HANESVILLE ITEMS.

Miss Lillian Gale, of Chestertown, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Will Willis.

Mr. John Gale, our live stock dealer, is quite busy this winter.

Miss Jennie Davis returned home from Baltimore last Saturday.

Our shoe maker, Mr. Myers, has been quite ill this winter and is slowly recovering.

We are sorry to hear of the sad death of little Susie Usilton, sister of John Usilton.

Miss Sara N. Hessey, of Washington College, visited her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Hessey, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. J. Merritt Miller, of Tolchester, and Dr. J. H. Myers, of Baltimore have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Parsons, of Hanesville, Md.

Miss Clara Jones, teacher of the public school, spent last Saturday with her mother, Mrs. Sallie Rouse Jones, of Lynch's.

WORTON ITEMS.

As the stormy weather prevented having the missionary anniversary in the Union M. E. Church it will be held the next fair Sunday and a good program has been arranged.

The social and cabinet meeting of the Epworth League meet at the home of Mrs. Frank Clark, Feb 6. Our next social will meet at the home of Mrs. B. F. Rash, March 6.

Miss Hallie Crew who has been visiting friends in Baltimore has returned to her home near here.

Misses Rachel and Alice Wood, of Still Pond, has been visiting their sister, Mrs. Frank Clark.

Mr. Merritt Miller, of Rock Hall, has been visiting his cousin, Mrs. Katie Cooper.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sutton, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lollar near Worton Point.

Miss Elsie Rambo returned home after a pleasant visit to Miss Mary Miller near Worton Point.

Mr. Tom B. Ivens who has been quite sick for the past week is greatly improved.

Mr. Joe Duyer, the new blacksmith, at Coleman's Corner, is visiting friends in Worton.

Many of our young ladies received beautiful valentines last Saturday with Cupid's little arrows through the loving little hearts.

A "novel matrimonial" affair took place at the home, of Mr. B. F. Rash, near here Friday, Feb., 13. Quite a number were present and all spent an enjoyable evening. The quilting frame was one of the features of the evening. Miss Mary Russel and Mr. Harry Jewell having tied the best knot were then united in a matrimonial knot by Mr. Jno. Sutton. The wedding march was beautifully rendered by the accomplished organist, Miss Florence Jewell. Misses Macie Sutton and Maggie Gears acting bride maid's. Messrs. Stanley Matthews and Howard Rason as ushers.

SASSAFRAS NOTES.

Mrs. G. Purnell, of Smyrna, is visiting Mrs. John F. Ernest.

Mr. David Steward, of Smyrna, is the guest of Mr and Mrs. Harry Griffith, near town.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Griffith and two daughters visited Middletown relatives on Saturday.

Protracted services will begin here in the M. P. Church Sunday evening, Feb. 22. All are cordially invited.

Sassafras Council No. 95, Jr. O. U. A. M., initiated two new members Tuesday evening last—Arthur Carroll and Wm. Stradley.

The temperature was down to four degrees this week. The snow storm was one of the worst of the winter here—a real blizzard.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rosin and son, Paul, of near Galena, were the guests for the day on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sylvester.

Mr. Bayard Jones has just returned from a visit to Mr. W. Walbert, Chestertown. For several days last week they visited Baltimore.

The St. Valentine tea party held on Thursday evening at Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sheppard's, under the auspices of the M. E. Church Mite Society, was well attended and a most delightful evening enjoyed by all; $37 was realized.

Prof. Henry H. Hall's entertainment, consisting of "Ten Nights in a Barrom," moving pictures, etc., held Monday evening in the town hall here, was very interesting and greatly enjoyed by those in attendance. Notwithstanding the stormy night, Prof. Hall met with much success.

Mr. James Thornly, of near town, had a very close call on Wednesday last at the creamery here. The shaft of a wagon struck him in the side and he has been in bed for several days. The gentlemen who picked Mr. Thornly up said they thought he was dead. We are pleased to state he is improving.

Wednesday evening, the 13th of February, will ever be remembered here. Rev. J. McLane Brown gave his congregation a great treat on that evening by bringing with him Rev. Frank T. Little, president of the Maryland Annual Conference of the M. P. Church. He delivered one of the most eloquent sermons ever listened to here. The congregation were charmed throughout his whole discourse.

Deserves All the Credit

See a prattling, laughing, healthy baby in a home and you find sunshine there—papa, mamma, grandmother, all are happy. "I take pleasure in recommending Victor Infants Relief, for it helped our baby very much-brought health and then kept her well. When only eleven months old she weighed 25 pounds. Victor Infants Relief alone, I think, has made her so hearty. It is a remedy that deserves much praise and is invaluable to the mother". 25 cents will buy this wonderful Baby Medicine from you Druggist.

f7. H. THEO. JEWELL, CLERK.

THE YOUNG MAN SHOPPER.

A big, broad-shouldered, good-natured young man, whose home is in Vancouver, paid a visit to Portland yesterday morning. As usual on such occasions, says the Portland Oregonian, the family gave him numerous commissions to look after for them, and he made a written memorandum of their various needs. At the last minute, and just before he started for the station, his pretty sister suddenly bethought herself of something else she wanted.

"And Jack," she said, "buy for me half a dozen doilies. I want the plain ones with patterns marked on them for home embroidering."

Jack made the necessary note and hurried away. The moment his sister spoke he had a sense of apprehension, and this grew upon him as he boarded the boat. He was an honest minded youth, who had roughed it all his life, and he was not well informed in either feminine or household affairs. So, as he studied the last entry in his notebook his brow wrinkled.

"Now, what the duce," he asked himself" are doilies? Where does a woman wear 'em? I'm likely to butt into a dry goods shop where there are nothing but girl clerks, an' when I ask for 'em"—

He rubbed the gathering perspiration from his forehead and looked about to see if there were any familiar acquaintance among his fellow passengers. There wasn't. He put the notebook in his pocket and stared with an interest quite unusual for him at the women in his vicinity. But he gained no sort of information from his scrutiny, and when he arrived in Portland he had begun to consider himself a sort of martyr going blindly to his fate.

And when he had finished all his other purchases he went to it. The sight of a man clerk in the big department store raised his spirits, and to him in a confidential whisper Jack told his needs.

"Doilies?" said the clerk. "Turn down the second aisle to your right, third counter on the left."

"Thanks," said Jack, coldly.

He was in for it now, he knew, and he marched on, backing into the second aisle and noting with a kind of desperate indifference that a Titian-haired young woman was presiding at the third counter on the left. He ranged up in front and found his tongue with difficulty.

"Dollies," he said. "Half a dozen. Want 'em to be home embroidered. Patterns on 'em."

"What size?" inquired the girl.

Jack grew cold between the shoulders, but his face was very red and very hot.

"They're—they're for my sister," he answered hoarsely. "She's 18 years old, and—and not quite so tall as you are."

It was a full half-minute before the girl could control her countenance sufficiently to ask with gravity:

"What has that to do with it?"

Jack took a stagger toward the door, mumbling that he would send his sister in to complete the transaction, and once in the open air he looked eagerly about him for the nearest place. He came out of it somewhat refreshed, and leaned against a fire-alarm box while he waited for his car.

"Never again!" he said to himself over and over. "Never again!"

And last night he told his astonished sister that the Portland stores were all out of doilies, but that they would have some new stock in on Monday, when he would be glad to finance a trip for her to the city to make her own purchases.

THE Rev. Irl R. Hicks' Almanac for 1903, a copy of which we have, is certainly a splendid, artistically printed, luminously illustrated book. The storm and weather forecasts of Prof. Hicks, now too well known to need comment, are given fully in this fine book of nearly 200 pages. No family or business should be without it. Send 30c in stamps to WORD AND WORKS PUB. CO., 2201 Locust Street, St. Louis, Mo, with your address, and you will get a copy by return mail.

Positive Proof of Pinkham Cures

The wonderful power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the diseases of womankind is not because it is a stimulant,—not because it is a palliative, but simply because it is the most wonderful tonic and reconstructor ever discovered to act directly upon the whole uterine system, positively CURING disease and restoring health and vigor.

Marvelous cures are reported from all parts of the country by women who have been cured, trained nurses who have witnessed cures, and physicians who have recognized the virtue in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and are fair enough to give credit where it is due.

One of Many Women Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Without Submitting to an Operation, Writes:—

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was a great sufferer for three years, had some of the leading physicians, and they all said nothing but an operation would cure me, but to that I would not submit.

"I picked up a paper and saw your advertisement and made up my mind to try your medicine. I had falling and inflammation of the womb and a flow of whites all the time, pains across small of back, severe headache, did not know what it was to be without a pain or an ache until I used your medicine. After three months' use of it, I felt like a new woman. I still sound the praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—MRS. WM. A. COWAN, 1804 Bainbridge St., Philadelphia, Pa.

A Graduate Nurse, Convinced by Cures, Endorses Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She Writes:—

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Ministering to the sick I have had numerous chances to compare Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with other medicines in cases of diseases of women, and the number of cures recorded where your medicine was used convinced me that it is the safest and surest medicine for a sick woman. Doctors certainly must know the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am convinced that you deserve the splendid record you have made.—Yours very truly, MRS. CATHERINE JACKSON, 769 Beaubien St., Detroit, Mich." (Graduate Nurse and President Detroit Emergency Association.)

Many Physicians Admit that no Medicine Known to the Profession Equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound for the Cure of Woman's Ills, and We are Permitted to Publish the Following:—

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—It gives me great pleasure to state that I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound very efficacious, and have often prescribed it for female difficulties.

"My oldest daughter found it very beneficial for uterine trouble some two years ago, and my youngest daughter is using it for female weakness, and as a tonic, and is slowly but surely gaining strength and health.

"I freely advocate it as a most reliable specific in all disorders which women are subject to, and give it honest endorsement.—Yours very truly, SARAH C. BRIGHAM, M.D., 4 Brigham Park, Fitchburg, Mass."

If physicians dared to be frank and open, hundreds of them would acknowledge that they constantly prescribe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female ills, as they know by experience that it can be relied upon to effect a cure.

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhœa, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for further free advice. No living person has had such a vast and successful experience in treating female ills. She has guided thousands to health. Every suffering woman should ask for and follow her advice.

"A MODERN JONAH."

BY ALEX. D. SHEFFER.

Harry C. Lake, the Rock Hall "shoe make,"
A trip on the ice he surely did take,
And when he got there it looked cold and bare
But he said to himself, "I never did fail,"
"Ah! here comes an ice boat, see that sail."

Poor Harry, of course he could not wait,
So out to the boat he started to skate.
The way that he started made me shake with fear,
And some one shouted "say Peggy, have a beer?"

So Peggy turned 'round to make sure of the sound
And said to himself "ain't I a clown,"
But what could he see? I am sure it was nice
For miles around him was nothing but ice

I begged of poor Peggy to let us turn back,
"Shut up" says he. "I want none of your slack,
If this is any race, I am going to win."
But the ice it had parted and Peggy was in.

So there I stood, but awful pale,
Expecting little Peggy would be swallowed by a whale.
Back to the shore I started to go
To tell Peggy's troubles to "so and so."

The news soon spread and went around,
Which brought the Red Men down from the town.
Sure enough, there was a whale and it was a shame,
The skates he had swallowed had given him pain.

Down on the shore the Red Men all stood
As if they were made of nothing but wood.
At last one little Indian loudly did bawl,
"Please throw us that Red Man back in Rock Hall,"

Now Peggy was glad to get back on the earth
And he told the tribe, this is my second birth.
One old Indian says, "here's a quarter,"
"Run, Sitting Bull, and get some firewater."

And Peggy, he drank, but oh; what a gall,
He swallowed the contents, bottle and all.
The whale was watching, through the ice he could see,
Expecting Peggy would hand the bottle to me.

Poor Peggy went home and two days he stayed,
Nursing a cold, of which he was afraid.
He sent me a note "I am all right" he said,
But it sounded as if it was written in bed.

That Satisfied Smile

is caused by the paint that will wear twice as long, and look twice as well after twice as long and be cheaper first, last and all the time than any other paint.

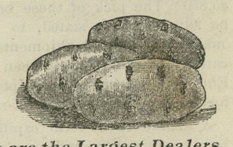

The cost of painting the house and barn, outbuildings and fences, is a heavy burden. Cheap paints soon fade, peel or scale off and white lead and oil costs so much and has to be replaced so often that it is a constant expense to keep the bright, clean appearance so desirable in the cozy cottage-home or the elegant mansion. To meet the needs of the small purse and at the same time give the rich, lasting, protecting effect of a first class paint Carrara Paint and it is the best paint for house, barn or fence; for caused the manufacture of interior or exterior work it has no equal. It is smoother, covers more surface, brightens and preserves colors, is used on wood, iron, tin, brick, stone or tile and never cracks, peels, blisters or chalks; it does not fade; it outlasts the best white lead or any mixed paint and it covers so much more surface to the gallon that it is cheaper in the first cost than most cheap paints. The following are a few of the large users of Carrara Paint: The Waldorf-Astoria, New York City, one of the most magnificent hotels in the world, is painted with the World-famous Carrara Paint. Pennsylvania R. R. Co.; Pullman Palace Car Co.; Chicago Telephone Co.; Central Union Telephone Co.; Field Museum, Chicago; Kenwood Club, Chicago; Cincinnati Southern; C. & E. I. R. R.
