OCTOBER TERM CIRCUIT COURT.

Chief Judge James A. Pearce was on the bench Monday morning and opened the October term of the Circuit Court. Associate Judges Martin and Brown arrived about noon.

The following court officers were on duty: James T. Dixon, clerk; Willard Melvin, deputy clerk; John D. Urie, State's Attorney; Thomas J. Fletcher, sheriff; Sam'l Startt, deputy sheriff; John Greenwood, crier; George C. Atkinson, bailiff to grand jury; Jervis Spencer and Charles H. Hurlock, bailiffs.

Judge Pearce chose Mr. George Beck as foreman of the grand jury, which was drawn as follows:

Judge Pearce, in his charge to the grand jury, spoke in most forceful terms against the men who have been guilty of selling intoxicating liquors to minors, and impressed the jury with the importance of bringing said men to justice. The language used was most beautiful and caustic.

COAL IN 4 WEEKS!

The Price Not to be Increased Over Fifty Cents, Making It $7.50 Per Ton.

The coal mines were opened Thursday and local dealers expect coal here within a few weeks, The operators have issued a statement that coal shall not be sold at a high figure—50 cents a ton advance is the price named. Where a dealer is found taking advantage of the people's needs the operators say they will sell direct and thus punish him for seeking to obtain an unfair profit.

THE NEW SCHOOL BUILDING.

COMPLETED AND TURNED OVER TO THE COUNTY BOARD.

Formal Transfer Last Thursday—Money for Seats Provided.

The county commissioners on Tuesday last appropriated $2123.63 to be used for the completion and equipment of the new public school building in Chestertown.

This action renders available the whole of the school property located on the corner of Cross and Cannon streets for other school purposes. This property is worth from $4,000 to $6,000 and it is proposed to sell it and apply the proceeds to the improvement and re-building of school houses in other sections of the county. The County Commissioners certainly acted wisely in the matter and deserve the approbation of the taxpayers of the county and especially of all advocates of improved public schools.

The County School Board, Messrs. W. F. Hines, J. T. Pennington and C. C. Brown, held a special meeting on Thursday, when the building committee, consisting of Messrs. W. Eliason, W. B. Usilton, J K. Aldridge, James W. Lambert and M. A. Toulson, formally transferred the new property to the County School Board.

The committee accompanied the board, with Prof. Peterson, the School Examiner, through the new building and every part of the same was carfully looked over. All expressed gratification with its completeness and beauty.

The total cost of the property was as follows: The lot, $5,000; building, including architects' charges and incidentals, $15,834.40; heating, $3,144.92; seating, $994.96; total $24,974.28.

The building is a credit to the county and none in the State have been more economically constructed. The building will be ready for occupancy in about thirty days, with all new furniture.

The School Board have moved their office to the new building and hereafter Examiner Peterson may be found there.

CHURCH TO BE REDEDICATED!

An occasion of more than ordinary interest will be the rededication next Sunday, October 26, of St. James' Methodist Protestant Church, Rev. E. C. Makoskey, pastor, and the presence of the venerable Dr. J. J. Murray, of Pittsburg, who was the first pastor of old Kent circuit 60 years ago, and under whose second pastorate the old church was built. Dr. Murray will preach the morning sermon, and Dr. F. T. Little, president of the Maryland Conference, an ex-pastor, will preach at night. So great have been the architectural changes that the structure is practically a new building, Gothic in style, with tower vestibule, slate roof, new inclined floor, steel ceiling, opalescent glass memorial windows, new octagonal recess pulpit, carpets and chandeliers, making it one of the handsomest churches in the county. The improvements cost nearly $5,000.

A MEMORABLE EVENT!

Caulk's Field Marker Unveiled With Appropriate Ceremonies — Philip Reed's Brave Fight — Eloquent Speeches—Good Music.

Commemorative of a Battle In Kent County in 1814.

Saturday was a memorable day in the history of Kent County. Midway between the vantage points occupied on the night of August 31, 1814, by the opposing forces of the British and the Americans in the strenuous times of 1812, 1814, on the old Caulk estate, now owned by Mrs. Thomas Hill, and adjacent to a county road that runs almost through the center of the old battlefield, a simple granite shaft with a modest inscription was unveiled Saturday afternoon to commemorate the valorous deeds of the gallant Eastern Shoreman, Gen. Philip Reed. On that site where Sir Peter Parker, baronet, commander of the invading forces, lost his life, a hundred or more loyal American citizens assembled and cheered to the echo as Masters Miller and Leary raised the ensigns of both the victor and the vanquished to the staff's head.

The Baltimore party arrived at noon on a special boat. When the Sons and Daughters of the Revolution and of the War of 1812 boarded the Kitty Knight of the Tolchester Steamboat Line, reminiscences of the namesake of the boat, the valiant Kitty Knight, who defied the British after they had burned all the other houses in Georgetown, on the Sassafras River, and only hers remained standing, and dared the invaders to set fire to her domicile, the only possession she had in the world.

On arriving at Tolchester the party was met by a large number of hospitable people of Kent, with teams, who drove them to the old house on the battlefield, about two miles distant, where a bountiful repast was spread. After lunch the party went at once to the site of the monument, where many from the surrounding country had preceded them.

Only a few feet from the county road, draped in large American and British flags, stood the granite shaft, with a flagpole on each side. Leaning against the base of the shaft was an aged sword, the property of Colonel Reed, and resting on the top of the monument was a huge wreath of North Carolina evergreens, the gift of the donor of the plot of ground, Mrs. Hill. To the right of the monument a temporary stand had been erected, on which sat Rev. Christopher T. Denroche, rector of St. Paul's and I. U. parishes, and Columbus A. Leary who have been most active in securing aid for the building of the monument, and the speakers of the day. On the table in front of them was an old musket and the powder horn used in 1814 by General Reed furnished by Mr. Benjamin F. Beck.

After a short invocation had been pronounced and "America" had been right heartily sung, Mr. Denroche paid an eloquent tribute to Colonel Reed as a man and gave a brief account of the work done by the committee which has had the arrangements for the erection of the monument in hand.

Mr. Denroche told how he had come to the rectorate of the parish in 1892 and had at once determined to do something which would aid in securing a marker for the patriot's grave and the battle-ground where he fought so well. He brought the matter to the attention of Capt. Columbus A. Leary, of Kent county, and Col. William M. Marine, of Baltimore. These three in turn organized a memorial association with the following officers: Rev. Mr. Denroche, president; Mr. C. C. Hopper, of Chestertown, vice-president; Mr. William M. Marine, secretary and treasurer; Messrs. William H. Gill, James E. Carr and Thomas Hill, of Baltimore, and Captain Leary, executive committee. The battle marker is the result of part of their work, and the tombstone for I. U. Churchyard, which is to be dedicated Sunday, October 26, the remainder.

Mr. Denroche then introduced our learned and popular citizen, Captain C. A. Leary who made a most elegant and appropriate address which is in hand but was crowded out of this issue. It will be published next week. As he finished Miss Alice L. Crane, of Baltimore, a great-grandniece of the General, and little Miss Katherine Baird Hopper, daughter of Mr. Charles C. Hopper, of Chestertown, a lineal descendant of General Reed, slowly pulled away the Stars and Stripes which enveloped the monument and raised it on the staff, while the crowd sang "The Star-Spangled Banner." Mr. Denroche then stepped in front of the monument and raising his hand, said:

"I, Christopher T. Denroche, the rector of St. Paul's Parish, Kent county, Md., in the name of God and in the presence of this assembly, do solemnly bless and dedicate this for the uses to which we erected it."

Col. Wm. M. Marine was the orator of the day and his address may be found on the second page of this issue.

Music was furnished by a special choir composed of Mrs Thomas Hill, Misses Sophia Beck, Laura Thomas, Hallie Toulson, Mabel Toulson, Addie Hurlock, Mettie Loud, Bertie Burchinal, Sue Lambert, Messrs. W. W. Chapman, Thomas Hill, C. H. Hurlock, Thomas Perkins, Charles B. Lamb, Morris Bramble and Emmit Hitch. The choir was accompanied by a brass quartet composed of Messrs. John Cannon, Foster Cannan, Benjamin Greenwood and Roland Matthews.

Gathered on the Field.

Among those present were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hill, Mr. A. Leo Knott, Miss Alice L. Crane, Miss Florence Crane, Miss Florence Tucker, Mr. Benjamin Hynson, Miss Virginia Hynson, Miss Katherine V. Hopper, Mrs. S. S. Paine and Mr. Charles Stieff, all of Baltimore; Judge James Alfred Pearce, Mrs. Pearce, Richard D Hynson, Miss Mary Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Lewin W. Wickes, William W. Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Skirven, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hubbard, Harrison W. Vickers, Fred G. Usilton, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Nicholson, Dr. T. B. Wilson, wife and daughter, Miss Rose Eiliott, Miss Carrie Vickers and Miss Rose Vickers, all of Kent county, and Mrs. Delia Honey, of Albany, Vt., Mr. and Mrs. James L Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Skirven, Mr. and Mrs. James Bramble, Mr. and Mrs. Englar, Mrs. S. Burgess and daughter, Miss Julia, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. W. Crew, Mr. and Mrs. Wash. G. Skirven, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jones, Mr. and Mrs. James Leary, Rev. Mr. Poole, Dr. H. L. Dodd, W. H. Lambert, Jr., J. H. Greenwood, J. J. Blackiston, Wm. H. Ford, Willard Melvin, B. F. Beck, Elwood Burgess, R. Sterling Jones.

Reed Monument.—The unveiling, with interesting and appropriate ceremonial, of the granite slab over General Philip Reed's grave, in the cemetery of Christ Church I. U. will take place on Sunday the 26th October at 3 P. M. It will be a matter of sincere regret to any of our citizens who do not assist in the tribute of respectful honor to this noble hero of our county. Singing will be led by brass instruments and the organ, and maintained by well-known vocalist, and the whole audience. The unveiling and all connected with it will be an occasion of splendid effort. Let every one make this occurence something worthy of its subject and of the people of Kent county.

Sheep Killed.—Mr. Samuel Cooper has lost 21 fine lambs by dogs during the past month and is justly indignant that so many worthless dogs are kept in his neighborhood. Mr. Fogwell lost several sheep and succeeded in killing two dogs. Mr. G. T. Williams also lost several
