DEATH'S RIPENED SHEAVES.

Mrs. Walter T. Morris' Sad Demise—J. Henry Porter—Peter Campbell.

It is our sad duty this week to chronicle the death of Mrs. Mollie A. Morris, wife of Mr. Walter T. Morris, who passed away Saturday evening at the home of her husband, near town, aged 43 years. For nearly three months the deceased had been sick with inflammation of the pancreas during which time she had the constant attention of her devoted sister, Miss Marion, and other loving members of her house-hold and community, besides the best physicians in the country including Dr. Goodnough, a noted Philadelphia specialist, all of which was in vain. She lingered on the border line all day Saturday and entered into the Haven of Rest at twilight. Truly the words of holy writ "at evening time it shall be light" were realized by her. The deceased was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Lusby, two of Chestertown's most honored and respected citizens, to whom the sympathy of this community go in an interminable degree. She was a GOOD WOMAN with all that this means. Refined in manner and although always modest and unassuming, a subdued under-current of gladness seemed to fill her soul and to flow through all its channels. She moved about among her fellows exerting that quiet influence that shed a mild gently diffused light, bathing everything in its serene loveliness and beauty. She had a love that was greater than any power, sweeter than life and stronger than death and placing her implicit faith in her God went forth never wavering in doing what she conceived to be her duty. Her's was a character pure and noble that chimed in with eternal harmonies and made her the faithful helpmeet for one of Kent's most substantial and beloved citizens to whom that tender and spontaneous sympathy which opens the fountain of tears is extended by a host of friends. Mrs. Morris was best of all a Christian and the flower that in this world withered to the ground, now blossoms by the Fount of God. The funeral services were held Tuesday and were attended by over three hundred persons, it having been one of the longest corteges seen here in many years. Dr. D. L. Greenfield made the opening prayer followed by a short address on "Death" by the new pastor, of St. James, Rev. J. M. Sheridan, then her beloved pastor, Rev. E. C. Makoskey, made a touching address, followed by the reverend Dr. J. L. Mills who spoke feelingly of his personal relation with the deceased. The choir of St. James Church, lead by Mr. C. H. Hurlock, rendered "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "Sometime we'll Understand." The interment took place at Chester Cemetery, Undertaker John N. Dodd in charge. The pall-bearers were Messrs. J. E., Ell and Will Morris, Robert G. and Wm. T. Nicholson and J. W. Skirven.

Mrs. Lizzie Beck, wife of Jas. Beck, died at her home in Piney Neck last Thursday, after a long illness, aged 65. The deceased leaves two children. The funeral took place Sunday, interment at Wesley Chapel, Rev. Mr. Jones officiating.

John Campbell died at his home in Galena after a long illness on Monday, aged about 70. He leaves a number of children all grown.

J. Henry Porter, a well-known farmer of Quaker Neck, died at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. Wm. C. Townsend, on Tuesday, aged 73. He leaves one daughter who will likely inherit the two farms left by him. The funeral took place Thursday interment in Chester Cemetery, Rev. Mr. McCann officiating; Undertaker, John N. Dodd. The bearers were Messrs. C. T. Stratton, J. F. Woodmender, Bartus Trew, Wesley Hadaway, Thos. Toulson, Fred'k Kirsh. The deceased was a brother of the late Wm. Porter and a cousin of George and Joseph, of Worton.

POLITICAL GOSSIP.

The Talbot primaries have been named for June 6th. Part of the ticket is to be named under the crawford system and the balance by committee. The Cecil primaries will be held May 23rd and a heated contest is anticipated.

The opinion of many Kent county Democrats is that the primaries be held immediately after or before harvest and that they be conducted under the district committee plan.

Judge Thomas A. Jacobs has announced his candidacy for Register of Wills on the Republican ticket. Judge Thomas A. Hudson is spoken of as the candidate for Treasurer and Judge Frank H. Harper is being urged for clerk of the court. This would dispose of our honorable court in fine style.

Deputy Register Wm. H. Ford spent several days in Millington the past week looking after his political fences, but upon his return to Chestertown stated "I reckon I'll not be in it."

Register C. S. Hurlock is being favorably considered for a renomination and will give all rivals a hot fight if he consents to enter the race. Other names mentioned by friends in the first district are Messrs. Henry J. Grey, Thomas C. Roe, Jacob Shallcross and Wm. Steel for commissioner; Frank P. Cochran, Dr. E. A. Scott, and Thos. Massey for Senator; C. W. Rolph and R. W. Moffett for sheriff.

L. J. Keyser, of Fairlee, has announced his candidacy for sheriff. His rivals in this section are Messrs. John Duyer and George S. Biddle.

The Republican State ticket is likely to be Lowndes, Williams and Urie with Jackson for U. S. Senator and Mudd as manager. Prof. Fred Wilson says it is more likely to be Williams, Parran and Ching! There is no accounting for taste you know.

In the second district a contest is being waged as to who shall have the endorsement of the district — Garrett Foxwell, Esq., for State Senator or Mr. John Medders for Register of Wills. Messrs. Harry Davis, Edw. W. Hepbron and Horace Brice are favorably spoken of as candidates for county commissioner.

The Westminster Advocate, in its last issue, names what it calls "a winning ticket" for the consideration of the Democracy of the State, viz: For Governor, Hon. Edwin Warfield, of Baltimore city; for Comptroller, Hon. J. W. Hering, of Carroll; for Attorney-General, Hon. Joshua W. Miles, of Somerset, and goes on to say:

"The ticket is composed of competent, able and clean men, and would carry the State by a majority not equaled in recent years. It is a ticket that would inspire the party with confidence that the administration of State affairs would be conservative and careful, yet progressive, and would attract the support of Independents."

The NEWS heartily seconds the Advocate when it says:

"The Advocate commends Warfield, Hering and Miles to the Democracy of the State as a strong, winning ticket. The records of all are above reproach and invulnerable. Such a ticket would inspire confidence and arouse enthusiasm, and when a party has confidence and enthusiasm the battle is more than half won. This ticket would represent Western Maryland, Baltimore city and the Eastern Shore, and the other geographical division, Southern Maryland, could be given one or more of the other State offices.

"The time for the nomination of a State ticket is not far off, and the Democrats should be considering nominees. The ticket we suggest, we feel sure, cannot be excelled, and at the present time we doubt if it can be matched as winning candidates. The demand of the times, more than ever, is for high-class men of ability in public positions."

Announcement.—Mr. and Mrs. Harrison W. Vickers have issued cards for the marriage of their daughter, Corinne Bruce, to Mr. Thomas Ireland Elliott, of Baltimore, June 3rd, 1903, at half after seven o'clock, Chestertown Methodist Episcopal Church. No cards in the county.
