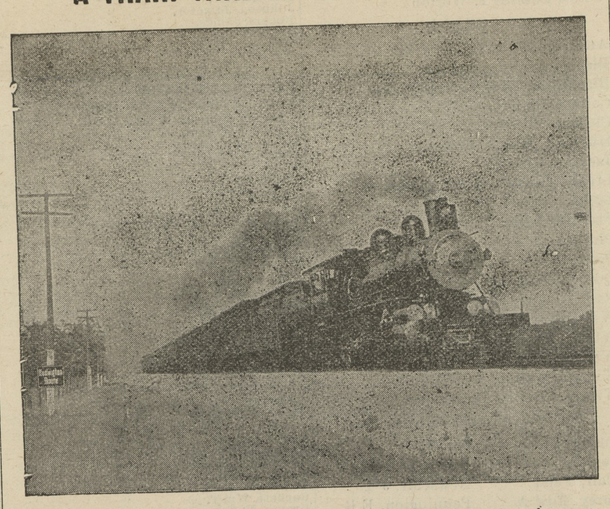

The arrangements for the unveiling of the monument erected on Caulk's Field, near Tolchester, Kent county, to the memory of Gen. Philip Reed, who in 1814, defeated the British forces under Sir Peter Parker, who was killed in the engagement, have all been completed.

The ceremony will take place on Saturday, to-day, at about 1:30 o'clock. A steamer will leave Baltimore for Tolchester at 10:30 o'clock to convey invited guests and others who attend the ceremony, and will leave Tolchester on the return trip at 5 o'clock. The invited guests will be tendered a lunch by Mrs. Thomas Hill, the donor of the plot of ground upon which the monument has been erected. The Rev. Christopher C. Denroche will preside, and will give a brief sketch of the movement for the erection of the monument, and Capt. C. A. Leary a history of the stone. Hon. William M. Marine will be the orator of the occasion. Dr. Albert K. Hadal is also expected to make remarks, and Chestertown choir under Mr. W. W. Chapman's direction will conduct the musical exercises.

The unveiling, with appropriate cerimonial of General Philip Reed's grave monument at Christ Church cemetery in the parish of I. U. will take place on Sunday, October 26th at 3 P. M.

Allen Ayrault Green, a young photographer of the University of Chicago, was called on recently to take a picture for the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad of their fast Chicago-Denver train, "The Burlington's Number One," while in motion. After several unsuccessful trials with the usual apparatus, he made an electric switch, attaching it to the rail so that when the engine struck it the circuit was closed. This switch communicated through a metallic circuit to a set of dry cells, and thence to a shutter-release. The shutter-release was a complicated machine, consisting of a pair of low-resistance coils, acting as electro-magnets on closing the circuit and attracting the armature, it in turn communicating with a series of levers so constructed as to minimize the resistance of the stout spring it was to release. The instant that the engine struck the switch it closed the circuit, and instantly the electricity communicated with the high-speed shutter and the picture was correctly registered on the center of the plate.

Thus the Burlington's train took its own picture while running at full speed, and it may seem odd, yet it is true, that a railroad locomotive has at last joined the great army of amateur photographers.

Worth Its Weight in Gold.

It is a fact, whether confessed or not, that there is more tinsel and glitter and more show and boasting in this world than real merit or true worth. This is true in some cases but not in all. R. S. McCrum, Ohiopyle, Pa., says: "I have sold Victor Remedies under a guarantee and have never had a bottle returned. But every one speaks in the highest terms of them. The Victor Lung Syrup is a Great Remedy, but Victor Liver Syrup is worth its weight in gold. Any of the Victor Remedies will work marvels in restoring health." So every where.
